Dear Pryor,
Guess we've gotten used to each other. Have a great summer.
Catherine Walters

I know I'm not a senior girl but thanks anyway for letting me write in your Highlander. We've had some fun this year and will continue to do so at Gott's parties and things of this nature. I know you will be a great example and we'll get together and be examples this summer at Whole or Blue Notes

Pryor-
well- only one more year of waiters and we'll be through. You'll be a big senior stud football player next year so she'll lay off your back. I hope you can hack the exam in here cause we only have one more-
mr. Brown's not that bad.
Good luck next year and have a great summer.
Love, Janie

P.S. I feel sorry for you'll have to play in the summer!

Pryor,
English was such a bummer. Especially with Corr, well at least we got to know each other a little better. Maybe we'll see each other this year - any that's tons good that you got captain.
love ya
Jane

Pryor,
Well its been pretty tough in offseason but we made it and you pulled through great. On voting for captains I misunderstood the directions and thought we were supposed to vote for only one person, but you were the only one I thought had really shown true leadership. Its too bad I didn't make it but I otherwish the best for you next year.

P.S. Seattle or Bust
Yours
Gordon

Pryor,
Sorry I had to miss practice today but I have to go to Mira Mesa, but I'll be back for the last game. Have a great summer.
Love Always
Blair

Pryor,
I must admit that I'd never had another trimester in Miss Neava, but you sure made it bearable.
Have a Great Summer-
Love Always
Blair

Pryor,
Good luck in 13-4A. I'm going to try my hardest on the J.V. after a slow start. Sure I have had a blast getting to know you and your brother. I have had fun playing football with you. I'll for a while and the Varsity have Good see you this summer.

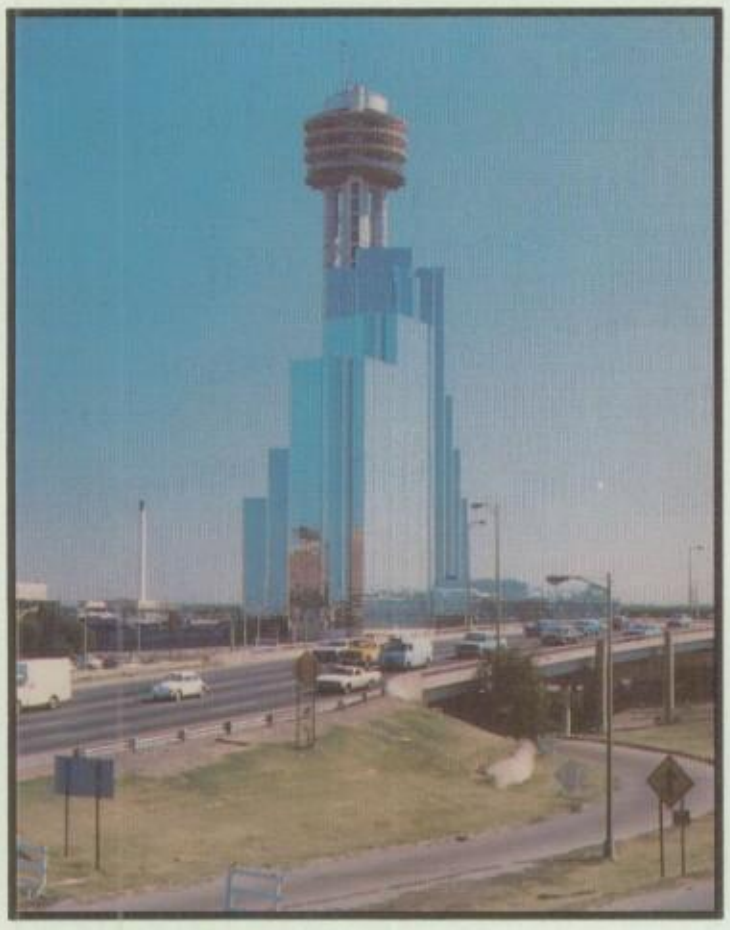
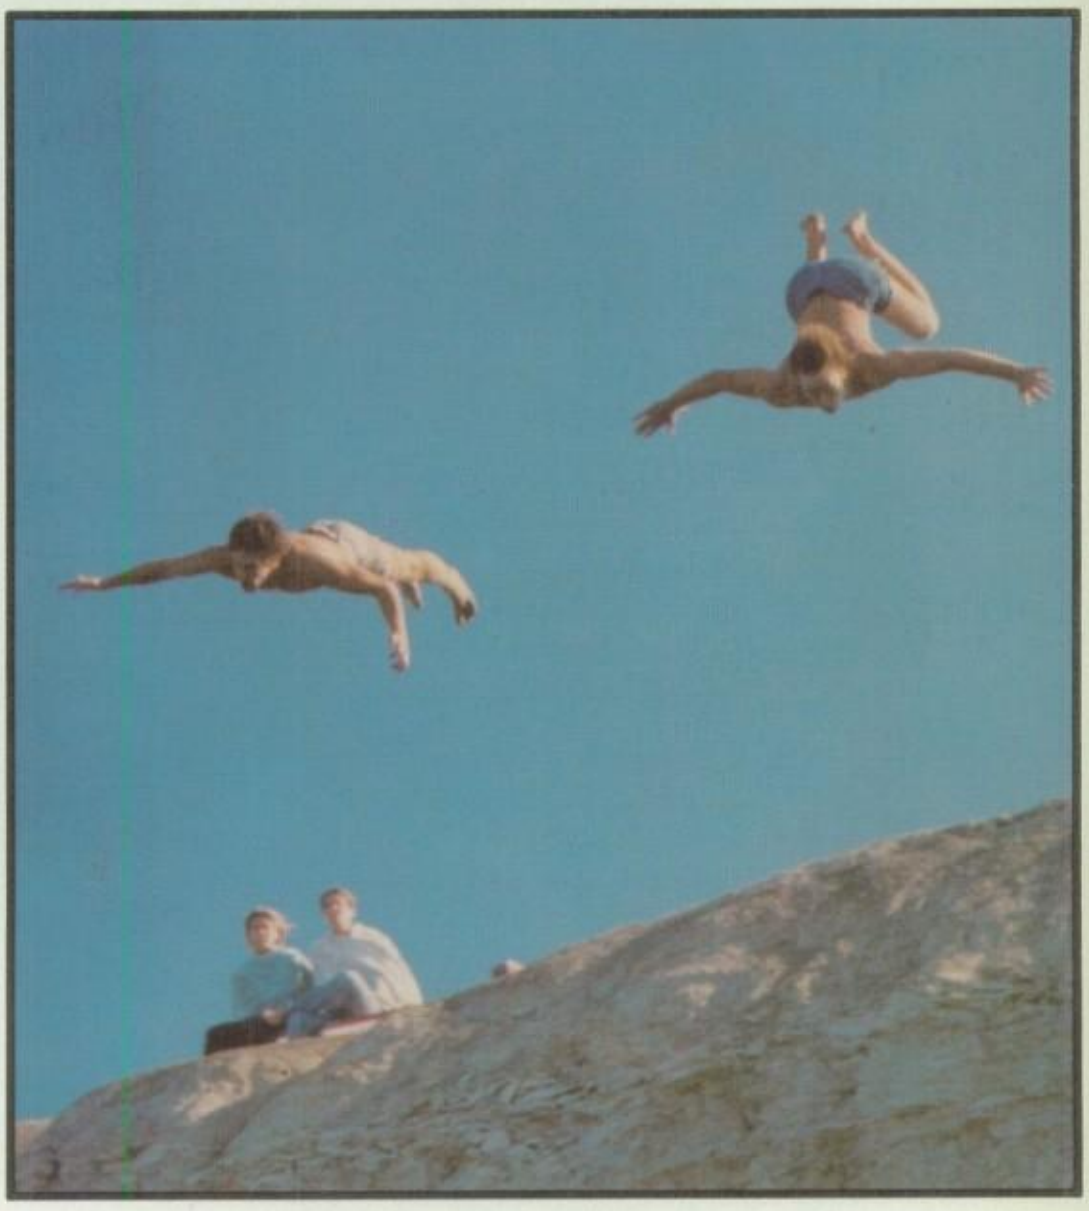
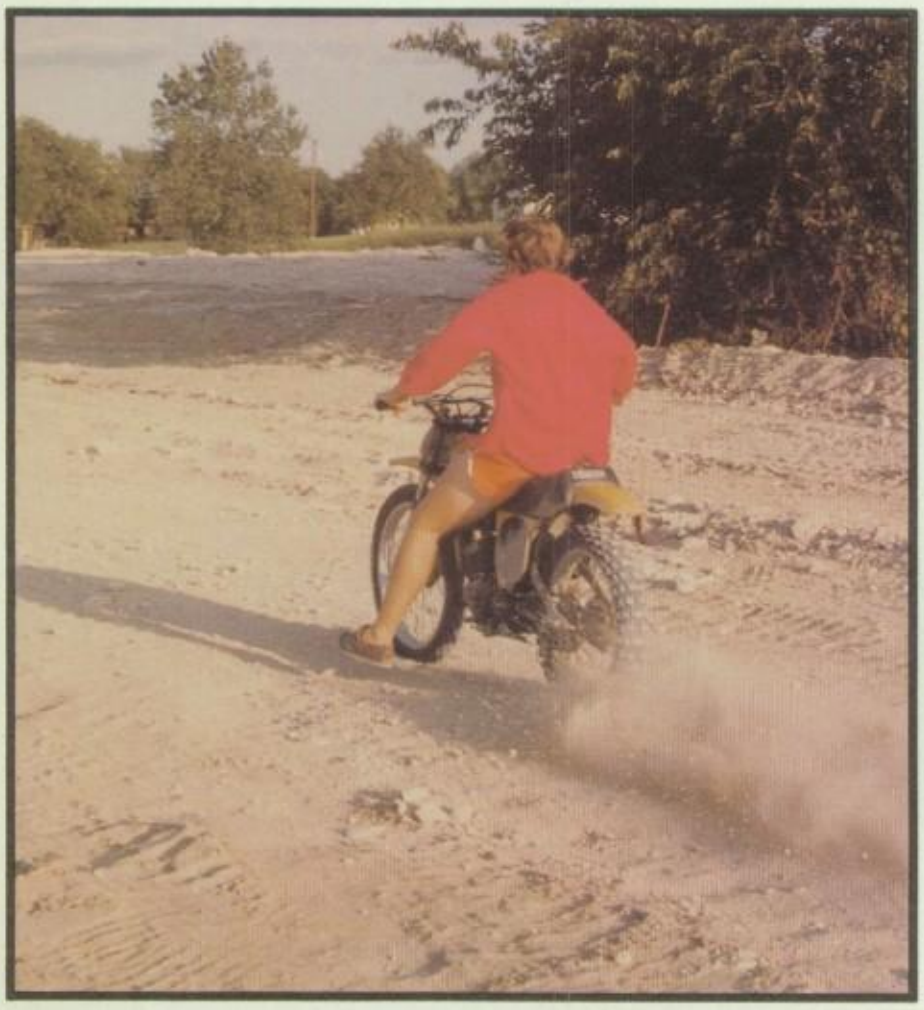
Buoyed Up: Adding the final touches on his ski, Bart Irby labors on his masterpiece in woodshop to finish before cold weather comes.

Off to a flying start

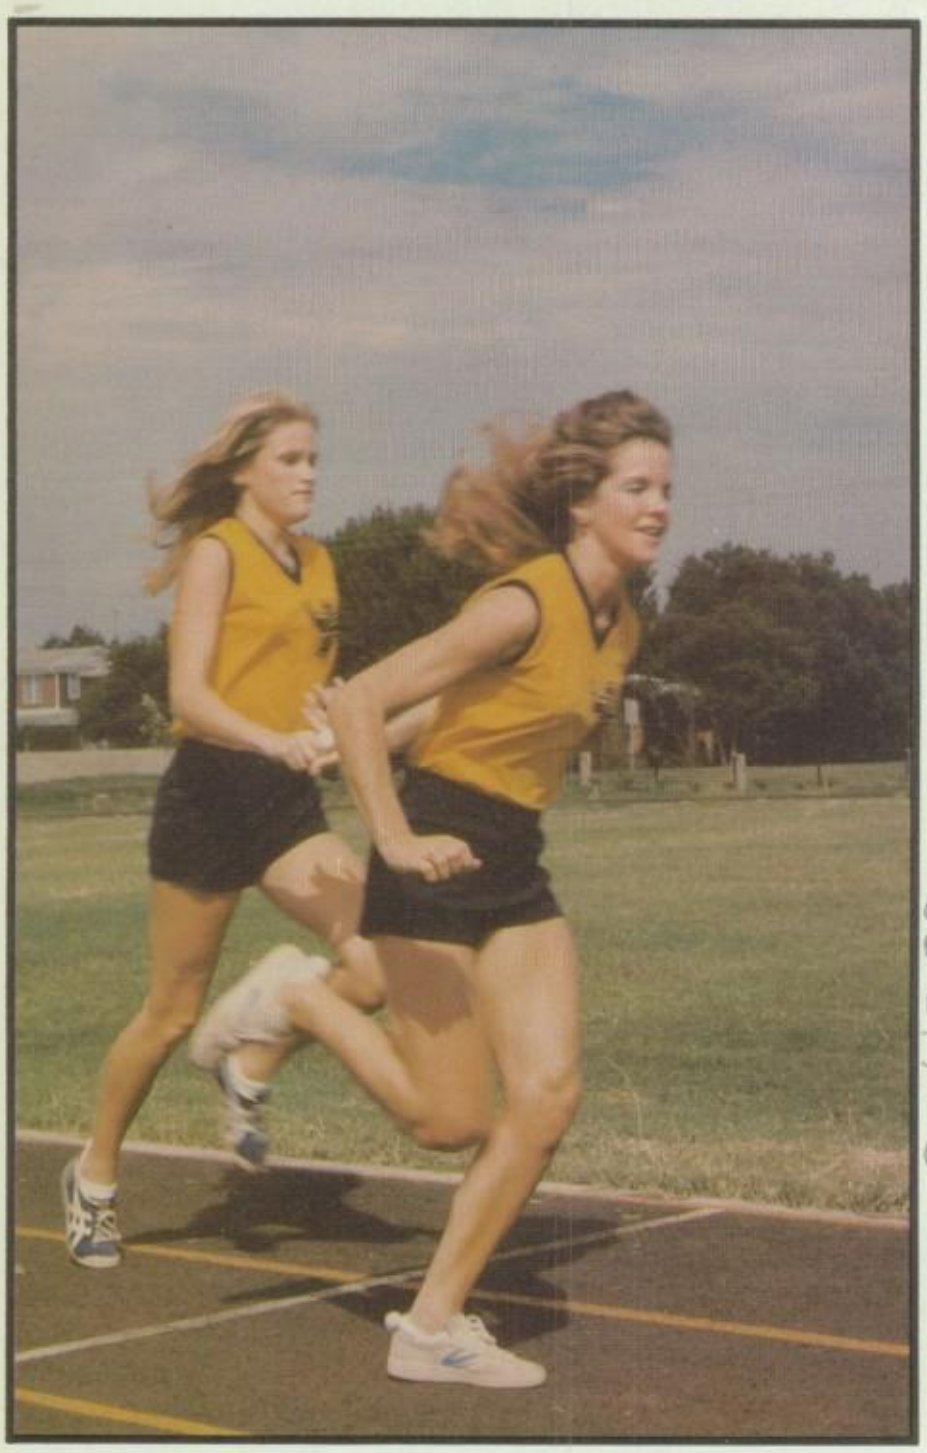




Pitch Out: Thespian mouseketeers Susan Cleaver, Kathryn Kaufman, Shirley Williams, Lisa McElroy, and Hunt Blair make their plea for membership at the first club meeting.
Top of the Town: Multipurpose Reunion Tower adds a bit of modern architecture to the ever-changing Dallas skyline.



. . . Before the dust settled



Wednesday, August 24, 7:30 A.M. — 1,582 students awoke to the inevitable realization that the summer days of leisure were really over. The first days' usual confusion was intensified by the mass construction project in full swing, a result of a bond issue passed in 1976.

Finding a parking place was one thing, but after weaving in and out of ladders, boards, and stray workmen, finding where your classes were meeting that day became a real achievement. We were given a warm reception by a wildly-fluctuating air-conditioning system which cooled off some sections of the building to semi-Arctic conditions while other rooms sweltered in 90-degree temperatures.

Pryor,
Well you have to admit we have had the worst math teachers together- come on Neenes and Watkins. Pryor- I think you are tons nice guy and so funny. I hope I will see you this summer! Have a great summer & a great Sr. year! Love ya, Lisa Daring Young Men: Without a flying trapeze Barry Ward and Russ Walker dive off the cliffs at the rock quarries.

"Say Cheese:" Debbie Wingert, with every hair in place, grins for both photographers during her underclassman shot.
Hand-Off: Laurie Dunlap passes the baton to anchor runner Terry Walker in a practice session on the new track at Park A.

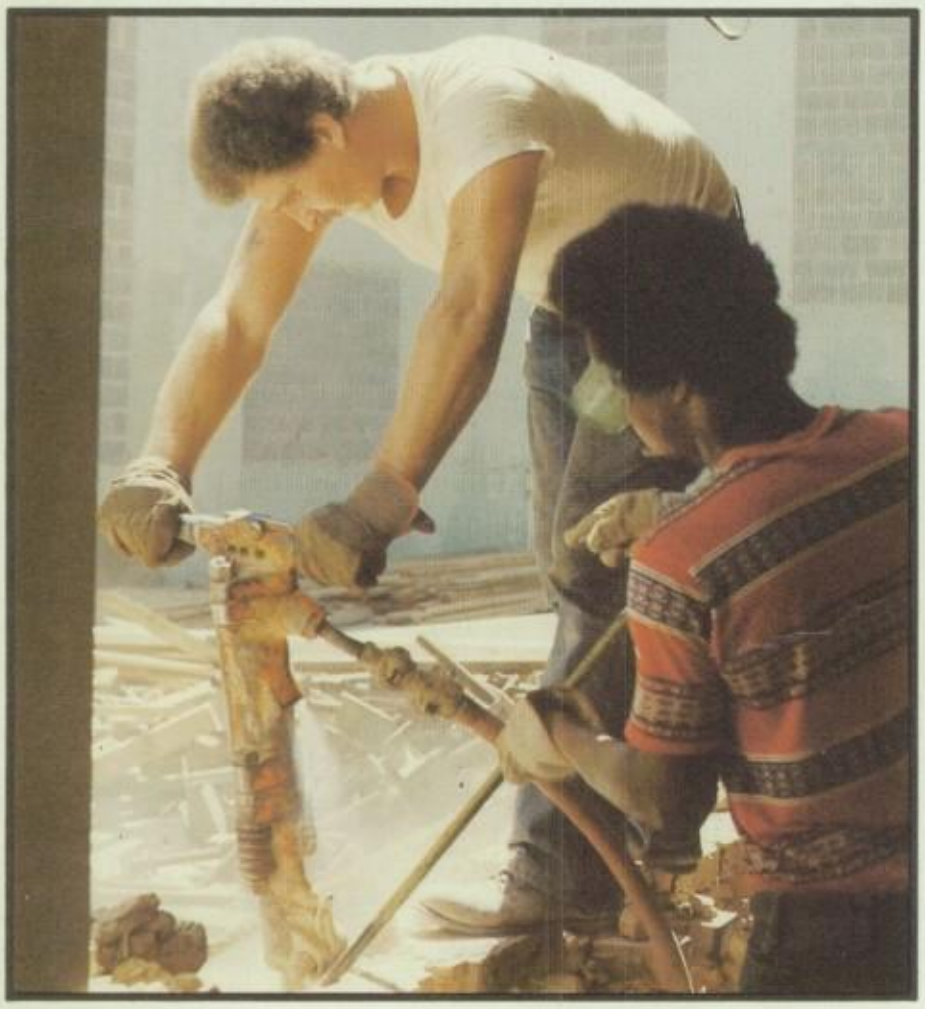
of DRILLING

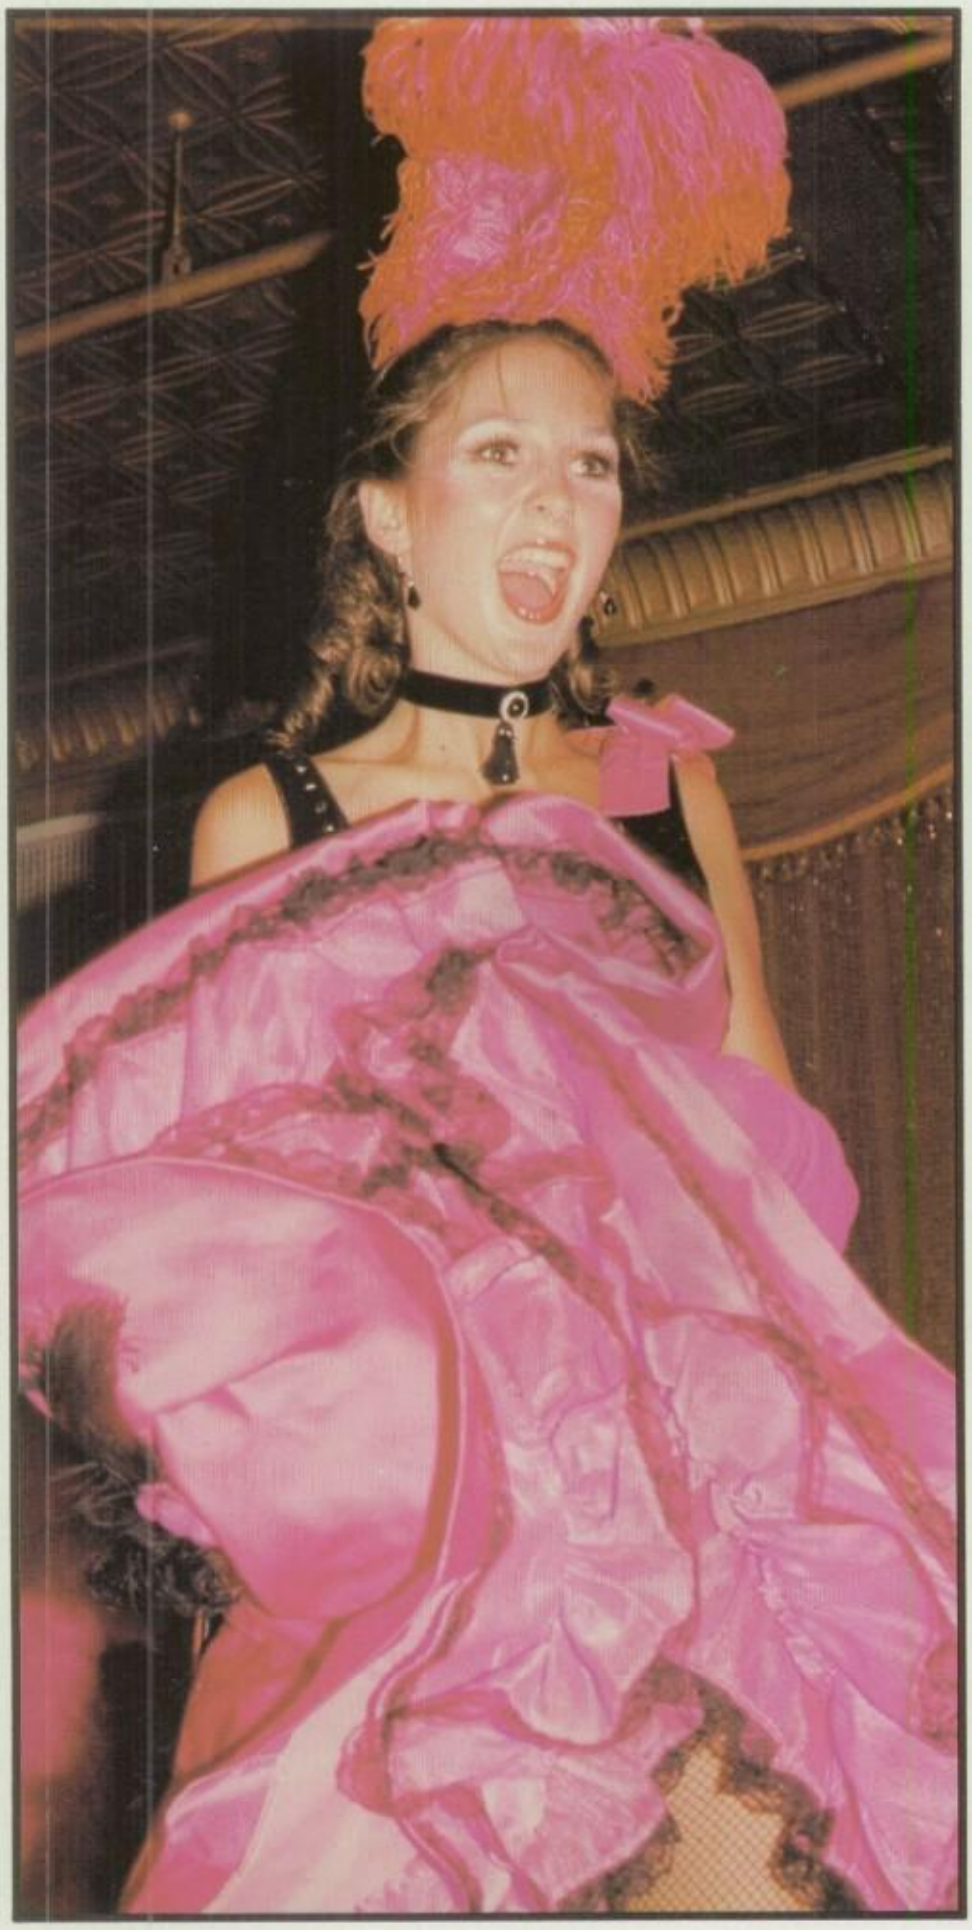


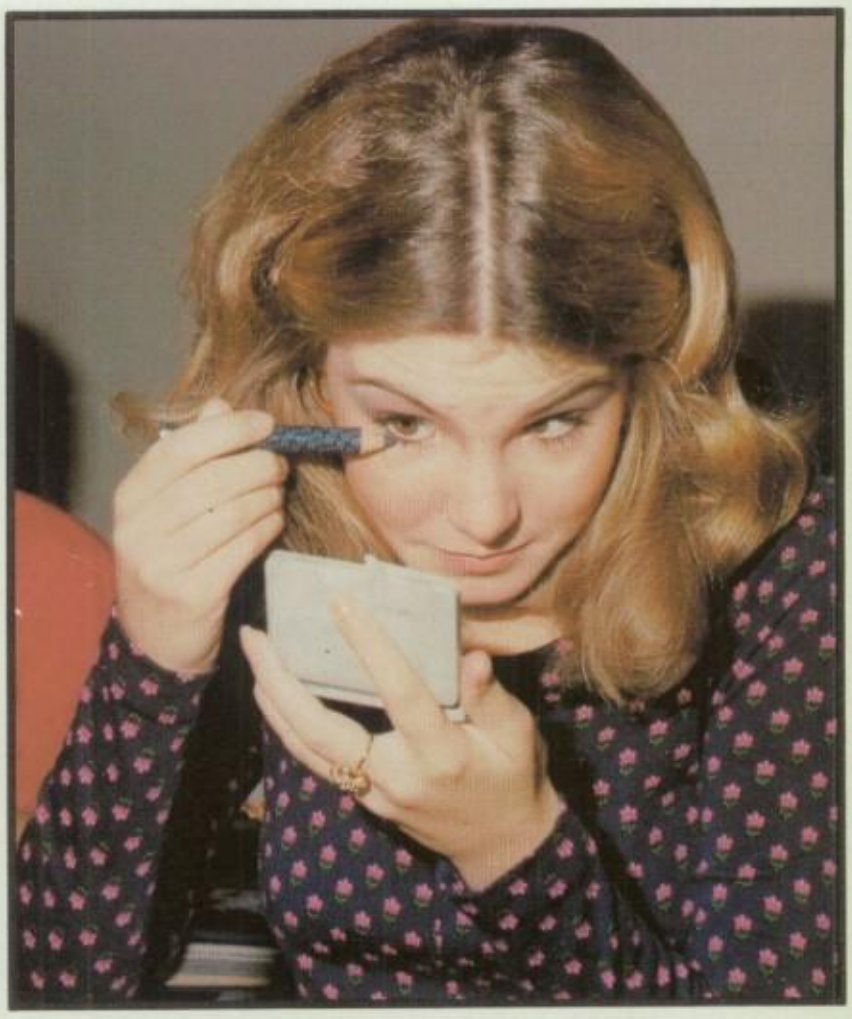
Come Blow Your Horn: Band director Bob Jordan leads his musicians in early morning practice on the field.
Sound Barrier: Workmen and thundering jack hammers become familiar sights and sounds around the school.
"Repitan, Por Favor:" Mrs. Lorna Griffin uses flashcards to aid with vocabulary drills in first level Spanish.
"T, Shift, Space:" Coordination and concentration enable Lisa Bailey and Jack Denman to avoid errors during timing tests.
Opposite Page: Skateboard Fanatic: Decked in gloves, pads and crash-helmet, Karl Christian practices his tricks on a steep incline at a skateboard park.

Deafening power drills set the beat for the other drills around the school. In August two-a-days sweating football players performed the same drills over and over again to prepare for a winning season.

Foreign language classes took advantage of momentary silence to polish up their verbs while band members, decked in grubbies and curlers, took their positions on the field to march through early-morning drills. Typing instructors drilled students on mastery of the keyboard, drama class members rehearsed and memorized scenes, and friends quizzed each other for that test coming up.

PAINTING





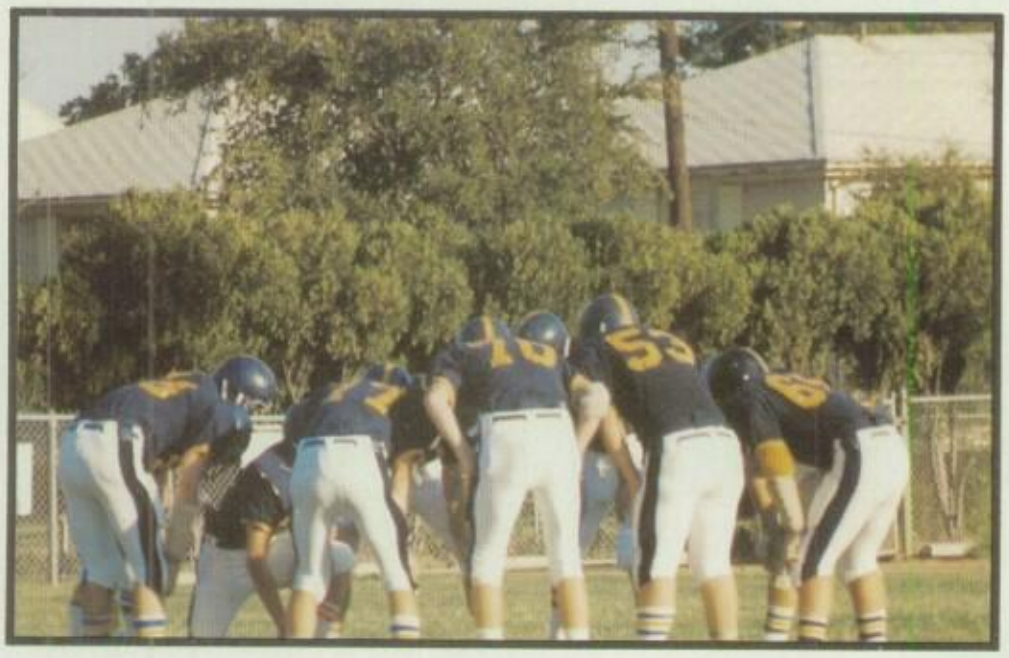
That's a Mouthful: "Saloon-girl" Lisa McElroy sings and dances through the summer as an entertainer at Six Flags.
Paint Job: Leah McGowan rushes to touch up her make-up before the bell.
The Great Pumpkin Strikes: "I just do my job and don't ask any questions" thinks an innocent painter as he color-coordinates the ceiling with the lockers.

the town . . . red?

In a city the size of Dallas students found ample activities to escape the grind of academia. Athletic events headed the list of opportunities to promote school spirit and recover from an exhausting week of school.

To break the monotony of school cafeteria cooking, students flocked to the string of Greenville Avenue restaurants. The staggering variety of temptations ranged from pizza and hamburgers to steak and lobster. Older students plus a few thrill-seeking underclassmen attended several formals in the course of the year. The Junior Symphony Ball and the Junior-Senior Prom were the headliners of these social bashes, followed by other privately-hosted black-tie affairs in the most elegant ballrooms of Dallas. Not everyone hit the high spots of Dallas, but everyone enjoyed his weekend to the fullest.

Kick Off: Tommy Reynolds leads the football team through the line of cheers and stuffed panthers at the first Paschall pep rally.
What Class!: Going in style, freshman Scott Walker and Allyson Wright prefer a chauffeur-driven limousine to "parental guidance."
Second Thoughts: Instead of giving a corsage to their dates, Spence Kendrick and Arvin Combes consider a plant for a change.



Inflation: Balloons are the fitting attire for Allison Stone, Debbie Sharpe, and Jenny Sharpe for the Hi-Lite circus picnic.
Game Plan: Revising their strategy, freshman football players huddle together for instructions before time runs out.

Stir Well and Bake: As the cement turns, a lone workman controls the flow and waits for the mixer to empty.

CEMENTING relationships

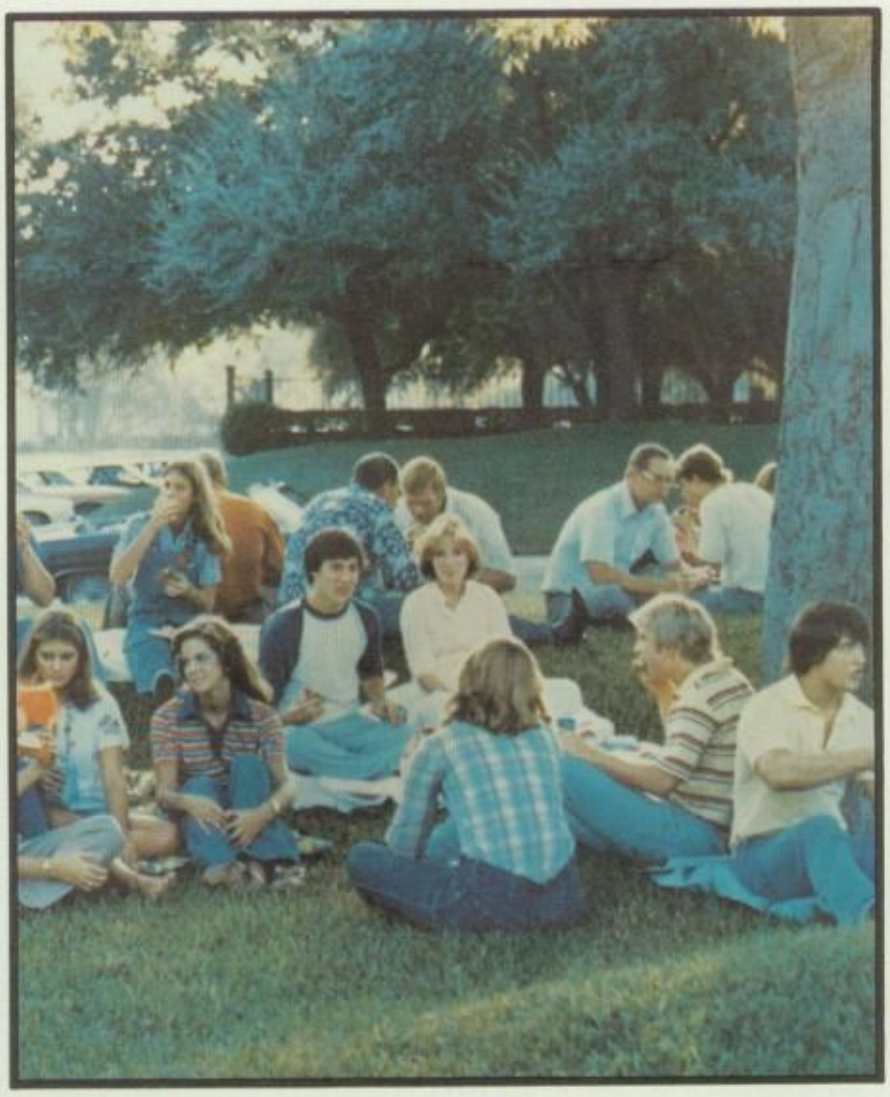
1978 was the year that four choirs, ten sports, three publications, two productions, twenty-odd clubs, one enthusiastic spirit committee, a major student governing body, a versatile faculty, a challenging curriculum, and almost 1,600 individuals converged each day to face the same decisions: whether to go to the assembly or do last minute homework; to butt in front of a friend in the lunch room or patiently go to the end of the line; to face the traffic jams in the halls or go the long way around; to read your English or watch your favorite T.V. show.

There was always plenty to do, places to go, people to see; things you had to do and things you wanted to do. No matter what you were doing, friends were there with you. They made those mandatory things less a burden and the things you would rather do more fun.

Concrete Idea: An anonymous Scot supporter utilizes abundant wet cement to make his mark for posterity.



Masters-of-Ceremony: Tim Ewing and Chris Bell change their image as they strum and sing their introductions for acts in the A.F.S. Talent Show.
Finger-Licking Good: Coaches, players, and their football decorator-girls, gather at Williams park for fried chicken.

STUDENT LIFE

Building up to an undeafeated regional championship, students expressed their pride in the Scots in pep rally skits.

Where the fun never sets

Summer time diversions for Scots included everything from leisurely afternoons in the neighborhood swimming pools to determined work in an Israeli moshav.

Supervising summer pool fun as lifeguards were Pam and Michelle Carter, Judy Claman, and Leslie Whittington. Although lifeguarding was popular, even more Scots opted for the lazy man's life lying around the pool.

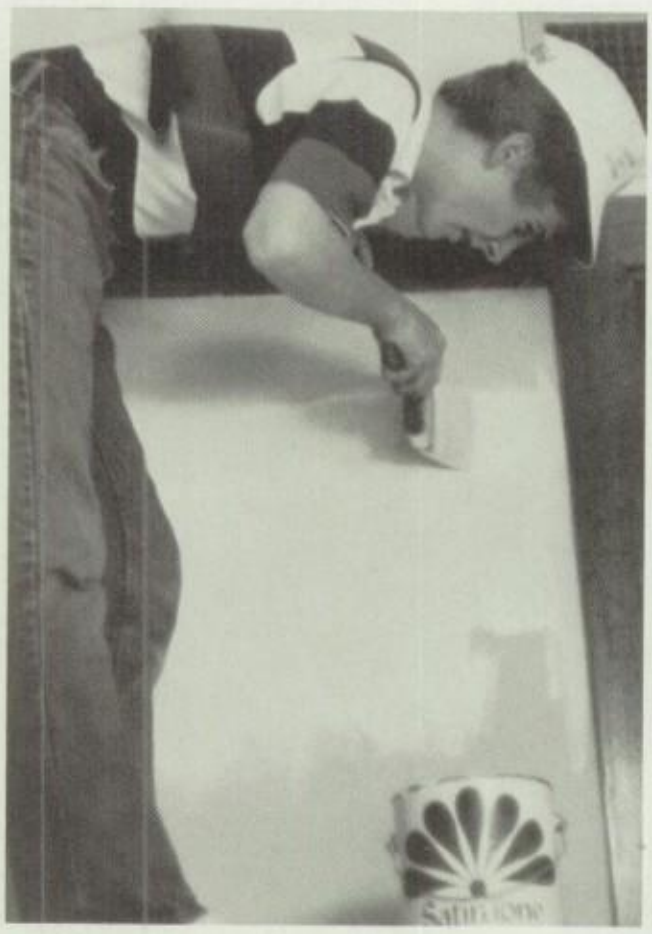
On the other side of the world, Scott Reddick put in four weeks of work on a kibbutz-like collective farm called a "moshav" in Israel.

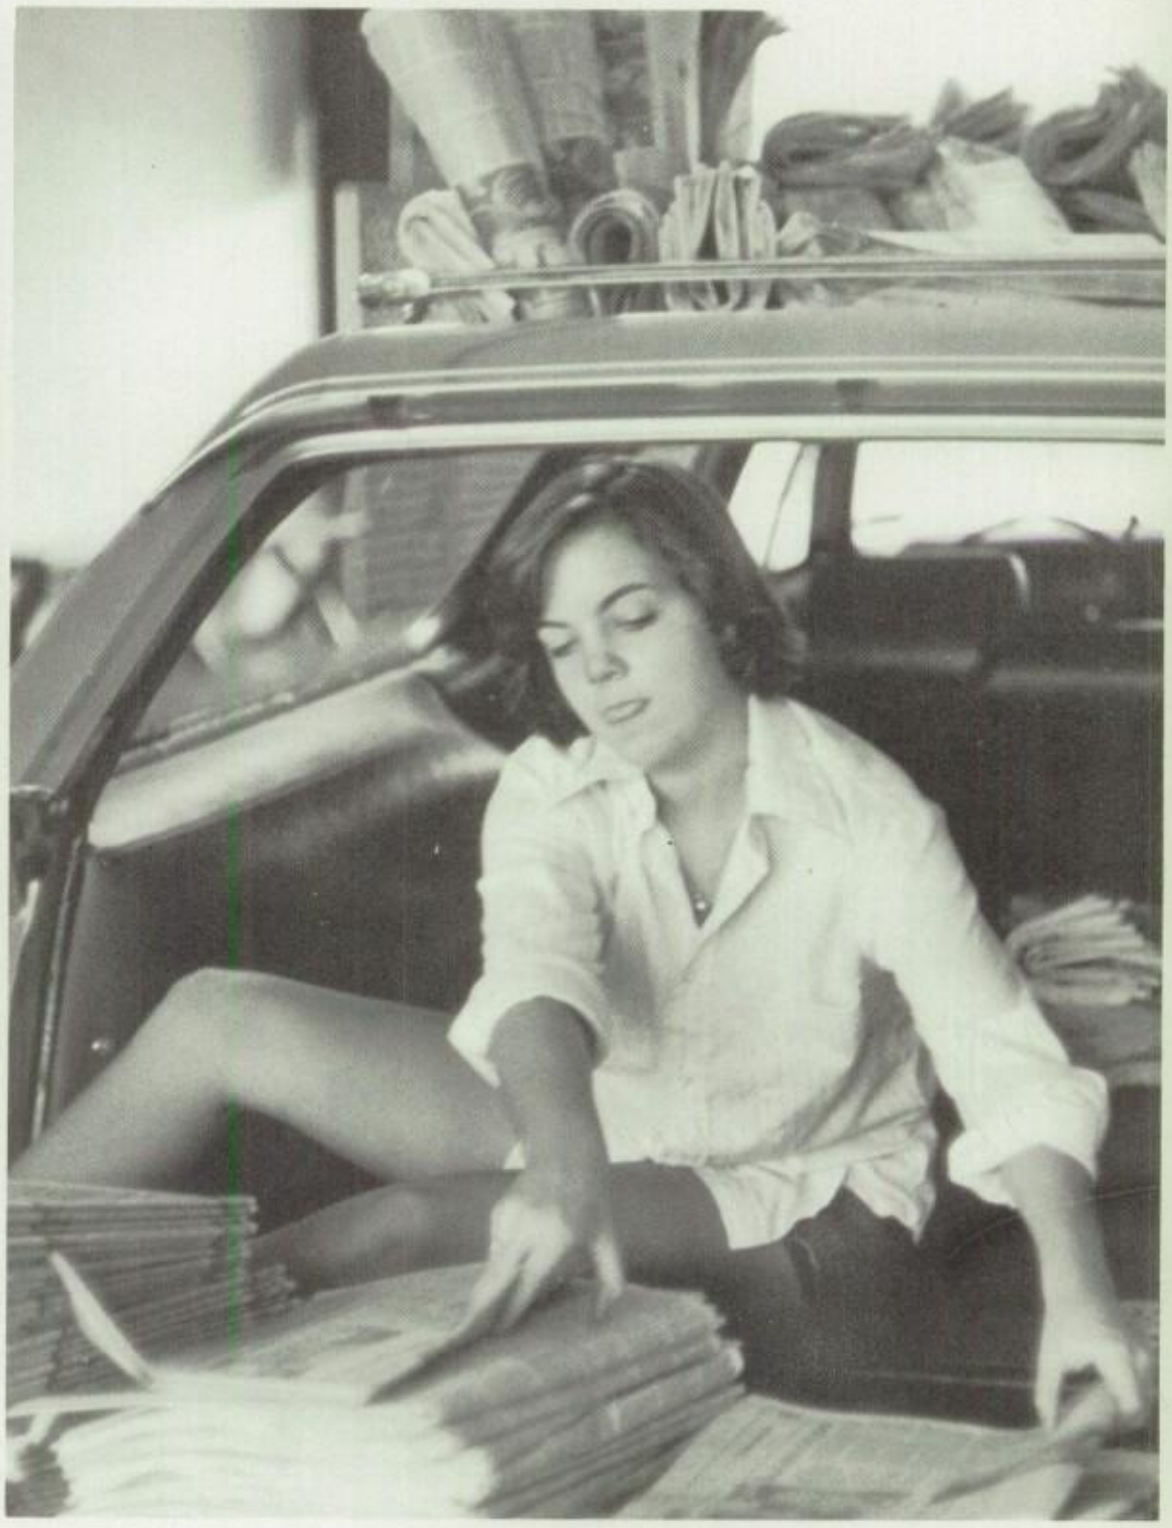
Travel/study programs in Europe were also attractive to summer students. Joey French, Tammie Thompson, Ruth Hooker, Gwen Kakaska, and Chris McClelland joined chemistry teacher Dr. Lawrence Puckett on an A.I.F.S. sponsored trip. These students traveled and studied in London, Paris, Florence, and Rome for five weeks.

In addition to organized trips, many Scots traveled with their families. Jeanie and Tina Smith went to the Virgin Islands while Wynne Snoots and Dale Moore flew to Cancun, the Yucatan Coast of Mexico.

Most popular among vacation spots were the beaches at South Padre and the mountains of Colorado, but some Scots decided to try more economical types of traveling.

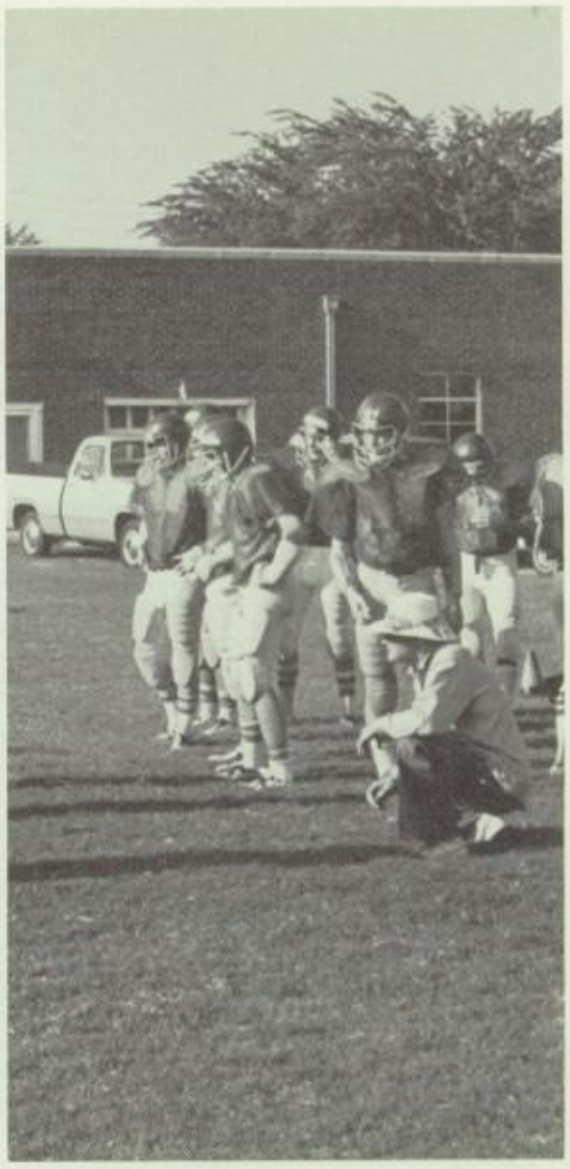
Rob Swann spent three months hiking alone from Georgia to Pennsylvania along the Appalachian Trail. Rob's rough trek covered 925 miles. Chuck McCook bicycled from Illinois to Colorado, accompanied by his brother. The two boys covered 700 miles in ten days of travel.





Do-It-Yourself: Giving the workmen a hand? John Bateman adds his own touch to the new Student Council office during summer vacation.
Paper Chase: Freshman Lane Newsome takes on the summer job of throwing a paper route.

Pom Pom Parade: Varsity cheerleaders give it all they've got in hopes of winning the spirit stick at SMU cheerleading camp.



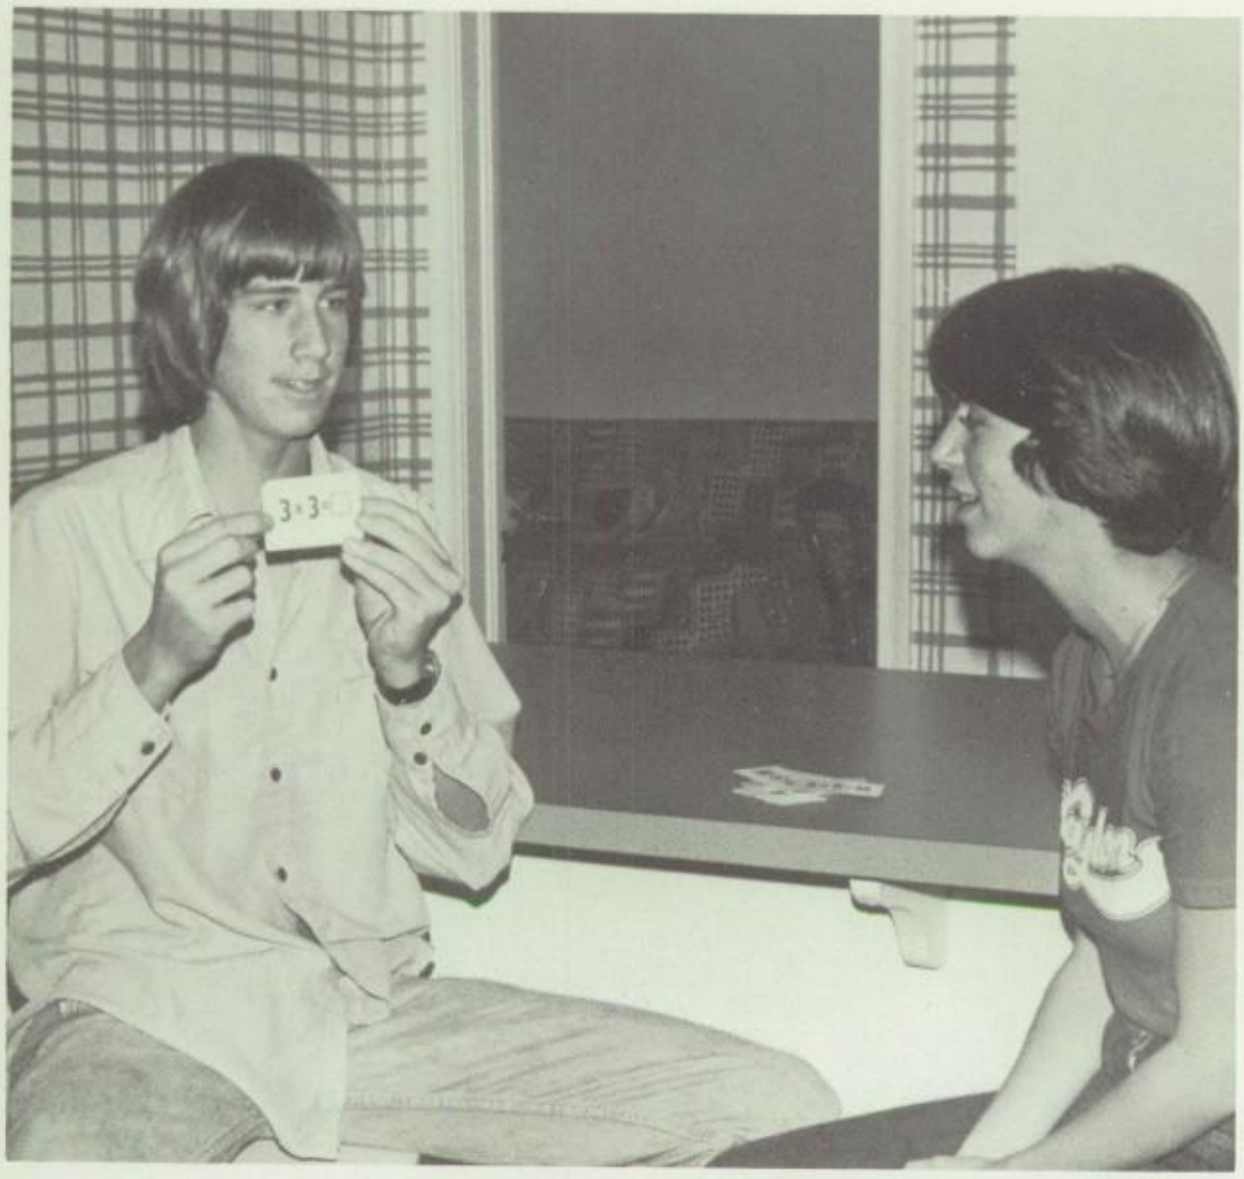
Less Hair, Less Heat: B-team football players sweat it out at training camp.

Parts, Parts, More Parts: Brian Ficke searches through shelves to find the right item for his customers.

Soak Up the Sun: Certified senior lifesaver Judy Claman keeps a watchful eye on swimmers at the Dallas Country Club.

Clowning Around: Marilyn Hardy checks to see if her nose is on straight at the Hi-Lite picnic.

Sink or Swim: Splashing around, Cissy Hudson, Robby Teel, Kim Kelly, and Tommy Gile decide to go down with the ship for a quick refresher from the scorching sun.
Woman's Work: Senior women Kelly Cunningham and Caroline Free spend a Saturday morning washing cars to raise money for the Varsity football team.



"Race to the finish": Alicia Lee makes her move on opponents Barbara Giles, Louis Hexter, Sharon Wright, Mike Sharpe, and Rob Swann in "Go to the Head of the Class."

"Elementary, my dear": Craig Arps and Julie Holloway sharpen their math skills with flash cards.
A is for apple: Brushing up on her vocabulary, Ceil Albrecht strains her brain in the library.

Senior brains gain top rating on merit exam

Ten seniors named National Merit Semifinalists by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation were Ceil Albrecht, Craig Arps, Barbara Giles, Louis Hexter, Julie Holloway, Alicia Lee, Mike Sharpe, Robert Swann, Tina Wiersma, and Sharon Wright.

These ten honorees represented a rate of 25.45 semifinalists per 1,000 students. This was the highest rate for a public high school in the Dallas area.

These National Merit Semifinalists were eligible to become finalists if their Scholastic Aptitude Test scores measured up to expectations. The lure of a wide variety of scholarships offered by the National Merit Scholastic Board encouraged the semifinalists to do their best on the SAT's.

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation also named twelve Highland Park seniors Commendees. These students were Jim Antosh, Kurt Biehl, Anne Therese Butler, Parkes Dibble, Patty Ellisor, Julie Jumper, Jim Martin, Melanie Peskett, Liz Race, Katie Rice, Wayne Thomas, and Lydia Wilson. These National Merit Commendees scored in the top two per cent of all seniors nationwide who took the Qualifying Test for the scholarships.

'Super Scot' spirit buttons pep up pride

School spirit was at an all-time high as the Scots won their first four games in September. Sales of "Super Scot" buttons and bumper stickers helped boost enthusiasm.

The Spirit Committee was the largest in its history with the addition of 40 new members. Girls decorated lockers and the field house, baked delicious cakes, and gave a picnic for Varsity football players.

Students were dismayed to find that, because of the construction, the teacher's parking lot and many parking places near the school could not be used, making the difficult parking situation even worse. The halls, already crowded from the construction, seemed even more jam-packed because of the 94 new students. School enrollment totaled 1,582.

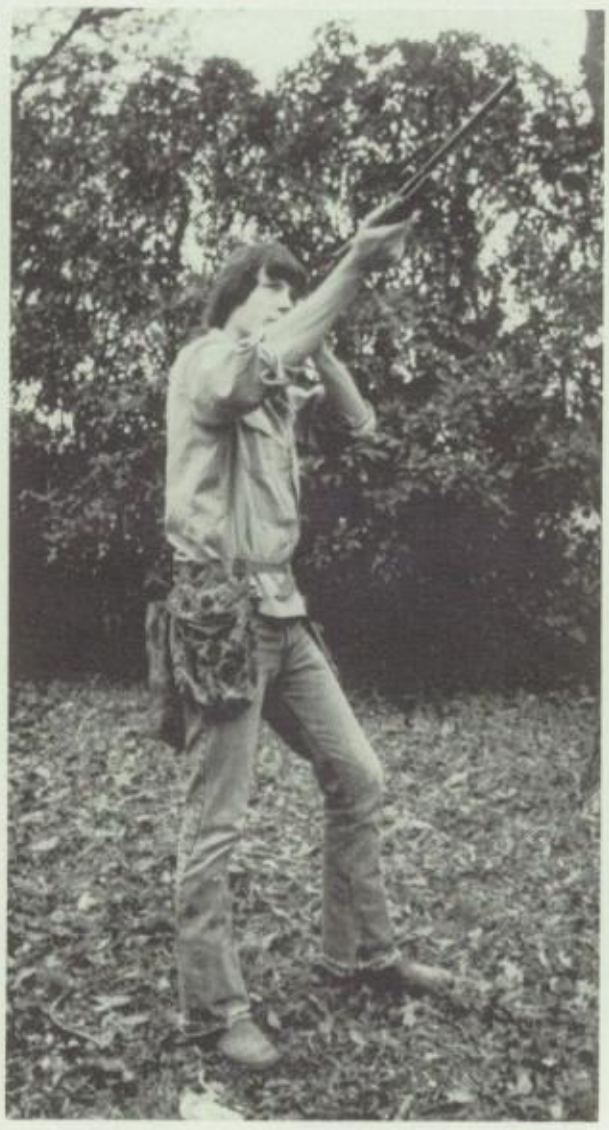
Students had a chance to socialize at the annual "Howdy Dance," sponsored by the Student Council and Hi-Lites September 9. Dick Tracy, Superman and Lil' Abner were the center of attention at Winfrey Point at the Lads and Lassies choir picnic. "Comic Capers" was the theme.

Club organization and election of officers got under way early in September. The first Thespian program opened with a "Mouseketeer" skit performed by the officers. Hi-Lite officers paraded in a style show featuring autumn clothes from a local boutique. Students who attended an American Field Service assembly learned of the lifestyle in Denmark in a program presented by Lucy Smith, a 1976 graduate who spent a year abroad.

Student Council president Louis Hexter announced nominees to the Executive committee. Seniors Betsy Booziotis, Jack Denman, Marilyn Hardy, Stuart Miller, Simone Myers, and Tori Thomas were new members.

Mouth-watering: Lisa McElroy, Tim Ewing, Rusty Perry, and Steve Biggers eye the cake as Marilyn Hardy serves them.
Bench warmers?: Van Williamson, Mark Sargeant, Chris Herndon, and Kell Spikes rest while second-Stringers take over.

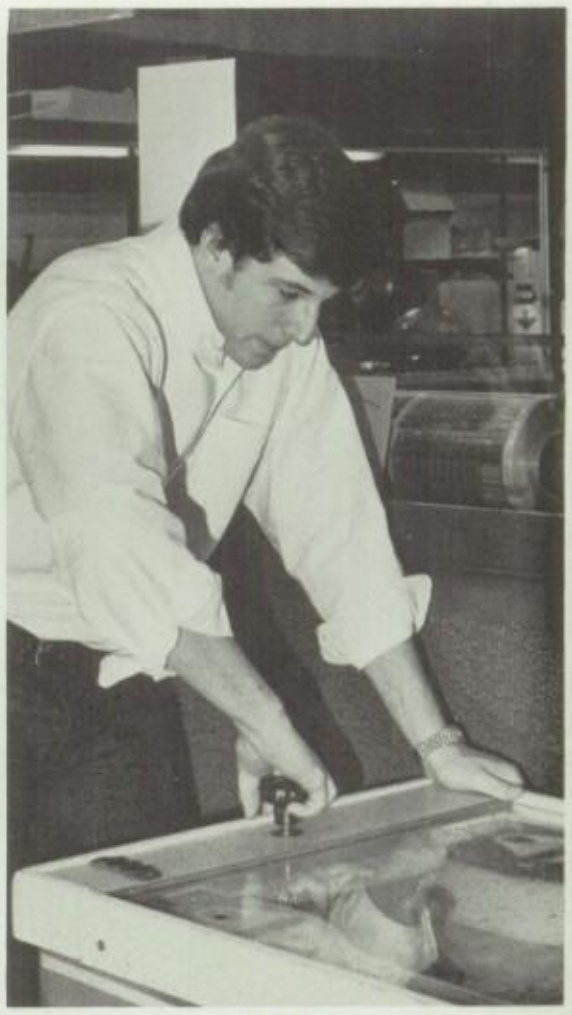
Spirit Circle: Cheerleaders along with students raise the roof at the first pep rally.

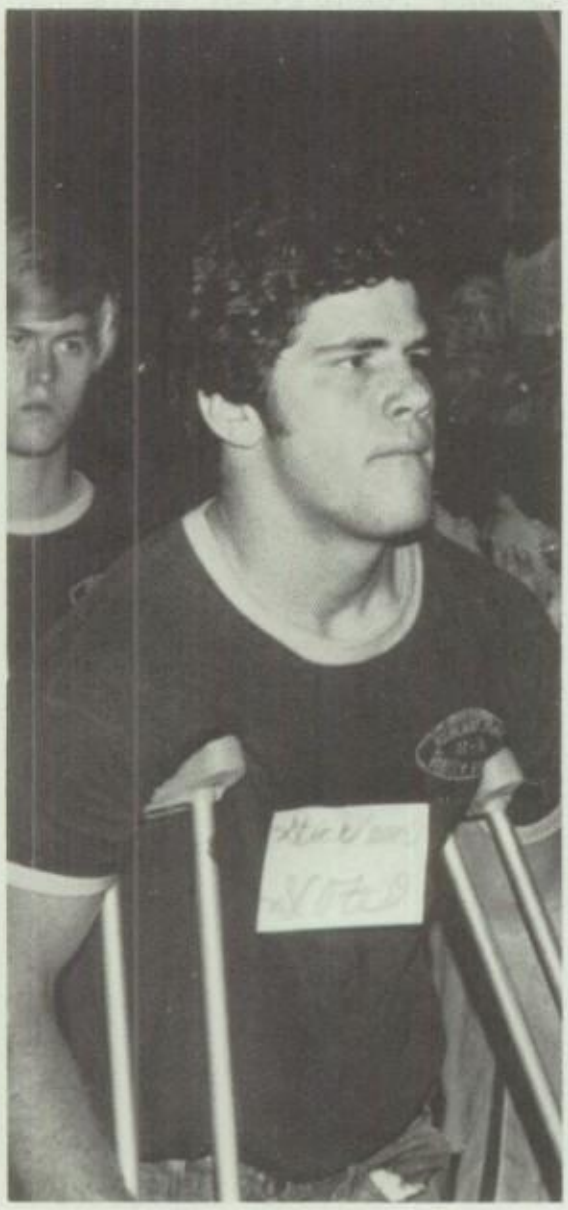


Ready, Aim, Fire: Sharp shooter Kevin Slaughter takes a steady bead on his target.

Cheers: Susan Cleaver, Mike Bagg, Pris Shytles, and Dean Miller, toast the school year at the L and L picnic.

"O woe is me": Julie Worthen demands a divorce in a scene performed at Hi-Lites.





Manhandlers: Pam Carter and Lisa Mills treat football players Noel Hamilton and Buck Cowan to a spaghetti dinner before the game.
Stick 'em Scots: Footballers Pryor Blackwell and John Allums come through the victory line.

Punch Line: Kelly Cunningham serves punch to Leslie List and Melissa Stuart at the Hi-Lites Tea.

"Tilt": Pin Ball Wizard John Field concentrates on his game with enthusiasm.

Fair holiday, long weekend relieve strain

October's harvest brought in a bumper crop of activity. Early in the month students enjoyed a day of vacation to attend the State Fair.

The PTA and Dads' Club collaborated to host College Night, at which numerous college representatives were available to answer questions about admission requirements and campus life.

Acting on students' suggestions, the Student Council and the PTA installed a frozen yogurt machine in the cafeteria. The Student Council was also responsible for the Homecoming dance with its theme "Souvenirs." Music was provided by the rock group "Gunpoint," and Jill Wilson was crowned Homecoming Queen.

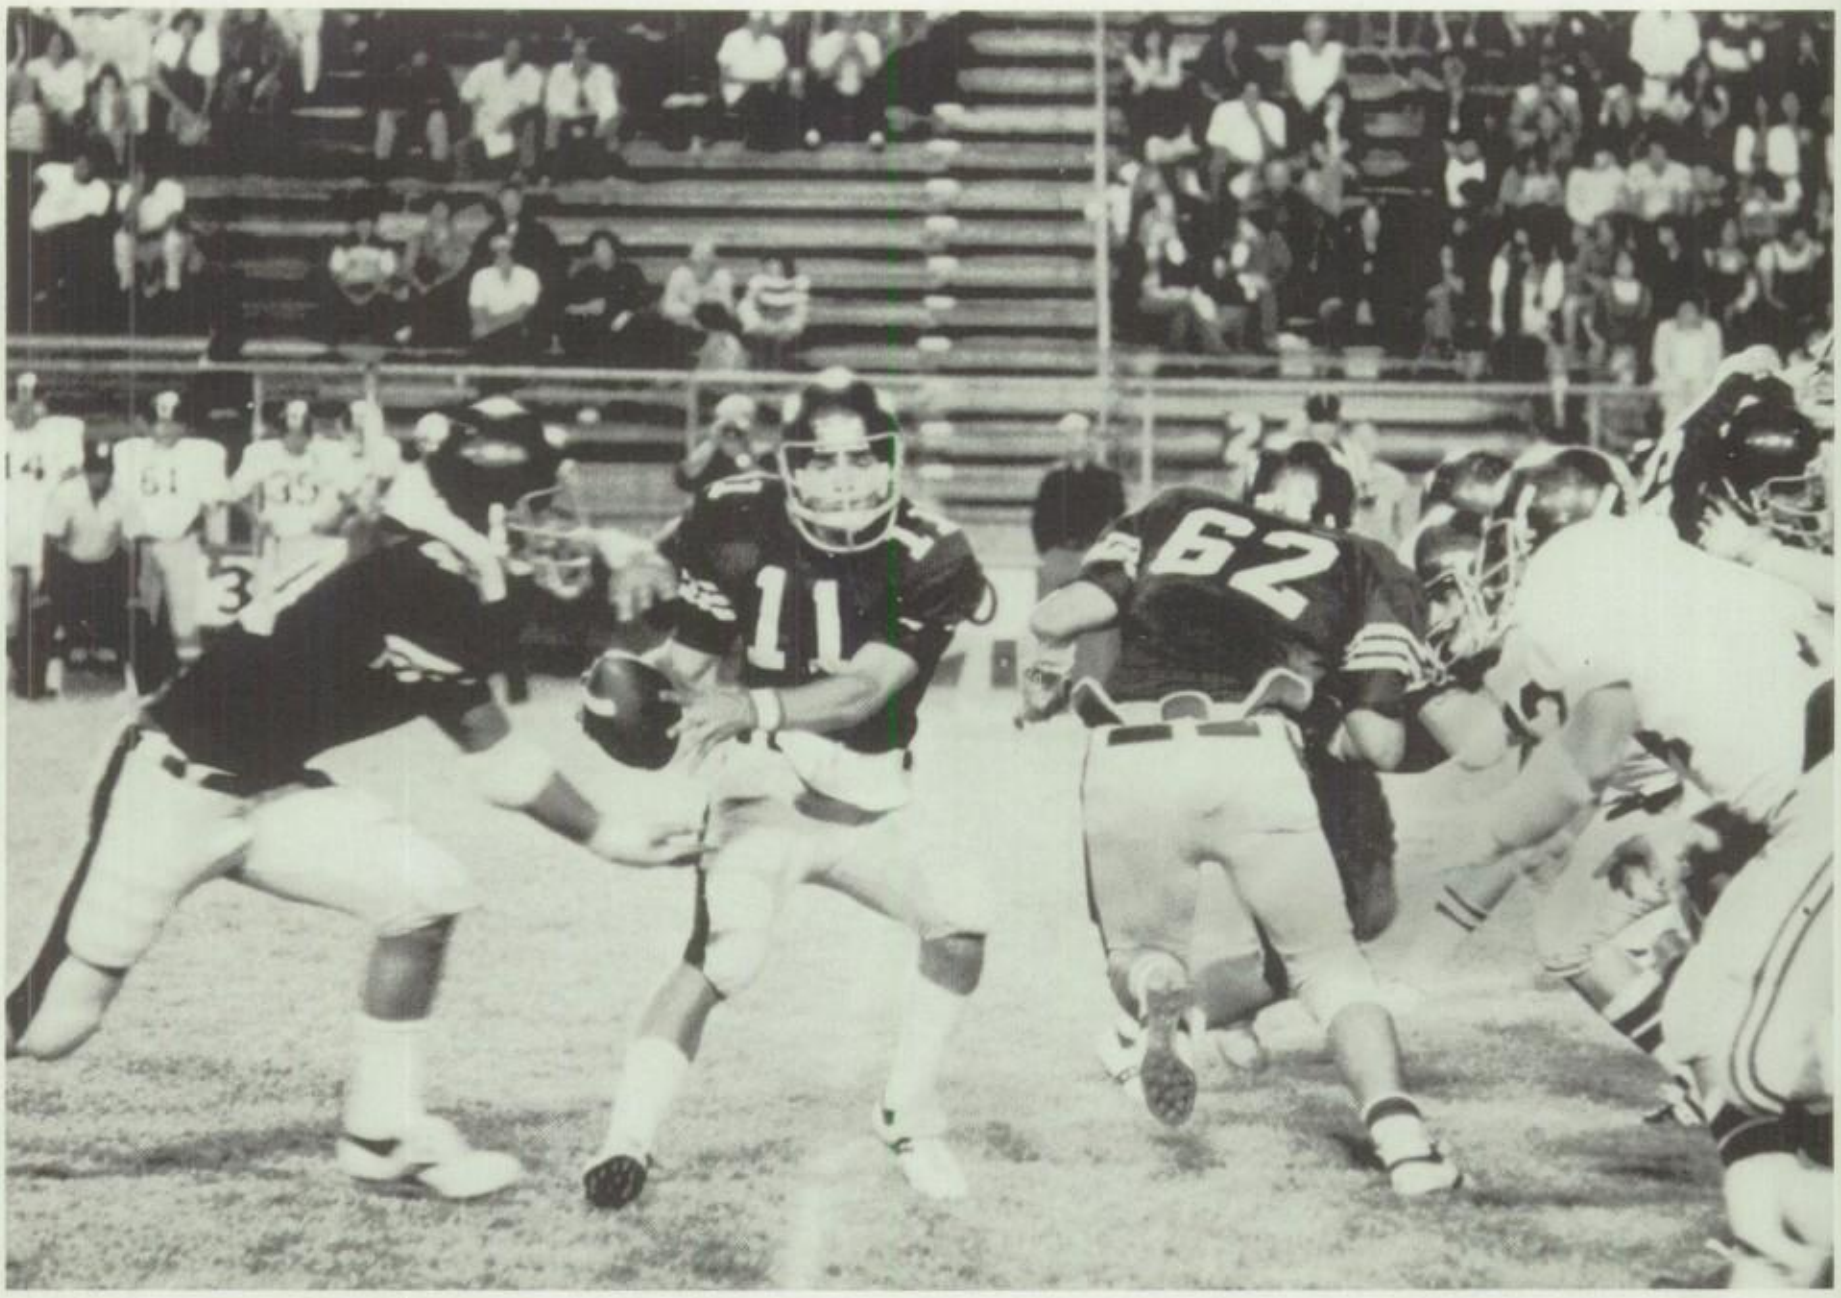
Hi-Lite officers and their mothers organized the annual Hi-Lite tea at Laura Elliot's home. At the Key Club breakfast, Mr. William Seay, president of Southwestern Life Insurance, spoke to club presidents and publication officers.

As a result of their high scores on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test, ten students became National Merit Semifinalists and twelve seniors were awarded National Merit letters of commendation. Seniors Rob Swann and Hunt Blair received recognition as winners of the annual writing contest sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English.

Eleven new members were installed in the National Honor Society at their fall initiation.

The cast of the senior play, Cheaper by the Dozen, began rehearsals at the end of October for the November presentation of the production.

Let it rain: An umbrella protects Jeff Bailey as rain pours through the open roof of the construction area.



Oh brother: Lance and Lott McIlhenny work the ball together for the first down while Doug Grage blocks the Skeeter defense.

Football win, coronation bring Homecoming thrill for jocks, Jill

Kicking off for a memorable Homecoming the Scots beat the Mesquite Skeeters 35-14, making the season record 6-0 for the Scots.

At halftime the announcer presented to the fans the six Homecoming Queen nominees: Caroline Free, Ann Marlow, Jennifer Phillips, Terry Walker, Lisa Mills, and Jill Wilson. John Field, Danny Simone, John Tucker, Barry Ward, Wynne Snoots, and Chris Bell drove the nominees around the field in convertibles.

After the game all the couples went to the girls' gym and danced to the music of "Gunpoint." The "Souvenirs" theme of the dance added a note of sentiment for the seniors. Charlotte Moore and Ken Murchison headed the Social Committee that decorated the gym with bright colored balloons and a poster-sized picture of each nominee. Parents and teachers served refreshments and chaperoned the dance. Caroline Free was escorted by John Turner, Terry Walker by Russ Walker, Lisa Mills by Buck Cowan, Ann Marlow by Rusty Rice, Jennifer Phillips by Bobby Carter, and Jill Wilson by Van Williamson. Student Council President Louis Hexter presented roses and a kiss to Jill Wilson as he crowned her Homecoming Queen for 1977 to conclude the annual ceremony.

Half-time stars: Mr. Bob Jordan leads the Highlander band onto the field to perform for an appreciative audience.

Queen and her court: Van Williamson hugs elated Jill Wilson as the nominees and their dates surround her.

"Like father, like . . .": Terry Walker, Lisa Mills, Ann Marlow, Caroline Free, and Jennifer Phillips stand with their proud fathers while being introduced to the crowd.

Playoffs bring football craze to fans of HP

Riding high on school spirit, Scot supporters turned out en masse to cheer the football team to victory against Garland in a sell-out game. With great possibilities in the playoffs, the Scots proceeded to beat R. L. Turner and Roosevelt before enthusiastic fans at Texas Stadium.

In the field of theme competition, seniors Rob Swann and Hunt Blair earned finalist honors from the National Council of Teachers of English. These boys were among the approximately 850 finalists out of more than 7,000 entries.

The Highlander band achieved a first division rating in UIL competition. At the annual Salado festival, members of the bagpipe section received awards and medals in pipe and dance competition.

In a close vote, the junior class elected officers. Leaders for the 1979 class were Rob Addington, president; Carol McGregor, vice president; Brenda Francis, secretary; and Mary Bullington, treasurer.

In the senior class play, Cheaper by the Dozen, directed by Mrs. Linda Raya, leading roles were played by Chris Bell, Jean Beck, Charlotte Moore, and Shirley Williams. Other talented seniors rounded out the rest of the cast and crews.

Providing a welcome distraction from homework and school routine, Hi-Lites gave a costume dance with the safari theme, "Jungle Love." The couples, dressed as lions, gorillas, and great white hunters, danced to the music of "Liquid Blue" and roared appropriately as club president Cathy Bass announced the club's choice for king of the Jungle by crowning Leo Didway Hi-Lite King.

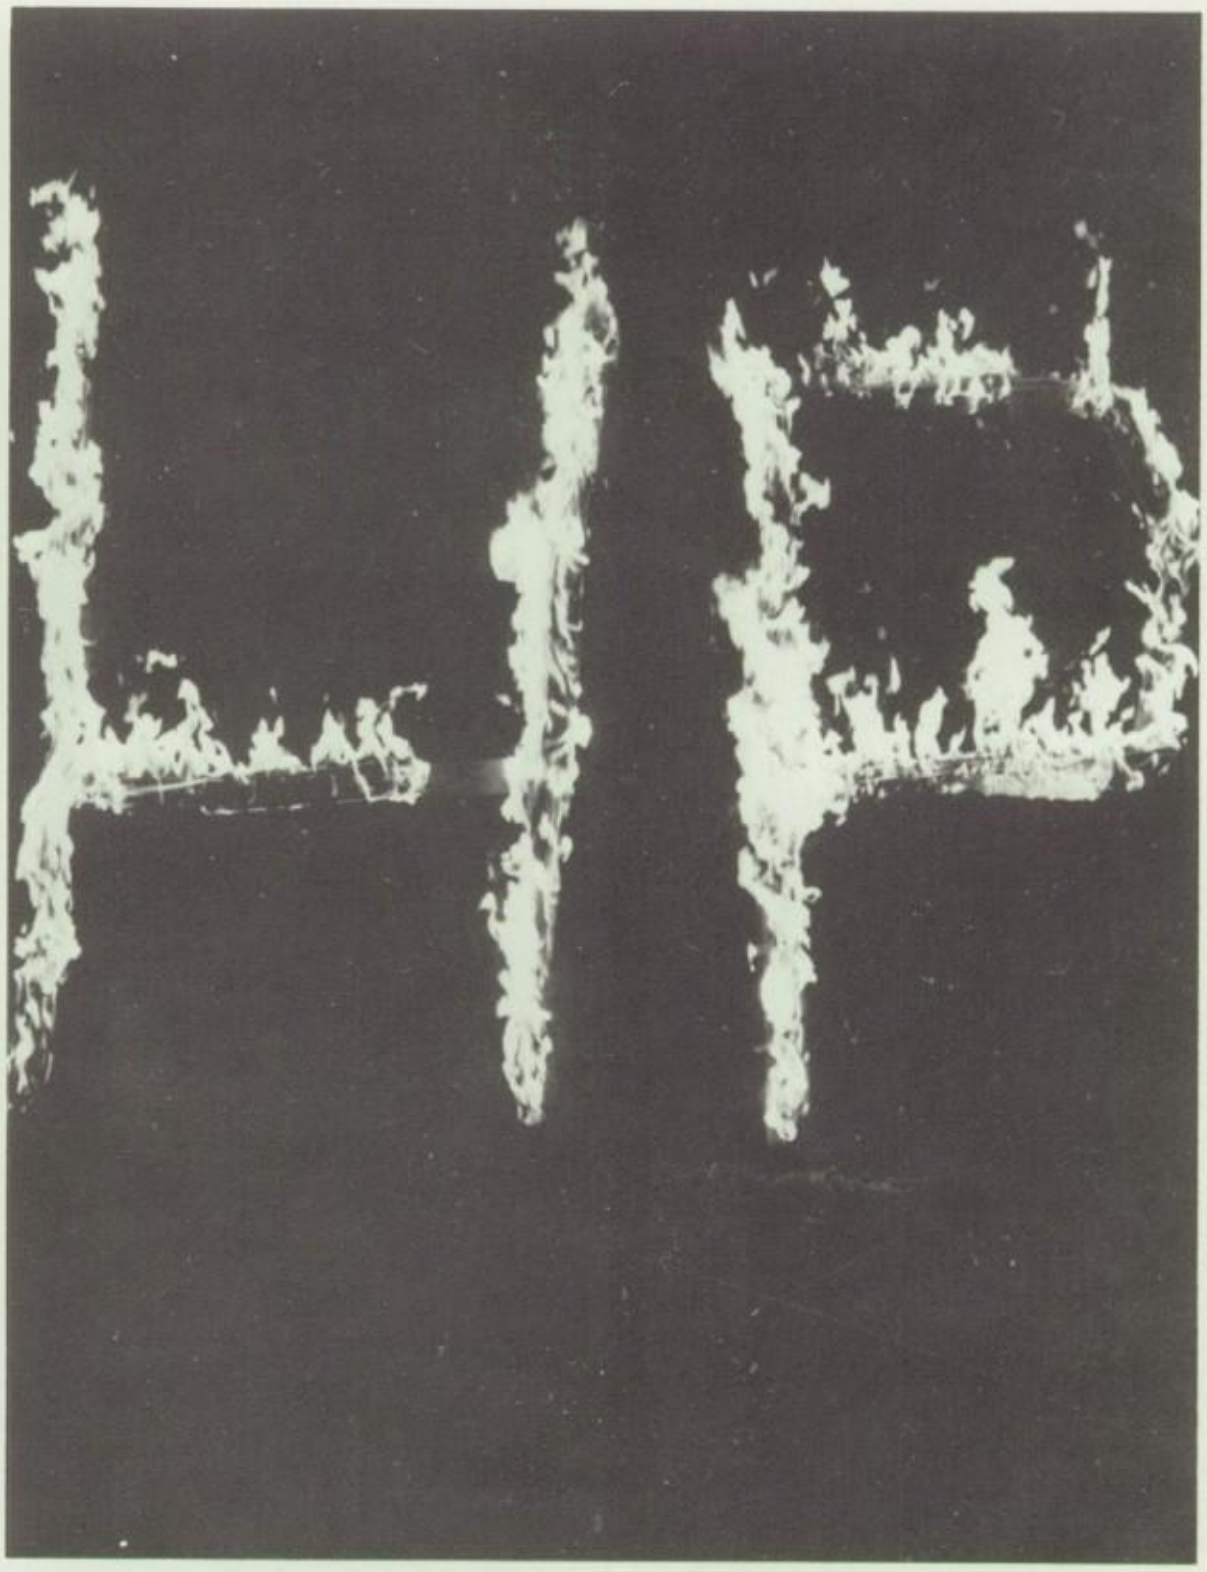
While many Scots gave a sigh of relief as Thanksgiving holidays rolled around, the basketball team and the soccer team started to work out. The Roundballers opened their season with a 78-51 victory against Jesuit.

Winning number: The thrill of victory is reflected by this scoreboard which remained lighted all weekend after the Garland game.

Super Scot spirit: "Beat the Owls" echoes through the school as the student body prepares for the most important district game.

Football flame: Large letters put up by the cheerleaders get the team "fired up."

"Scots are #1": Former Scot great Doak Walker gives a pep speech to a captivated audience.



On the hot seat: Mike Sandifer describes the ideal girl while answering questions for the Hi-Lite King nominee assembly.

CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN

Set in the living room of the Frank Gilbreth home in a New Jersey town during the 1920's, the senior play Cheaper by the Dozen, drew a sizable and enthusiastic crowd over its three production dates, November 9, 10, 11, and 12.

An authentic reproduction of the time period transported the audience back to the days of knickers and Model T's, as crew heads Simone Myers, Cindy Maxwell, Gigi Hiland, Rosie Gutierrez, Suzanne Farrar, Betsy Booziotis, and Margy Adams worked to achieve the effect through set, props, make-up, and costumes. Another attempt at authenticity, having a real dog on the stage, "backfired" when the German shepherd had a sudden attack of stage fright in the wings.

Despite such setbacks, the play opened on a Wednesday evening with Chris Bell and Shirley Williams assuming the leading roles. Others with major roles included Charlotte Moore, Jean Beck, Billy Howard, Bart Irby, Kathryn Kaufman, and Rick Kumpf. Notable type-casts were Tandy Macatee as the innocent, intellectual daughter, and Ceil Holmes, who portrayed the freckle-faced and pig-tailed youngest daughter. In all, 26 seniors had costumed parts, but the entire production required additional assistance from 60 juniors and seniors.

Director Linda Raya guided the cast and crews through an unusually short rehearsal period of three weeks and relied on stage managers Hunt Blair and Melanie Peskett, and their assistant, Judy Jericho, for much-needed help and organization.

Although ticket sales fell short of last year's record-setting pace, Mrs. Raya felt this year's crowd was more responsive and enthusiastic. Cast parties after each performance revealed the seniors' enthusiasm for the show.

"It's a boy!": Anne (Shirley Williams) fights with her younger brothers and sisters, Lisa McElroy, Mike Sandifer, Gable Frye, and Charles McCook, for a private conversation with her boyfriend.

At ease: Gilbreth children Tandy Macatee, Parker Rush, Bruce Stockard, and Wendy Wheeler listen to their father's latest plan.

Roll call: "This family council is called to order," exclaims Mr. Gilbreth (Chris Bell) as he gathers his children for a conference.

"They're so cute!": Katrina Case sighs to Frank (Chris Bell) and Lillian (Charlotte Moore) over the Gilbreth dozen.

Avecita, Patrick find life in U.S. different from Peru, Holland

Avecita Chicchon and Patrick Praaning experienced life as Americans during a year at Highland Park under the sponsorship of the American Field Service.

Avecita, from Lima, Peru, spent the year with the family of Lise Stallcup. Active in Travel Club and Hi-Lites, she also participated in Round Table. "The language was difficult for me," Avecita complained, "because Americans talk so fast."

At her school in Peru the students stay in one room all day and the teachers go from class to class. She also liked being able to wear her own clothes to school instead of a uniform. "Parties are different too. We always dance, as well as talk and eat," Avecita commented.

AFS student from Weesp, Holland, Patrick Praaning adjusted to American life quickly while living with the family of Tripp Stuart. Patrick enjoyed soccer and tennis, but missed playing field hockey, a popular sport in his country. He was a member of the Travel Club, AFS, and Round Table. Attending his first homecoming, Patrick was amazed that the guys wore suits to a football game. Patrick was just as surprised to find that Highland Park offered electives. "At home we have all solid courses, no fun classes," he said.

"We don't date," Patrick insisted. "We just go in a group and everyone pays for himself."

1976 graduate Luci Smith returned in September to tell about her yearlong stay in Denmark. Anne Aldredge, a 1977 graduate, also took time off before entering college and spent a year in Italy through the AFS program.

Funds were raised by the club through the sale of friendship bonds, and the traditional sale of carnations in February along with proceeds from the AFS talent show.

Welcome: Charles McCook hands flowers to Avecita Chicchon after her arrival in Dallas.

Dishpan hands: Patrick Praaning helps his "mother" clean up after dinner.

Senior Santas trade reindeer for army jeep

Getting in the Christmas spirit, Mrs. Linda Raya's advanced drama classes performed original Christmas plays at Old City Park and at children's homes.

Visitors took a candlelight tour of the park before congregating in the old school house to watch the plays. All of the choirs participated in caroling to the homes of invalids, neighbors, and friends.

After the Scots' loss to the Plano Wildcats in the quarterfinals' playoff game on December 2, students anticipated the upcoming Christmas holidays.

Highland Park hosted a speech tournament December 2 and 3, with 17 schools attending, and a vocational seminar for seniors December 6 which featured short talks by successful area businessmen.

Following the success of the football team, the basketball team began a winning season by staying undefeated in their first 11 games. Highland Park placed third in the annual Austin tournament and reached the quarterfinals at the Dr. Pepper tournament during the Christmas holidays.

During advisory period former Dallas Cowboy Craig Banham spoke at the Religious Emphasis Week assembly. For another advisory period assembly, Distributive Education students produced a style show to raise money for the Easter Seals campaign.

Seniors elected president Parker Rush, vice-president Robby Teel, secretary Jean Beck, and treasurer Richard Neely as their class officers.

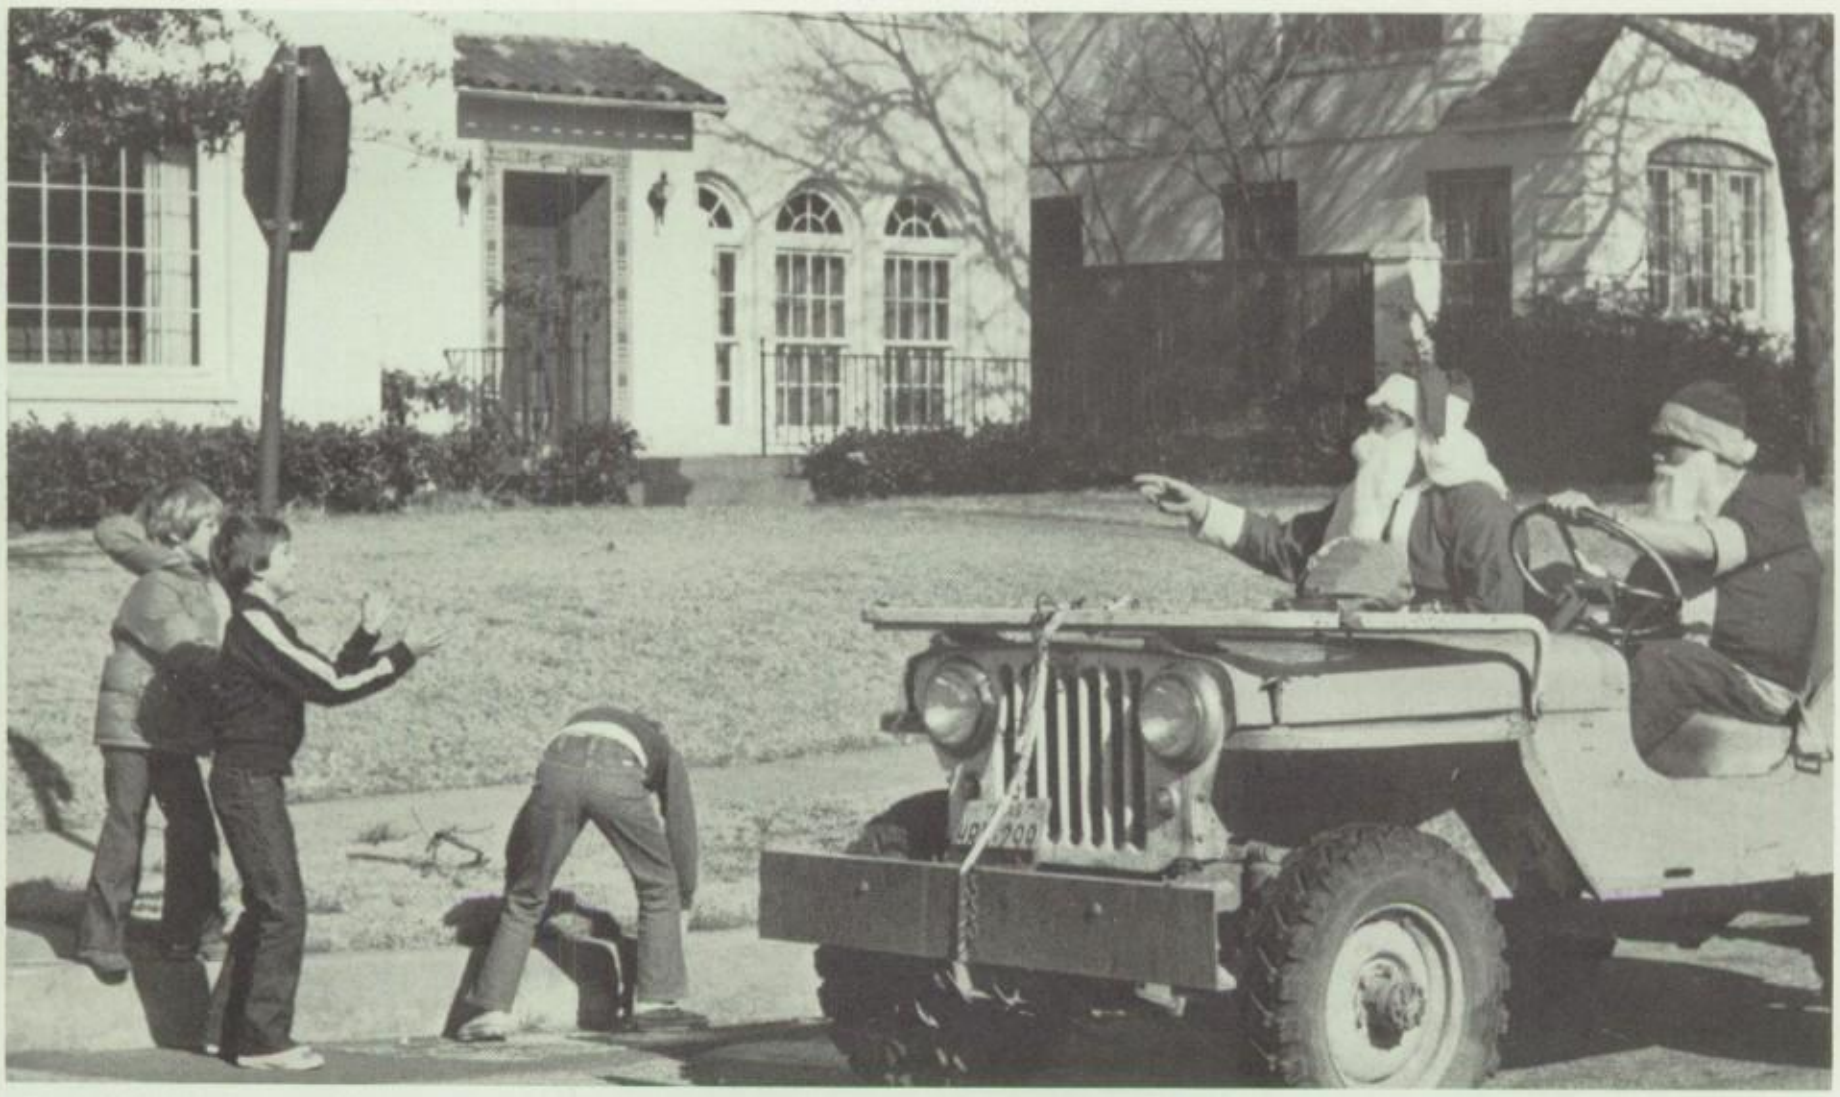
In mid-December, Mike Sandifer, Lee Ann Brown, and Joe Clark qualified for the final auditions of the Texas All-State Choir.

Student organizations exchanged gag gifts at Christmas parties during the festive season. International Thespians were initiated during the club's banquet at Kathryn Kaufman's house.

Hail, Scots: University Park Mayor Roy Coffee presents a resolution to honor the football team.

"Jingle Bells": Choir members join together to sing in the halls after school.

Pinky power: Carolyn Wagner lends a finger to help Julie Smith finish wrapping a present.



"Ho . . . ho . . . ho": Santa Clauses Joey French and Clay Estes ride through the Park Cities spreading Christmas cheer.
Heavenly bodies?: Kathryn Kaufman and Susan Cleaver perform "The Littlest Angel" at Old City Park.
"That's what I want": Mrs. Claus (Susie Myers) moans to Santa Claus (Kathy Webb) during the DECA style show.

you just can't study when it's SNOWING

Happy landing: Barbara Carpenter and Lori Patman jump for joy over a "snow" day.

Snow slide: With a little help from their friends, Sherri Hewett and Sharon Thompson swoosh down the hill at Davis Park.

Tunnel of love: Brian Ficke and Llora Thompson, protected from the cold wind, take a rest from a snowball fight.

Snow bowl: David White finds a clear path as George Poston charges on.

S'no fooling: Malcolm Ross attacks helpless Kim Kelly with a snowball in the face.

Scots jealous of their friends who were able to fly off to Colorado for a white Christmas were no longer disappointed when they were showered with a four-day white holiday in early January.

This unusually heavy snow and ice storm caused school to close January 19 and 20. Another unexpected snowfall in early February delayed the opening of school until ten o'clock on two days and students had one more "snow holiday" on February 8. Most students began to think that the snow overstayed its welcome as Dallas became Aspen II on February 17. This snowfall of 18.6 inches beat the 1963-1964 record of 15.3 inches. Highland Park, attempting not to allow the snow to interrupt studies, was the only school in the area that remained open, but only 65 percent of the students made it to school. Luckily, with the 1977-1978 school calendar, three planned "snow days" made make-up of these days unnecessary.

With driving privileges drastically reduced by cautious parents, upperclassmen reverted to their freshman habits of walking. Many got together to hike to meeting places for a friendly game of snow-football or a not-so-friendly snowball fight. Some ski buffs unable to resist the temptation pulled out their equipment and slid down the slopes of White Rock.

The slick streets were disastrous for drivers but proved perfect for pedestrians with sleds. Of course, the eternally entertaining game of throwing snowballs at cars kept everyone busy.

There's something beautiful about snow — something playful about snow — something youthful about snow . . . you just can't study when it's snowing.

Snow holiday brings break, delays work

Though the traditional white Christmas existed only in the dreams of Highland Park students, the New Year brought its share of snow. Icy streets resulted in a two-day holiday in mid-January.

Cast rehearsals for this year's musical, The Unsinkable Molly Brown, began January 13. The results of their hard work were seen in performances April 13-15.

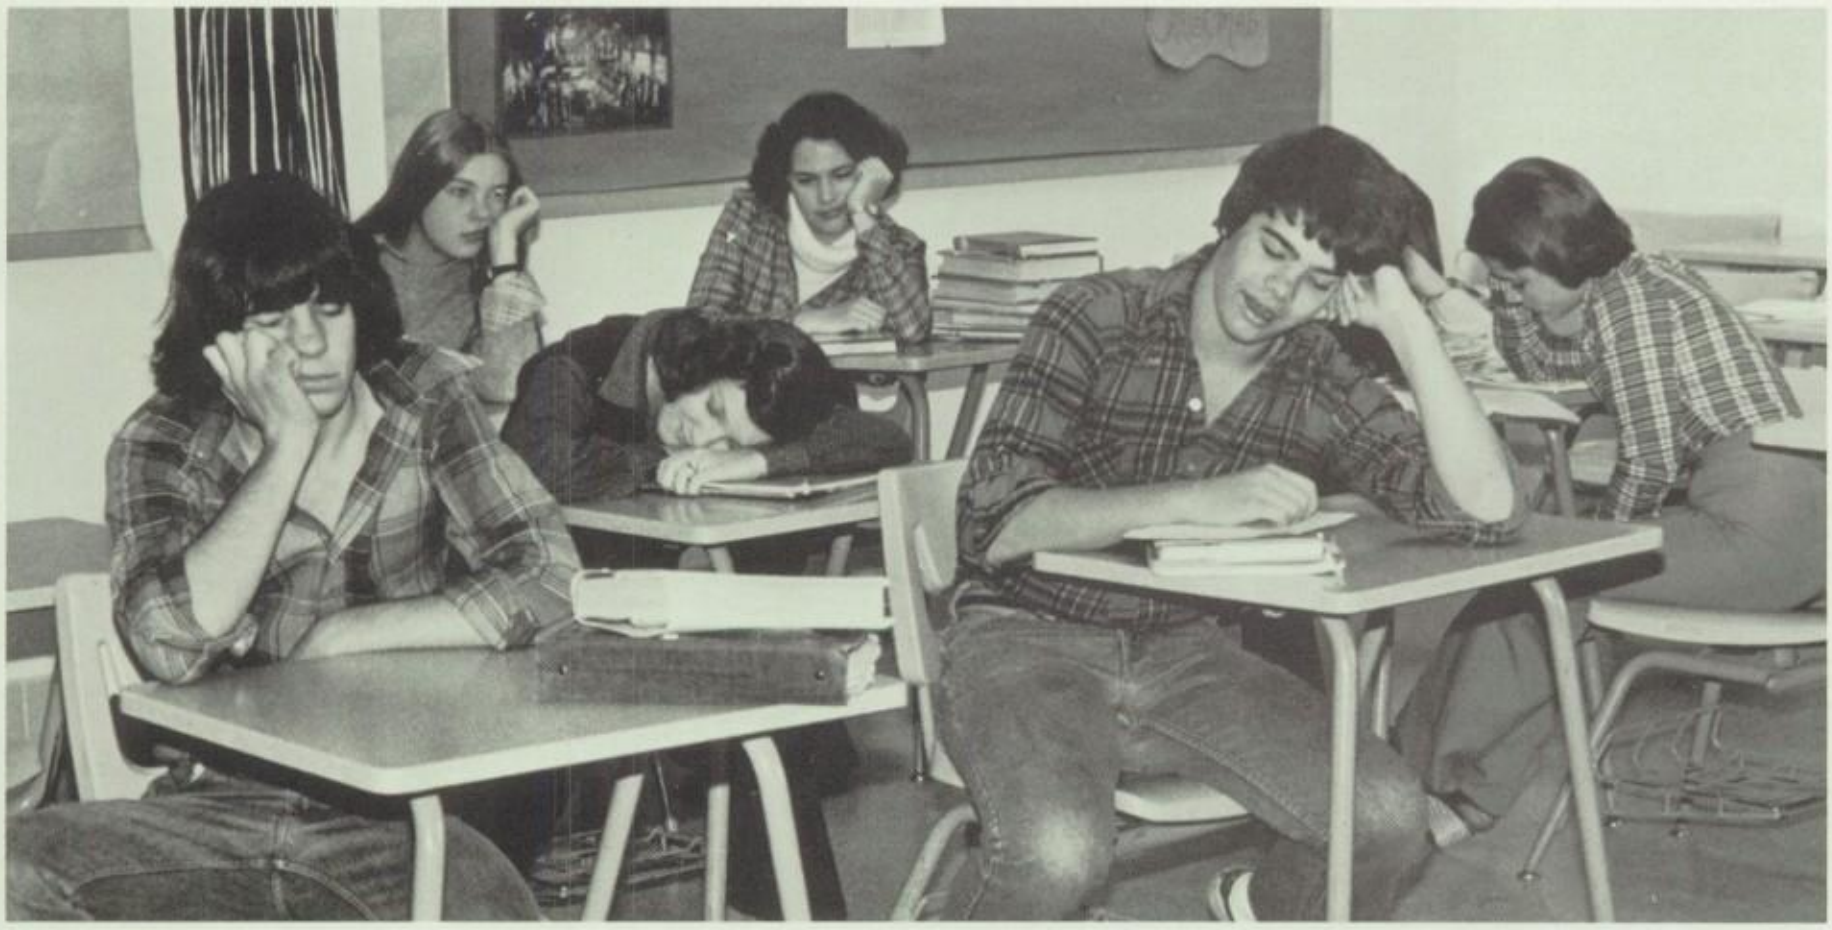
Sports-related activities were popular in January. Several students traveled to New Orleans to see the Dallas Cowboys win Super Bowl XII. Closer to home, the Scots played important basketball games against Garland, Wilmer-Hutchins, and other district opponents. At a Friday assembly, the Dallas Tornado visited Highlander Fieldhouse. After a volleyball match with the teachers, the soccer stars scrimmaged the HP varsity team.

On January 18 at the annual Scot football banquet Doug Grage was named "Forgotten Lineman," Joe Staley was honored as the "Most Conscientious Scot," and Robert Mullins was dubbed "Fight'nest Scot."

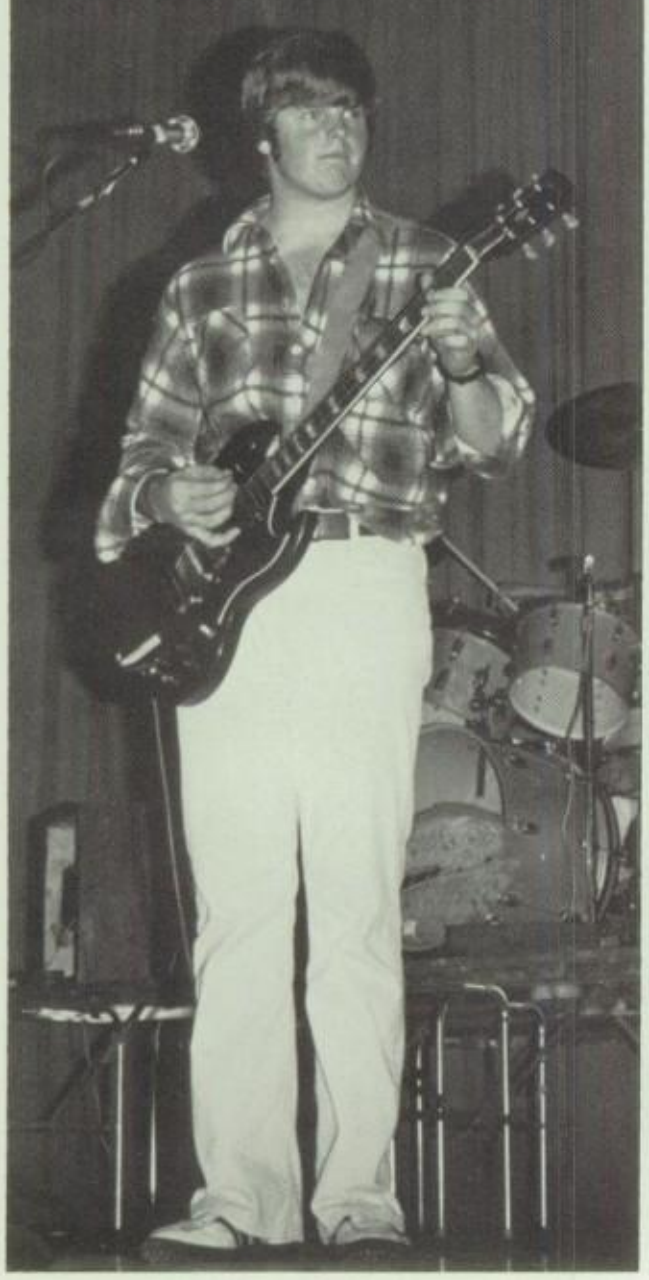
In early January, the speech team traveled to Bishop Dunne High School for the year's first tournament, coming away with four new trophies. In competition later in the month, the varsity debate team won first honors.

"Leave it to Beaver": Chris Bell, Tommy Gile, and Rusty Perry play the Cleaver family in one of their famous announcements.

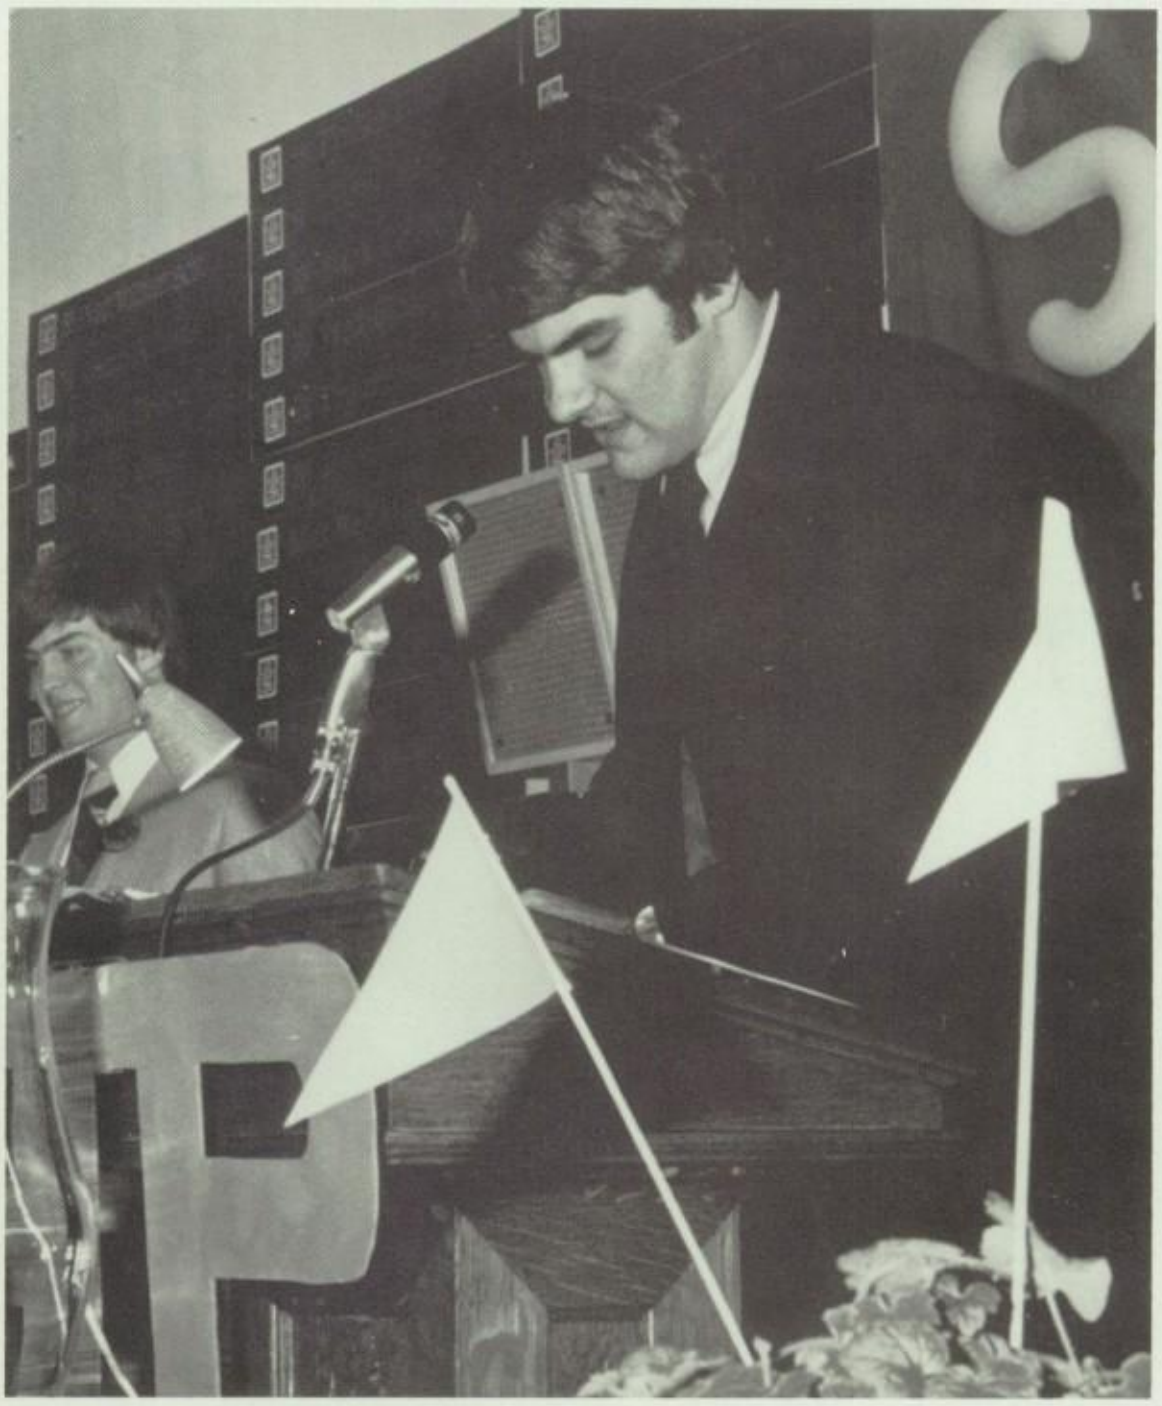
"Watch out, it's hot!": Katrina Case warns Jay Harris before he takes a mouthful.



Holiday hangover: The first day back from Christmas vacation is enthusiastically tackled by freshmen.



Rock on: Clay Weber, shows his musical talents at a Hi-Lite meeting.



Full "Moon": Robert "Moon" Mullins reveals embarrassing moments of the football team.

Where Do $cots $pend Their Ca$h?

Where did Scots spend their money? The traditional answers included everything from gas, dates, stereo equipment, and speeding tickets to make-up, jewelry, food, and sports goods. Other students had a more long-range goal in mind.

Senior Hunt Blair worked at a pizza parlor to earn money for a planned summer biking excursion to the West coast. Hunt explained, "This trip has priority over any other expense that may come up during the year."

College credit was what junior Yvette Myers was saving for. Yvette saved the money she earned as a supermarket checker so that she could pay for a summer trip to Mexico and go to school.

Ticket speculation for rock concerts and football games increased in popularity. Two nights before Super Bowl tickets went on sale, senior John Tippit and his father packed up to stay the nights with a thousand other hopefuls on the plastic and steel seats of Moody Coliseum. Their $30 investment on each of four tickets proved to be more lucrative than they had expected — they received an 850 per cent profit on each ticket.

Perhaps the most common time to spend money was on a date. One of the most expensive dates of the year came with the Junior Symphony Ball. For a guy, the costs of the dance conservatively broke down to $25 for tuxedo rental, $10 for two tickets to the dance, $20-$35 for dinner, and $8 for a corsage. This price might seem pretty high for guys, but the girls' expenses ran just as high or higher. They had to purchase formal dresses that ranged between $50 and $250 as well as a $5 boutonniere for their date. Many of these expenses carried into the spring "dance season" as well.

Hosting a spring formal was also quite an expensive venture. Depending on the size of the dance and the number of girls hosting, costs ranged everywhere from $40 to $90 per host. Other variables considered in the costs of the dances included location, type of refreshments, and the popularity of the band. Some country clubs charged as much as $800 for hall rental and $300 for punch. One band played at a senior dance for $1,200.

Although some Scots had a definite purpose for spending their money, most of the exchange of cash centered around entertainment.

Deep snowfall, slippery roads cancel school

With school opening at 10 A.M. on three days and closing down completely another day, students enjoyed a long winter's nap as unpredictable weather hovered over North Texas. Heavy snowfalls reached up to eight inches.

St. Valentine's Day brought happy faces to students as AFS members sold 10,850 cards for Valentine carnations. Delivered to students' first period classes, the flowers earned $2,000 for next year's exchange students.

Basketball season came to a close with a 27-4 season record. The Texas Association of Basketball Coaches ranked the Scot roundballers as tenth-best in Texas. The Scots were the only Dallas-area team rated.

The Student Council and its Social Committee entertained faculty members at the annual Teacher Appreciation Tea, originally scheduled for February 8 but due to the snow day rescheduled for February 15.

The week of February 20 through 24 was set aside as Brotherhood Week with observances which included students singing, reading poems, and giving personal testimony.

Receiving seven out of a possible nine votes, senior Richard Neely was one of 67 athletes chosen in the Dallas Times Herald's 13th annual Blue Chip Poll, which placed him as one of the best college prospects in the state according to the Southwest Conference football coaches. Senior Joe Staley was named to the All-State football team by the Texas Sports Writers Association.

Senior tenor Mike Sandifer was named to the UIL All-State choir, which sang in Houston February 8-12.

Flower power: Busy AFS members work hard amid the thousands of Valentine carnations to be delivered before first period.

Yell leaders learn cheers, pick up stick

Learning new cheers and yells Freshman, B-team and Varsity cheerleaders attended the annual SMU cheerleading camp, raising enough spirit to receive the coveted spirit stick a total of three nights.

Head cheerleader Ann Marlow, along with Riley Stephens, Tandy Macatee, John Tucker, Lee Ann Brown, Bart Irby, Jill Wilson and Chris Bell raised spirit and money by selling blue and gold kazoos at the games and H.P. wind breakers at the weekly sports club meetings.

The extra money bought personalized footballs for players of the week, and a new amplifier for the speaker system. Preparing for the Garland rivalry cheerleaders led the pep rally with a record crowd of students, teachers and parents packed in the gym.

Mrs. Elysia Holt sponsored the varsity squad while Mrs. Kathy Burdett led the B-team group of Kathy Wideman, Mallory Petty, Liz Feld, Adrienne Macatee, Lisa MacMurray and Phyllis Sreenan. These girls organized groups to support the B-team sports by decorating the locker room, lockers and players' houses.

Richard Neely

Senior Class treasurer Richard Neely was named to the All-District first team and All-State second team for his contributions to the Varsity football team. As 10-AAAA defensive player of the year, he also received All-Metro and All-Greater Dallas first team distinctions by both The Dallas Times Herald and The Dallas Morning News. A member of the Key Club, Richard also served as vice-president of AFS. For her outstanding spirit, Ann Marlow was honored as a Homecoming Queen nominee. Ann was also a B-team cheerleader and a member of the Spirit Committee as a junior.

Eight personalities were elected by the student body as Highlander favorites in a December ballot. Captain of the track team his senior year, John Turner participated in both track and football for four years winning all-District Honorable Mention distinction his senior year. John served as Leo Club vice-president and was also nominated for Hi-Lite King. Varsity cheerleader Lee Ann Brown was a member of Lads and Lassies choir her senior year. Lee Ann took part in both the musicals "South Pacific" and "Oklahoma" her sophomore and junior years.

Besides raising Scot spirit as a Varsity cheerleader, Chris Bell was a nominee for Hi-Lite King. Chris played the lead in the Senior play "Cheaper by the Dozen" and was a member of the Leo Club his senior year. B-team cheerleader Gable Frye also played a major role in the senior play. Active in speech and drama, Gable took part in the musical "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" and was a member of Thespians as a senior.

Varsity football and baseball player Mike Sandifer had roles in both the senior play and the spring musical. A member of Lads and Lassies, Mike won a spot in the Texas All-State choir and was a four-year member of FCA. Elected to the National Honor Society her junior year, Varsity cheerleader Jill Wilson was named 1977 Homecoming Queen. Jill also found time to participate in the Senior play crews and was a member of the Student Council through her junior year.

ACADEMICS

Victory "apples for the teacher," the traditional trophies handed out to sports winners at Highland Park, come also to stand for success in the pursuit of knowledge in academic endeavors.

Apple a day: Teachers' boxes filled with fruit add a surprise to the everyday messages.

New programs gain attention of Dr. Sigler

Battling the problems of construction was the prime objective of the administrators this year. They joined together to make the necessary adjustments, but still pursued a variety of personal interests.

Principal Dr. E. A. Sigler flew to Washington, D.C., Anaheim, California, and New Orleans to participate in programs of the Northern Association of Colleges and Schools.

Here at Highland Park he investigated the new teaching technique of videotaping classes for later presentation. He also encouraged the spirit of patriotism by continuing the school's involvement in the Freedom's Foundation contests.

In his spare time, Dr. Sigler camped and enjoyed sports of all kinds, making several expeditions to the Gulf Coast for deep-sea fishing.

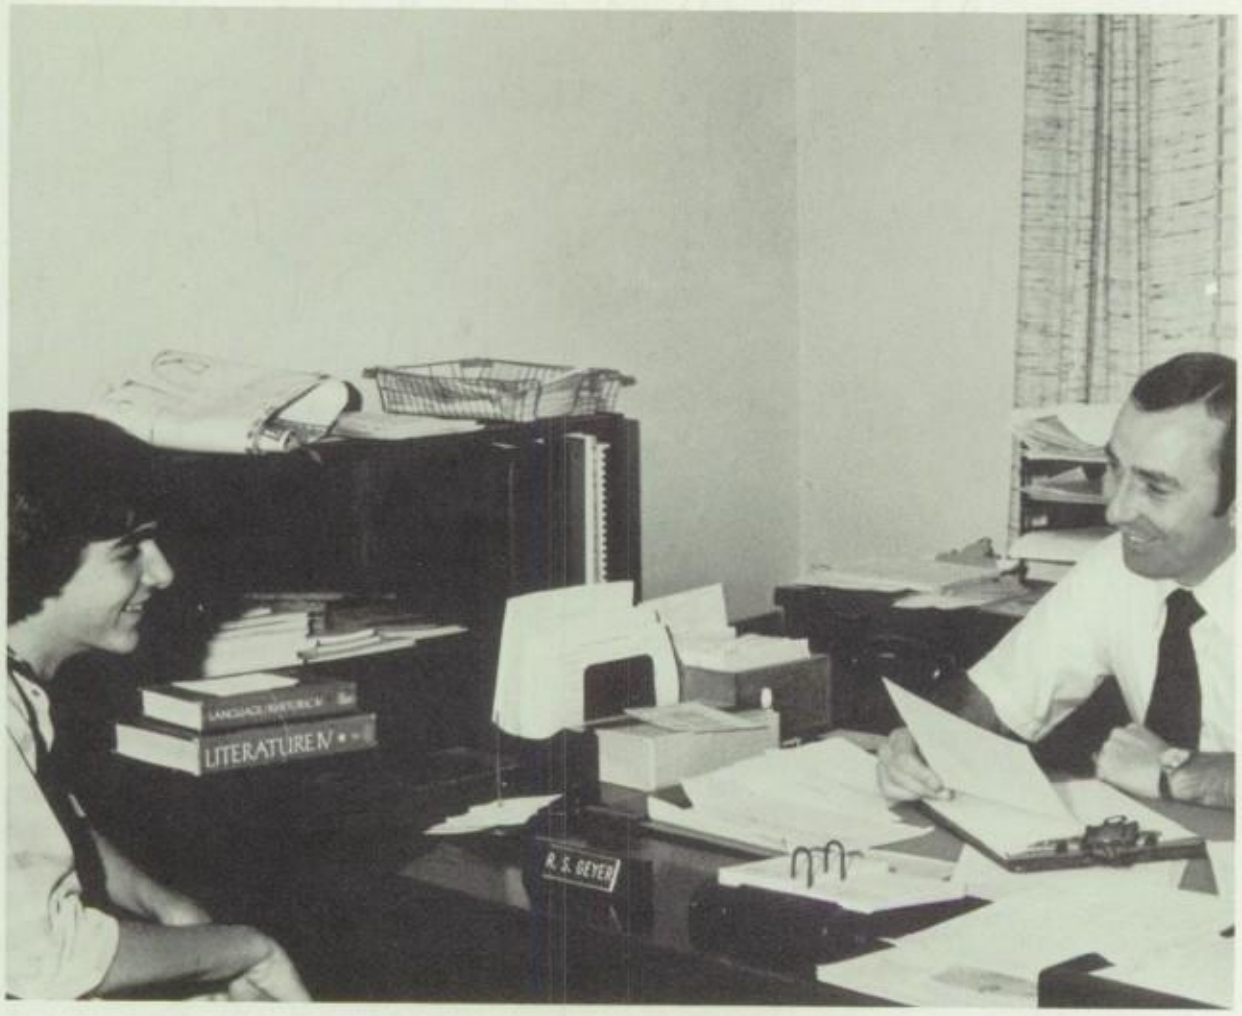
"Well done": Dr. E. A. Sigler gives Steve LaPrade a congratulatory handshake at the NHS initiation.
Birthday surprise: Principal E. A. Sigler observes that Student Council president Louis Hexter's gift "takes the cake."



Sticky situation: Mr. Ron Geyer discusses an "excused" or "unexcused" absence with Chuck Drury.

Paper work: Mr. Ernie Ritter never gets to the bottom of the stacks of attendance records.

Administrators edit handbook, go to meetings

Assistant Principal Mr. Ron Geyer attended meetings of the Texas Association of Assistant Principals and the North Texas Schoolmaster's Association. His duties included coordination of graduation and commencement activities as well as enrollment and attendance.

Mr. Geyer enjoyed playing basketball and coaching city-wide competitive sports. On vacations he went to South Padre Island to swim, fish, and relax.

Assistant Principal Mr. Ernie Ritter edited a revision of the student handbook, The Kiltie, and joined other administrators in visiting classrooms to observe teaching techniques. He also headed the assembly committee and coordinated the school calendar.

Working to expand and improve the selective skills program, the busy assistant principal also supervised new curriculum guidelines in several other subject areas.

The administrators received their training in various places. Dr. Sigler obtained a doctorate and a master's degree in education from North Texas State University and a master's degree in arts and teaching from the University of the South. Mr. Geyer received his bachelor of science degree from South West Texas State and his master's from the University of Texas at Austin. Mr. Ritter attended Arizona State University for his bachelor's and master's degrees, followed by the University of Texas at Austin, where he obtained his administration certificate.

Administrators see progress of major remodeling project

As construction continued in the school district, Board of Education members received reports of the problems and pleasures of completing the vast project, the cost of which surpassed the $13 million mark.

Because of increased state aid, members were able to adopt an ordinance for tax rates which ended two years of hikes. As the 1977 rate became $1.15 per $100 of 75 percent assessed value, the senior citizen tax exemption was increased to make up for the assessment change.

For the first time this year the Board released achievement test scores for comparison with other schools. Tested in March 1977, third, sixth, and ninth graders scored far above national norms.

After last-minute legislation reduced the state-funded school year by five days, local trustees, convinced that the cut would affect the educational program, voted to reduce our year by only two days.

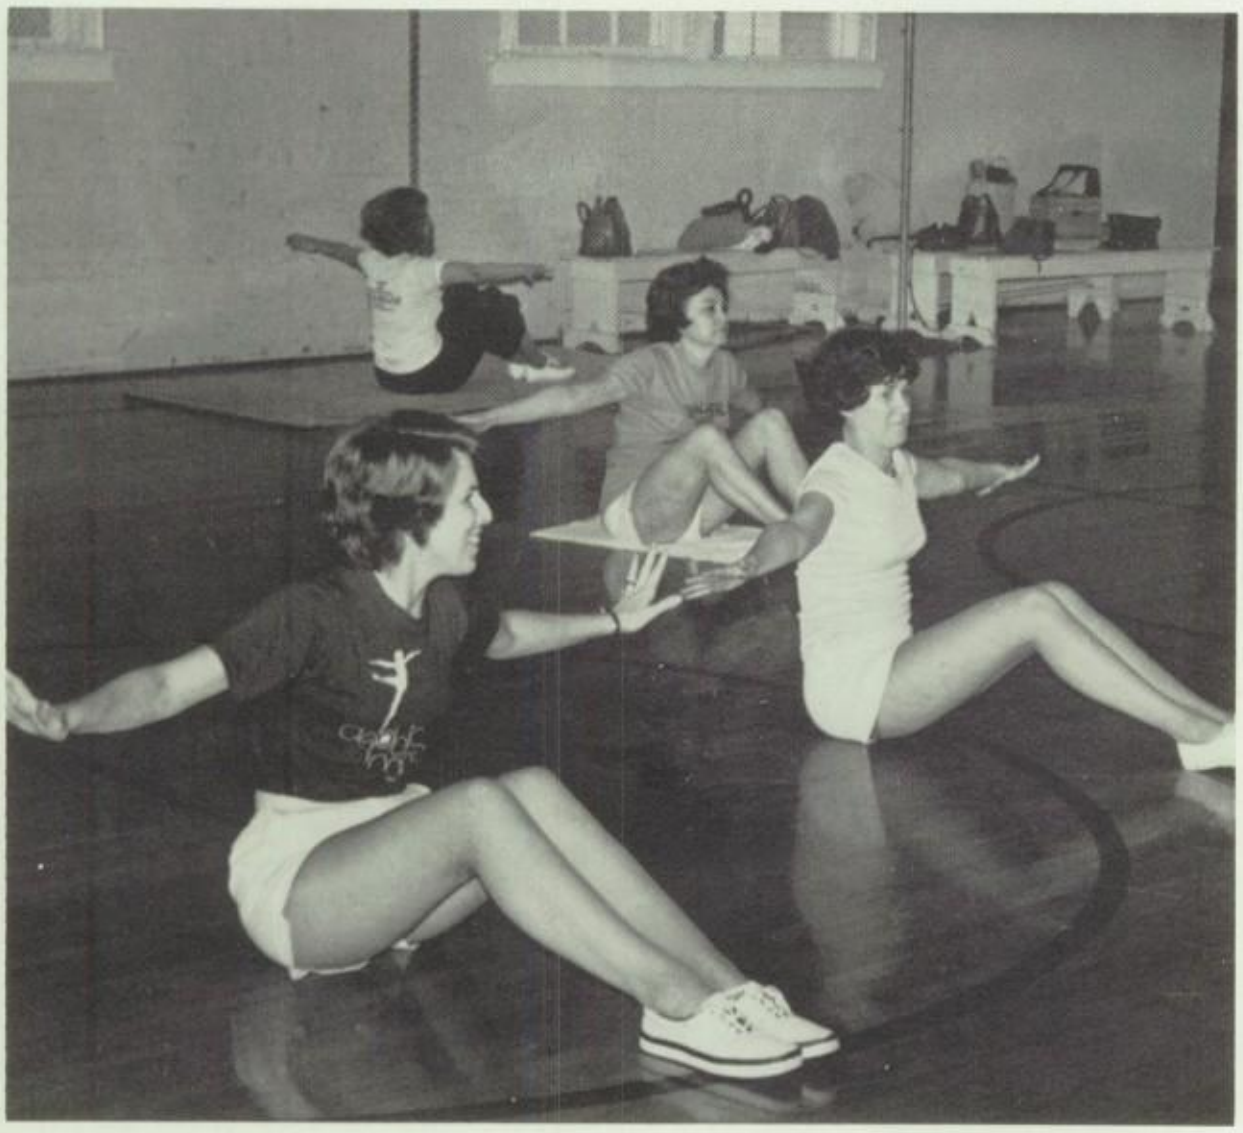
Approved curriculum additions, which included psychology, aerospace aviation education, office practice, outdoor education, girl's soccer, and gymnastics went into effect this year, providing a larger variety of electives for students.

Presiding over the Board of Education as president, Mr. Walter M. Spradley was supported by Dr. Elgin W. Ware, Jr., vice-president; Dr. John E. Eisenlohr, secretary; Mr. Trevor Rees-Jones, finance officer, along with Mr. Arthur Z. Barnes, Mr. Darrell M. Lafitte, newly-elected member Mrs. Duffield Smith, Jr., and Dr. Winston Power, superintendent.

Pointed inquiry: Mrs. Duffield Smith Jr. raises a question to board members Mr. Arthur Barnes and Mr. Trevor Rees-Jones.

Seeing is believing: On a special October tour of the building, board members and administrators survey construction progress.

Slice and dice: Mrs. Dorothy Spencer instructs John Lancaster in the skill of slicing a tomato.



Exhale, inhale: Mrs. Kathleen Burdett and Mrs Barbara Black gain strength with aerobic dancing.

Teachers visit exotic places, unique sites

Shaken up by the trauma of moving last summer were faculty members who acquired new addresses. These "movers and shakers" were Miss Paula Duckworth, Mr. Ron Geyer, Mrs. Ruth Vineyard, Mrs. Laura Amparan, and Mrs. Barbara Ann Black. Mrs. Vineyard left San Antonio and Mrs. Amparan relocated from Arlington.

Several faculty members experienced glimpses of foreign cultures by visiting abroad. Miss Susan Moseley and Mr. Donald C. Brown toured Yugoslavia, Switzerland, Italy and other European countries. Also in Europe were a group of students escorted by Dr. Lawrence Puckett. Mrs. Janet Beckman visited Greece, Turkey, and Iran. Mrs. Doris Plumlee, who travelled through South Korea, Thailand, Burma, Sumatra, Java, Bali, Singapore, and Hong Kong, described some of the "conveyances" she used as exciting and unusual. "For instance, wouldn't you say riding an elephant in Thailand and a water buffalo in Bangkok are unusual?" she remarked.

Though some teachers travelled abroad others decided to find out more about our own country. Austin, San Antonio, Houston, Galveston, Bonham, and Padre Island were some of the "exotic" sites toured in Texas. Mrs. Kathleen Burdett, Mrs. Henry Hubbard, Miss Eleonora Guzman, Mrs. Jane Harrell, and Mr. Jimmy Lee backpacked and camped in the Midwestern states. Other faculty members Mrs. Jim Pope, Mrs. Katherine Norman, and Mrs. Linda Roosth soaked up the Florida sunshine.

Mrs. Elysia Holt expanded her knowledge of tennis by attending the Wimbledon Tennis Tournament near London before visiting the continent.

Teachers pursued a wide variety of interests during their free time. Faculty members took advantage of the sunny weather and kept in shape by participating in outdoor sports of many kinds.

Golfers Mrs. Barbara Ann Black and Mrs. Lorna Griffin took to the fairways to perfect their strokes, while tennis buffs Mrs. Pam Bush and Miss Susan Moseley also worked to improve their techniques.

After hot hours in the sun, the cool waters of pools and lakes refreshed swimmers Mrs. Marilyn Peper and Mr. Mike Robertson. On a more strenuous level Miss Mary Ann Coppedge took part in water volleyball competition, and Mrs. Elysia Holt ran head-on into her free time by participating in a women's track club.

An apple a day isn't always enough.

Colds, sprained ankles, sore throats, and headaches were a few of the student ailments that nurse Mrs. B. J. Snodgrass treated. Mrs. Snodgrass also kept weight and measurement records of each student.

Freshman counselor Mrs. Barbara Brown had her hands full helping incoming freshmen adjust to high school life, despite the added confusion of the construction project. Mrs. Willetta Peckham and Mrs. Donna Fischer advised sophomores and juniors with their schedule problems, and Mrs. Betty Guest helped seniors with college applications.

The counselors also administered the California Test of Basic Skills and the Standard Fundamental Test of Academic Aptitude to the freshmen and sophomores this year.

absences were a few of the jobs supervised by attendance secretary Mrs. J. B. Lyons and assistant Mrs. Joyce Carmichael. These jobs were performed in the cramped quarters of the attendance office with a promise that much-needed space would be provided next year.

With the help of Librarian Mrs. R. L. Hoebeke and assistants Mrs. J. F. Pope and Mrs. William Stewart, students learned the basics of how to use the library. Mrs. Hoebeke lectured to both English and Social Studies classes on use of the card catalogue, bound periodicals, and encyclopedia references.

Main office secretaries Miss Mildred Calhoun and Mrs. Evelyn Dykstra handled secretarial duties for the principal, and Mrs. Robert Sargent was in charge of keeping books on all report cards, attendance records, schedules, and schedule changes.

English, drama present scenes from literature

Under its new chairman Mrs. Cloriene Barrett, the English department adjusted to new faces and assignments.

New teachers were Mr. Dennis Thornton, who taught freshman English, and Miss Kathy Carpenter, who taught junior English. Reassigned to major works junior English after having taught freshman English for nine years, Mrs. Mary Dillard found teaching major works "a new challenge."

Freshman English classes concerned themselves with grammar rules and plot structure while also reading about strange adventures in the Odyssey. Students watched video tapes of The Merchant of Venice and Great Expectations for a better understanding of the stories.

Major works sophomore English classes welcomed acting as a change of pace from classroom discussions. Students portrayed characters of dif-

Junior English classes enjoyed the humor of Huckleberry Finn after working on research papers. Mrs. Reyburn Myers' classes held weekly spelling bees to build a larger vocabulary.

Speech students concentrated on learning the types of speeches and interpreting prose and poetry. Students in the advanced course worked to prepare and perfect speeches and debates for tournament competition.

While speech students competed, drama students performed one-act Christmas plays for visitors at Old City Park. Classes also learned the basic skills of stage make-up application and spent a few days experimenting on each other. Advanced placement English students spent the last trimester reading and reviewing for their AP exam in May.

Math students create variety in extra credit

"Before you say your prayers at night, say your arithmetic," said L. M. Evans, algebra teacher, at the end of every one of his classes.

Math teachers agreed that keeping up with daily homework assignments is the key to success in that subject but the addition of a little variety to the regular work makes classes more interesting.

Miss Catherine Walters, major works trigonometry and elementry functions teacher, decided to assign a creative work project for homework one evening. Senior Paul Rush, much to the delight of his classmates, fulfilled his homework assignment by baking edible cakes decorated by reproductions of trig graphs in icing.

Senior Dan Carney surprised his trig teacher Mrs. Kathleen Burdett, in an extra credit project, by miniaturizing and laminating enough sine and cosine tables into wallet-size cards for the whole class to have.

Major works algebra students struggled through difficult equations in Mr. Bruce Orr's class with little extra-curricular relief. However, spring Open House provided an opportunity for them to be creative with posters on the theory behind algebra.

Learning to eat with chopsticks was a definite challenge for Asian Studies students while on a field trip to a restaurant of foreign cuisine. While enjoying the meal, the students also learned about the culinary art of India.

Special assignments were open to government students in order to broaden their minds to the many phases of state and national government. Students wrote letters to their congressmen and discussed their feelings on controversial issues such as illegal aliens and the gun control problem. Five seniors in Mr. John Hanscom's government classes missed a day of school to attend a lecture on foreign affairs and national defense hosted by the Public Affairs Luncheon Club of Dallas. After the lecture, they wrote a summary of the talk and discussed it with their classes.

Advanced placement Spanish students found that term papers involved a "sinful" amount of study and research.

Members of the fifth year advanced class explored some of the bypaths of the seven deadly sins as each student chose a "favorite" sin such as greed, anger, or pride and showed in a term paper how famous authors dealt with the subject in their literature.

Level two Spanish classes researched Mexican culture by sampling foods prepared by classmates. Major works students illustrated a book they read with projects ranging from papier-mache sculptures of characters to decorative posters.

All German classes participated in a "Novemberfest," created from the famous German "Oktoberfest," at the University of Texas at Arlington. Students entered contests in poetry recital, spelling, dramatic monologue, and sports.

At school, German students heard talks about life in Germany. An exchange student from Berlin discussed her years there, and government teacher Mr. John Hanscom related to the classes some of his war experiences in Germany.

French students recorded lessons and conversations on cassette tapes to improve pronunciation skills. Skits dealing with food and table manners helped first-level classes explore French customs. Fourth-level students viewed scenery of France during a slide show given by Jim Pike who toured Europe over the summer.

Mr. W. D. Greer, who had retired from teaching at the end of the 1977 school year, agreed to stay on as the mechanical drawing teacher for the first three months until Mr. Johnson was free to take over the classes.

With the absence of woodshop, boys who needed elective credits poured into the Homemaking courses. Once they were accustomed to the idea, the boys eagerly proved their culinary equality as they prepared meals with the girls under the supervision of new homemaking teacher Mrs. Dorothy Spencer. Other students developed sewing skills as they made slacks, skirts, scarves, and pillows that

Students learn flip-flops, bends in gymnastics

Gymnastic classes, new at Highland Park this year, started with warm-up exercises and proceeded to such stunts as somersaults and back flip-flops. Coach Dennis Thornton was well qualified to teach the classes, having competed on two state champion gymnastic teams in high school and college and taught gymnastics at Georgia Southern College.

Square dance classes do-si-doed their partners to the calls of the square dance tune "Red River Valley." Swimming classes did laps to tone arm and leg muscles.

In weight-training classes, girls discovered that boys were not the only ones who benefitted from exercising with weights. Students controlled the amount of weight pushed by the legs or pulled and lifted by the arms.

Individual research projects encouraged students in personal health practices during the required two trimes-ters of health education. Guest speakers instructed students in basic first aid and discussed blood pressure. Films on drugs, nutrition, and alcoholism also aided students in these studies.

Fifteen-year-olds, eager to learn to drive, put in 32 hours of classroom instruction during the one-trimester safety education course. Twelve more hours of observation and driving time plus a sixteenth birthday made a student eligible to take the driver's test.

Lack of ROTC membership caused the Highland Park unit to change to the National Defense Cadet Corps program instead of the former program supervised by the Reserve Officer Training Corps. In past years the government furnished the uniforms, but now the school provided the money for the uniforms.

Because of lack of space with construction of the new gym, the number of intramural sports was reduced.

ATHLETICS

Although the "football craze" thoroughly infected the student body in the first few months, Scots enthusiastically kept spirit at an all-time high throughout the entire school year.

We're Number One!: Elated crowds gather around the locker room doors after the Scots lock up the 10-AAAA title against the Owls.

Can "Bevers" swim?: Head Coach Frank Bevers emerges from baptism by his team following the Garland victory.

Lightning struck twice as the Varsity Football Team went undefeated in District 10-AAAA to compile 20 district wins in back-to-back years, virtually duplicating last year's record.

The Scots won a second district crown and proved themselves the best team in bi-district and the Dallas region. Plano, the eventual state champs, defeated Highland Park in Texas Stadium on December 3 in a heartbreaking 29-28 loss.

Following one of the best teams in Highland Park history was no easy task for the '77 version of the "Gold Machine." Through hard work and dedication the Scots surpassed everyone's expectations. Strong support from the student body, faculty and community helped turn the anticipated "rebuilding year" into a year filled with championships and excitement.

The team was headed by Frank Bevers in his fourth year as head coach. Coach Bevers won honors as the Coach of the Year in 10-AAAA for the second consecutive year. He guided a staff that included Coaches Randy Emery, defensive coordinator; Wayne Johnson, defensive secondary; Ben Tyler, offensive line; Jim Wheat, offensive line; and Doug Gibbins, trainer.

On the field, captains Tommy Reynolds, Bobby Carter, Robert Mullins, Tim Ewing and Russ Walker performed leadership roles.

The Scots proved an awesome scoring maching though they returned only one starter on offense. The McIlhenny brothers helped account for more than 3,688 total yards. Lance rushed for 807 yards and completed 60 per cent of his passes for 1,638 yards and 17 touchdowns. Older brother Lott, at the fullback spot, carried the ball for 1,143 yards. Tailback Russ Walker proved effective on the option as he ran for 741 yards.

None of these statistics could have been possible without the offensive line of Joe Staley, Jack Tynes, Doug Grage, Harold McCoy, Ralph Rather and Tim Ewing.

The defense allowed an average of only 10.5 points a game. Anchored at the tackles by Seniors Richard Neely and Robert "Moon" Mullins, the first team defensive squad went unscored upon in six games and caused 46 turnovers in thirteen games.

Cowtown win rolls out carpet for Scot debut

Opening the season in Ft. Worth against Paschal the Scots brought home a 27-7 victory. At home, against the Lake Highlands Wildcats, HP rolled up a 22-6 win.

Against the Arlington Colts the offense capitalized on early turnovers to blast the Colts 39-14. Highland Park was ahead 20-0 at the end of the first quarter on two touchdowns by Lott McIlhenny and one by Russ Walker.

The Scots blasted MacArthur in a 21-0 shutout with both Lott and Lance rushing for more than 100 yards.

Jeff Patterson and Mike Sandifer both caught touchdown passes and Russ Walker made the other score.

HP takes district, advances to playoffs

Traveling to South Garland for their first and possibly most important District 10-AAAA game, the Scots brought home a 28-20 win.

Lott McIlhenny pushed across two touchdowns, rushing in the first half to give Hi Park a 13-0 halftime lead. Lance McIlhenny threw a 32-yard strike to John Turner in the third quarter to give the Scots a 19-14 edge.

The next score came on the "huddle play," a direct pitchout from Lance to Mike Sandifer. Ben Norwood kicked a 26-yard field goal to clinch the first district win.

Mesquite traveled to Highlander Stadium on Homecoming night and Hi Park won 35-14. Russ Walker and Lance McIlhenny each had two touchdowns and Joe Staley caught a touchdown pass.

The defense rose to the occasion as Rusty Rice recovered a key fumble and John Thompson intercepted a Skeeter pass.

Wilmer-Hutchins was the victim of the Scots' second shut-out 34-0. Lott rushed for three touchdowns and Jeff Patterson for one.

Lance accounted for 224 yards passing and one touchdown completion to Mike Sandifer.

Blasting across 20 points in the second quarter, the Scots defeated the North Mesquite Stallions 27-14. Lott again raced for more than 100 yards and rushed for two touchdowns. Lance connected for a 35-yard TD pass to Joe Staley.

Before a sold-out Highlander Stadium the Scots blew the Garland Owls out of the 10-AAAA race with a 48-7 victory.

After a day filled with mini-pep rallies going on during passing periods, a large crowd of enthusiastic students, parents, faculty, and football maniacs witnessed Hi Park locking up the district title.

The Scots rolled up 428 offensive yards. Lott had 151 yards and 2 touchdowns, Russ went for 81 yards and two touchdowns, Lance made five of eight passes, for 82 yards with one touchdown reception.

Highland Park scored its third shut-out of the year against North Garland 27-0, and Scot reserves saw action most of the second half.

R. L. Turner was crunched in the bi-district game 28-7 in Texas Stadium as Walker rushed for 84 yards and one touchdown while Lott rushed for 64 yards and Lance for 61 yards.

Lance threw touchdown strikes to Staley, Turner, and Sandifer. On defense Dale Moore intercepted a pass and recovered a fumble.

Hi Park advanced to the State Quarter-finals after a 44-18 romp over Roosevelt. Joe Staley caught three touchdowns and Lott had 125 yards rushing. Walker scored once on a nine-yard scamper and Lance added a 42-yard touchdown romp.

Plano game goes to wire; Wildcats win

Plano came back in the last minute of the Quarter-final game to hand the Scots a 29-28 loss before a record crowd to witness a Texas High School play-off game. With nine minutes remaining in the third period the Hi Park Scots led 28-0.

The breaks went towards the Wildcats and they pulled out a big win with the aid of costly turnovers.

The Scots scored first on a 17-yard pass from Lance to Russ Walker. The second score came from Lott on a 3-yard burst up the middle. Staley caught a 21-yard touchdown pass and Lott capped off the scoring on another short run.

Plano came back and scored, then going for the point conversion, made the points and stayed ahead 29-28. Highland Park received the ball and with 33 seconds left tried to score but time ran out on the season.

Too big for his britches: All-state tightend Joe Staley drags a herd of Roosevelt Mustangs in the regional play-off.

B-team Scots end season 6-4, capture second place in district

Hard work paid off for the junior varsity Scots as they ended the season with a 6-4 record. The B-team took a second-place tie with Garland behind district champ North Garland.

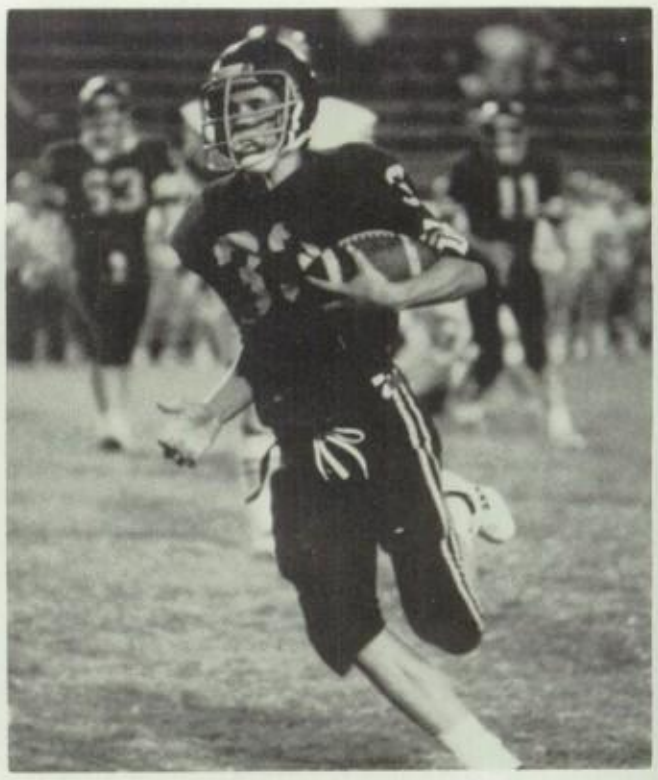
Lake Highlands was the opening game as the Scots caged the Wildcats 14-0. The Scot offense piled up 259 yards total offense and John Ledyard stomped for two touchdowns. Fumbles were the downfall of the JV Scots as they fell to the Arlington Colts 32-22. Tom Burson led the rushing onslaught of 346 yards with 212 yards, but the Scots lost 7 of 8 fumbles.

The Scots dropped the next game to the Irving MacArthur Cardinals 19-14. Again Burson was the spark plug of the offense with 204 yards rushing. A 29-8 victory over the Bishop Lynch Friars, highlighted by Alex Miller's three interceptions, set the Scots at 2-2 going into district play.

Opening district play with a tough loss to Sourth Garland, the Scots took their first district win in a 47-24 thrashing of the Mesquite Skeeters. The offense showed muscle and ran up 568 total yards of offense, showcased by Burson and Ledyard combining for 371 yards rushing. The Scots then clipped the Wilmer-Hutchins Eagles, 18-12. The big play was a 27-yard pass from Eddie Coker to Pat Spillman for a touchdown.

Supplying what JV Coach Cecil Holmes said was the most satisfying victory of the year, the Scots corralled the Stallions of North Mesquite 40-14. Rolling along, the gold machine ran over the Garland Owls 42-6 with Mike McGee leading the team with 121 yards. Playing against North Garland for the co-championship, the Scots dropped a tough 19-12 decision paced by Alex Miller's 82-yard opening kickoff return for a TD.

For oustanding play on the JV, many Scots were moved up to the varsity to reinforce the Varsity Scots. Tom Burson paced the Scots in rushing before stepping up to the Varsity squad. Other outstanding players were quarterback Eddie Coker, running back John Ledyard, and safety Alex Miller.



Paydirt this way: Tom Burson (33) heads for a quick six points over the goal line.

Freshmen footballers capture co-title, ending year with 7-2

Freshmen showed outstanding efforts as they captured a 7-2 season record.

The young Scots opened up the year by defeating Gainesville. Jeff Berry's 45-yard pass to Tom Summers was the first TD and a 81-yard dash by Manning Shannon put them on top 28-18. Other outstanding players were Kit Case, Mike Crow, and Eddie Snyder. In the following game the frosh conquered Irving 36-16.

North Mesquite's White team held the Scot Machine for a 14-7 upset. In the two following games, freshmen showed their talent as they crushed Mesquite White and West Mesquite with scores of 35-7 and. In the game against Mesquite White, Shannon had a 45-yard touchdown. Glenn Watson's 48-yard touchdown scamper led to the victory. The game was highlighted by the long breakaway plays.

In a duel with Wilmer-Hutchins the frosh defense controlled the Eagles and won with a 12-0 shutout. Mesquite's Maroon team fell to the Scots, 27-12. In a hard fought battle the freshmen also mastered North Mesquite's Blue squad 7-6.

Matched with North Mesquite for the district championship, the young Scots' efforts ended with a 15-14 loss.

Basketballers finish season with 27 wins

Building up a 27-4 season record, the Varsity Basketball team won recognition from the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches as number ten in the state, three-quarters of the way through the season.

The Scots tied Wilmer-Hutchins and Garland in the first half of district but Wilmer-Hutchins won the second half and captured the district title.

This year's team, one of the best in Highland Park history, was led by Coach Bo Snowden. The fast break style offense churned out an average of 79.9 points a game.

Captains Billy Allen and Kevin Slaughter averaged 25.9 and 16.2 points per game respectively. Kirk Patterson led the team in blocked shots with 79 for the season.

Take it to the hoop: Billy Allen befuddles a defender with his moves.

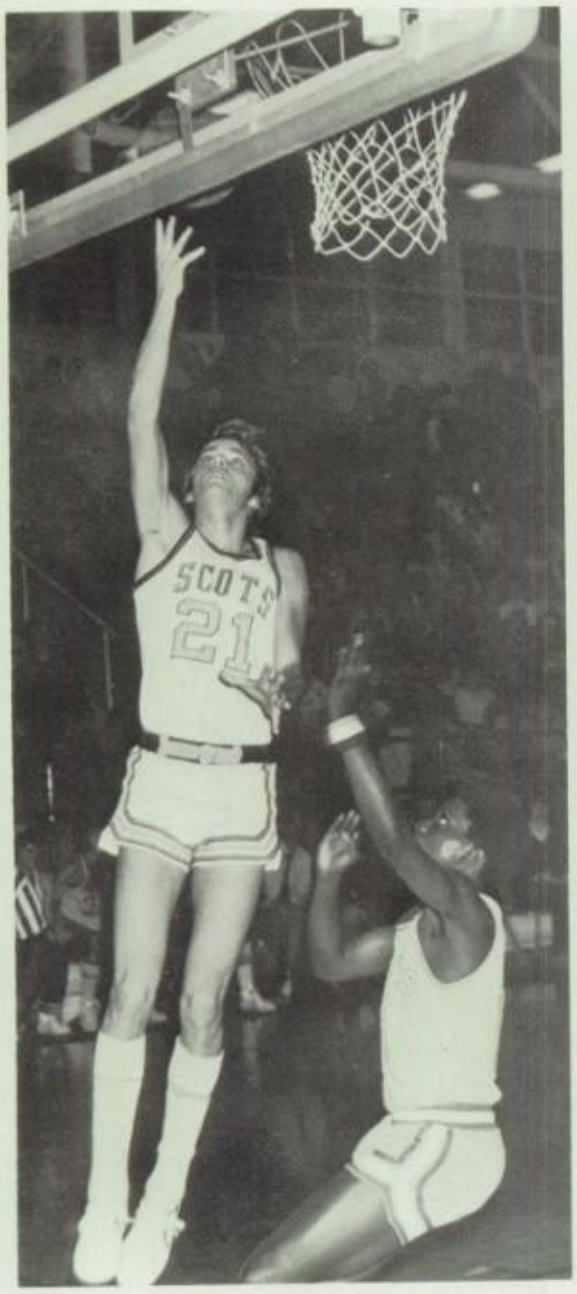
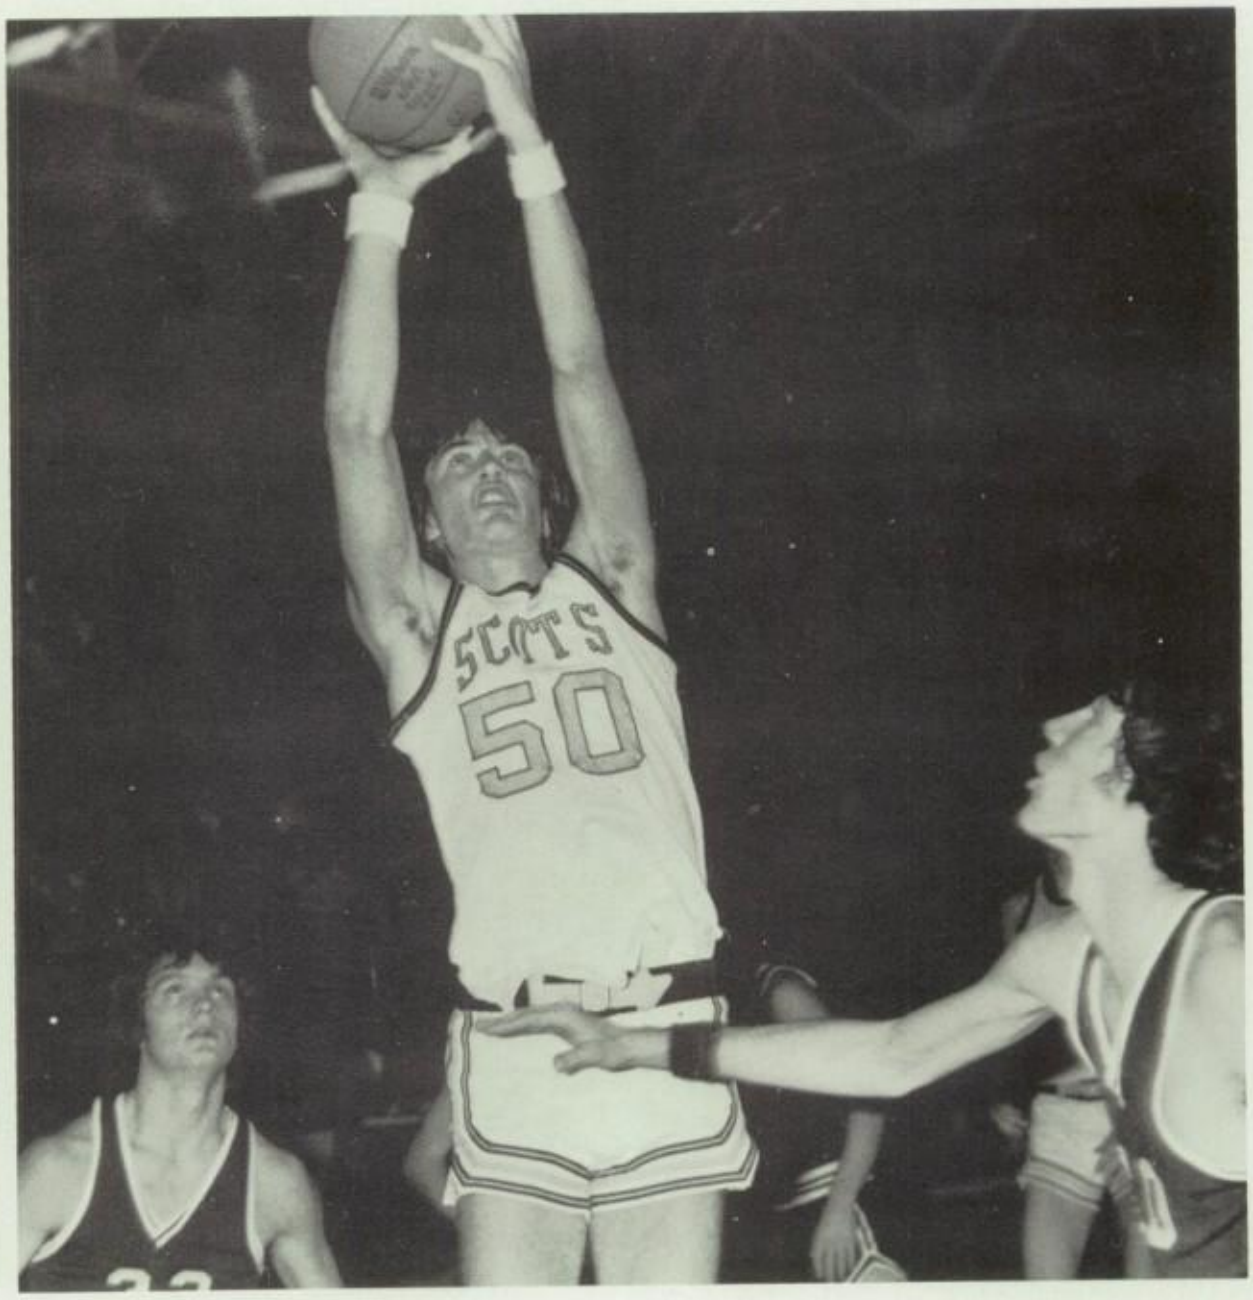
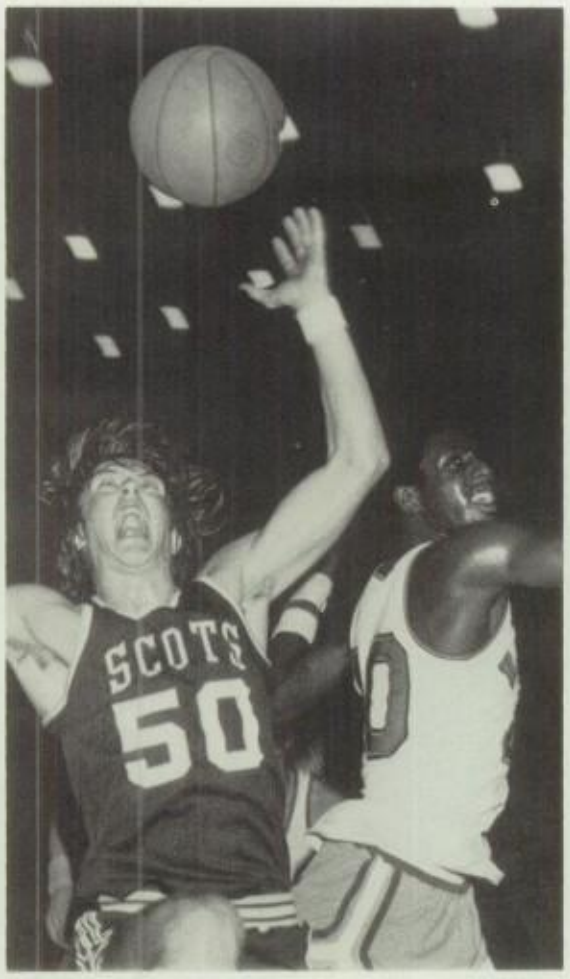
CAPTAINS: Kevin Slaughter, Coach Bo Snowden, and Billy Allen.

Shoot for two: Senior postman Leo Didway skies over defenders to chalk up two points.







Jump ball: Leo Didway fiercely outjumps his opponent for the ball.

Safe!: Jeff Barnes slides after the ball against the Wilmer-Hutchins Eagles.

Fast break: Kevin Slaughter goes up perfectly for an uncontested lay-up.

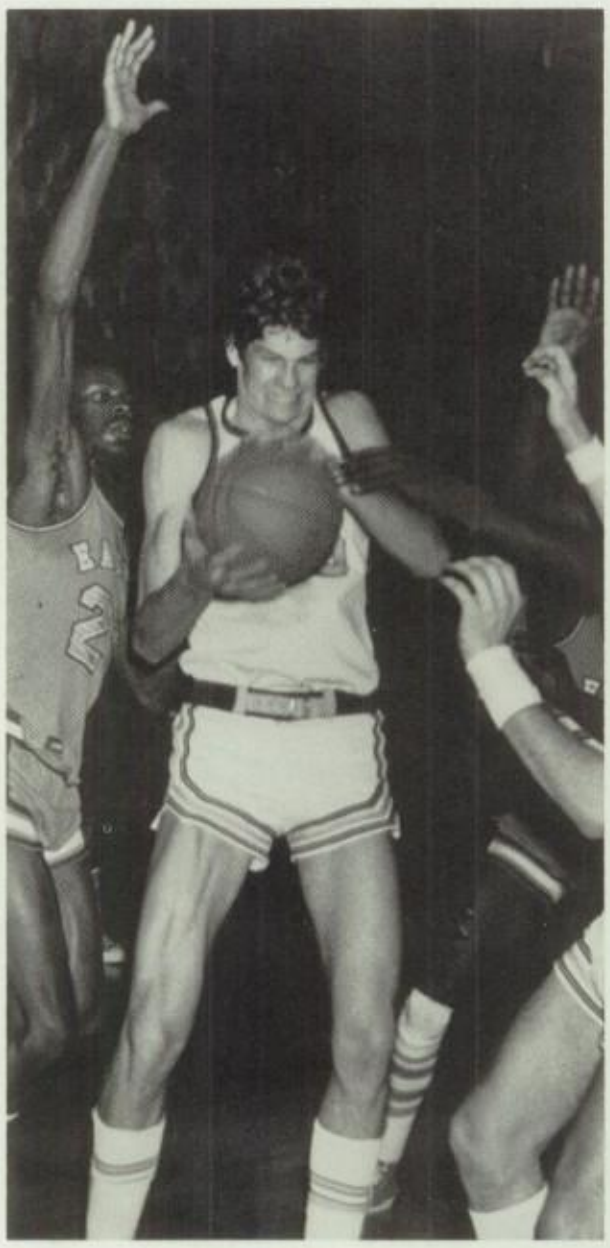
Scots clobber Garland twice during season

A tough Wilmer-Hutchins team pinned two of the four losses on the Scots in district play. Garland fell by the wayside twice, at home in a 92-71 romp where Billy Allen scored a career high of 44 points.

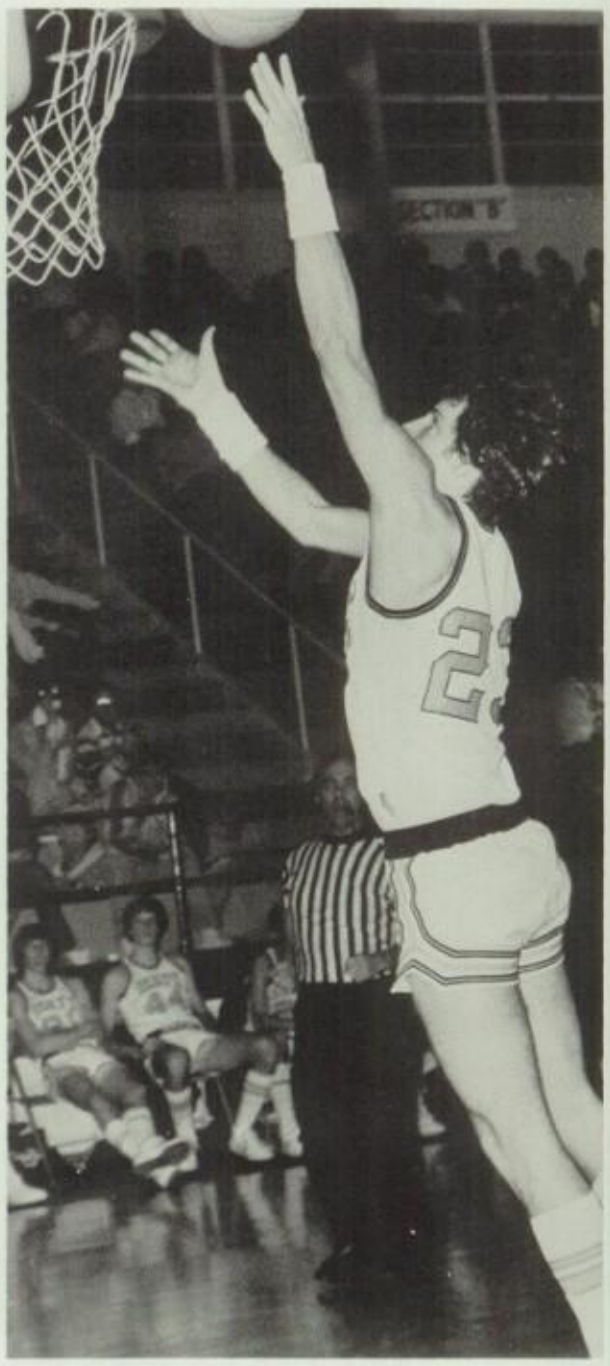
Considered by many sportswriters and college coaches, Billy Allen received numerous college scholarship offers.

The "Running Scots" lost to Austin Reagan in the third round of the Austin Invitational Tournament, but captured the Scot Classic title. In the Dr. Pepper Tournament the Scots lost a heartbreaker in the third round to South Oak Cliff 78-76. A SOC player hit a shot at the buzzer to win.

Twice Highlander Field House was packed to the ceiling, against Wilmer-Hutchins and Garland. Student support was at its strongest with a band of loyal followers at all the games.



True grit: Kirk Patterson grimaces with determination as he holds onto a rebound.



Sky high: Billy Allen soars above Eagle defenders en route to the hoop.
Lay it in: Jeff Chalk stretches over Wilmer-Hutchins defenders for two points.

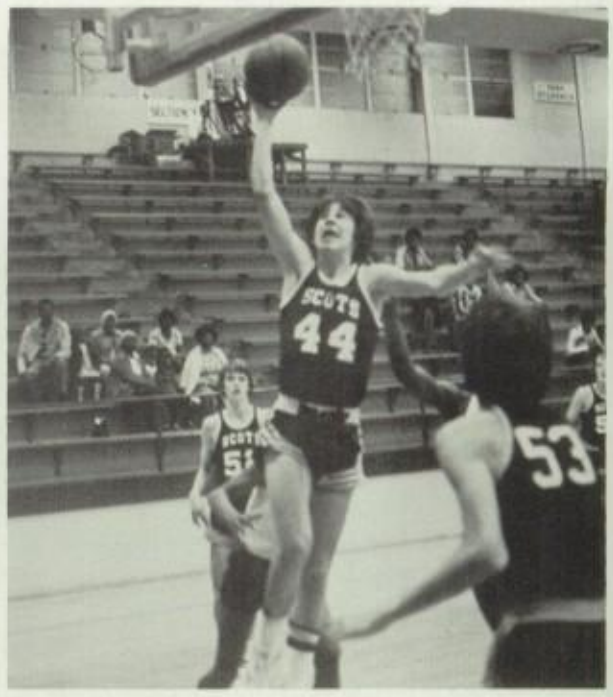
Scot roundballers place second, finish with 21-9 season record

B-Team Roundballers rolled up an impressive 21-9 season record and a respectable 7-5 district mark under the direction of Coach Tom Shelton.

Relying on quickness, instead of size, the young Scots boasted a 66 point average per game. They proved to be an exciting ball club as six games were decided by one point. Two of these came against Lake Highlands, as Highland Park split victories with the Wildcats.

Larry Showalter led the team, shooting for an average of 14 points a game. Inside, postman John Briggs was an asset for the Varsity ranks with eight games remaining on the season's schedule.

Guided by Coach John Covin, the freshman Blue team compiled an 18-5 season record and won first place in the R. L. Turner and Highland Park Tournaments. Coach Dave Emler directed the attack for the Gold team, which achieved a 16-6 mark. The two teams clashed three times in intra-school combat with the Blue team winning two games and the Gold team one game.



Bank shot: B-teamer Scott Cannon (44) uses the backboard for a basket.

Cinderwomen make it to state; tracksters receive sixth place

Cross Country winners got a down-to-earth view of the local neighborhood scenery as they slogged along through mud and traffic for the necessary miles of preparation before competitive meets.

Erin Porterfield, Laura Jordan, and Dana Tinkle placed consistently among the top ten runners in girls' cross-country meets throughout the season and were among the competitors in the state cross-country meet in Austin. The girls pulled together and placed in the meet, while Laura individually placed for the second year in a row. The girls qualified for the State meet after placing first in both district and regionals, and placing first in all but one of their pre-district meets.

Mrs. Jane Harrell, the team's coach, and captain Erin Porterfield led the team to this showing.

This last year in 13-AAAA was also profitable for the boys' cross-country team. Coach Jim Mouser's runners lasted through a season of hard work and tough competition.

The team collectively placed first in one meet and second in another although they did not place well enough in district to qualify for the regional meet.

Individually, sophomore Allan Shropshire led the pace throughout the 1977 season, running third in district, and qualifying for regional. After competing in this meet at Vandergriff Park in Arlington, Shropshire was 34th.

Just one more lap: Laura Jordan and Catherine Boren round the curve in the mile run.

TRACK

Season opens with first place against Irving

Opening the season on February 15th against Irving, the girls' track team placed first. Although this was a victory for the Scots, it was considered a practice meet.

In the second meet at Eastern Hills, the leadership of coach Jane Harrell and captains Terry Walker and Erin Porterfield led the tracksters to capture fourth place out of twenty teams.

The 880 and mile relay captured fourth place with times of 1:5, 1.3 and 4:24. Laura Jordan placed first in the 880, breaking the school record with 2:23.6. Catherine Boren got second. In the quarter mile, Kate Cruickshank received a third place with 63.1. Terry Walker placed third in the 200-yard dash with 26.4

The girls attended the district meet April 13-14 at Mesquite.

New facilities, Park A track host HP meets

With the completion of the new track facilities, this year's tracksters had a new beginning.

February 25 opened the season for the HP runners at Mesquite's Invitational. Captains John Turner and David Bradley and coach Jim Mouser led the team in workouts and meets.

Tommy Reynolds, John Turner, Steve Rogers, and Alex Miller ran both the mile and 440 relay. In the 440 relay they placed fourth with a time of 44.6 Richard Neeley placed first in the shot with a throw of 52 feet 10¾ inches. Rusty Rice placed sixth in the shot. John Porter jumped 5 feet 10 inches to capture fifth. David Bradley placed sixth in the hurdles with 42.8. John Guffy ran a 2:08.5 880 and Turner placed fifth with a time of 10.1 in the 100-yard dash.

The district meet was held the 2nd of April.

The freshman tracksters were coached by Mr. Anthony Waters.

Small ballers win scrimmages; winter snow causes late start

Opening the 1978 season with scrimmages against Jesuit and Richardson Pierce, the Scots defeated the Rangers 14-8 and the Mustangs 10-5.

With eight returning lettermen, including senior co-captains Frank Hundley and Jeff Patterson, the smallballers displayed hustle and aggressive batting in their pre-season competition. Offensely, the Scots were led by Hundley, who had three hits against Jesuit, and by senior Mike Sandifer who hit a two-run triple in the Pierce scrimmage. Also, Patterson and senior Rick Herrscher handled the bat well.

Seniors Buck Wooley and Bruce Stockard, along with junior Jamie Stockard, handled most of the mound chores. Wooley pitched six scoreless innings in both scrimmages while Bruce Stockard fanned five batters in a row. Defensively for the Scots, senior Mike Mott and junior John Heal showed a steady glove. New recruits Larry Showalter, Andy Nastri and Rob Moerschell also played well.

Because of this year's snowy weather, the Scots were forced indoors for several practices and were unable to improve fielding and batting skills. This lack of practice was evident as Highland Park dropped their season opener to Lake Highlands 11-0. Even though Scot pitchers allowed just five hits, the Wildcats were able to score runs on several key errors. Even with a late start, head coach Cecil Holmes was pleased with his team's performance in scrimmages and was optimistic about the Scots chances in district play.

The "B" team, under the direction of coach Orvil Jones, played a similar schedule of practices and games. The young Scots beat Garland 16-14 and tied North Mesquite 2-2 before dropping the season opener to Lake Highlands 5-2.

Heavy snowfall delays games; fans keep warm with blankets

Despite cold weather and snow, Scots continued to support the soccer teams by arming themselves with blankets for the games.

The varsity team, with captains Rob Corkran and Jack Denman, won two of their first four games. AFS student Patrick Praaning scored the only goal in the first game against Bryan Adams, which the Scots lost 4-1.

Senior Bill Winslow and juniors Sam Chantillis and Brad Taylor led the Scot comeback against Bishop Lynch with a 3-0 finish, for the first season win.

In the next game Lake Highlands claimed a 2-1 victory over Highland Park. The Scot goal belonged to junior Greg Sanders.

The highlight of the season occurred as the varsity team downed Wilmer Hutchins 8-0. Juniors Mark Hancock and Greg Sander claimed two goals each. Seniors Mark Berry, Bill Winslow, and Ben Thorpe, along with junior Brad Taylor, scored the remaining goals.

The Junior Varsity Scots won two and tied one of their first three games. JV captains for this year were Eddie Bowden and Trey Angel.

Girls organize soccer team in novice year

Coach Debbie Holder guided the newly-formed team of 33 Scots. Only seven girls had previous soccer experience as they had played with the Dallas Chamber of Commerce teams. All other teams in District 10-4A had a year's head start since they had formed teams last year.

Because of snow-covered fields in January and February, many pre-season games were cancelled, and district games were postponed. After managing to slip in a make-up game with Garland Lakeview the H.P.girls soccer team took a 4-2 victory. Libby Beall and Ellen Luce split scoring chores equally, with two goals each.

Libby Beall and Paige Nash were captains for the Varsity Soccer team while Nancy Potts and Kim Kelly served as captains for the J-V team.

New coach, tougher work-outs push team to third place standing

Varsity and Junior Varsity volleyballers closed their season 7-8 with a third place standing in district.

With the rising interest in volleyball, first year players and fans had to accustom themselves to the new lingo such as "spikes," "dinks," and "sets."

The Varsity, captained by Tricia Morgan and Carrie Cinatl, opened their season against Hillcrest, losing the first two games 15-5 and 15-9, but won the last game 15-8. This led the Scots to defeat Crandall 17-15 and 15-10, but a lack of strong serves allowed the Colonels to defeat the Varsity 15-6, 15-11. The Scots came back to defeat the Owls 15-8, 15-10, 6-15.

After a defeat by Wilmer-Hutchins 7-15, 14-11, 8-15, the Varsity overpowered North Mesquite 12-14, 15-13, 15-9.

The JV volleyballers lost their first two matches of the season to Hillcrest, 16-18, 8-15 and to Crandall 3-15, 9-15 but they whipped North Mesquite 15-9, 16-18, 15-6 in their last match of the season. Amy Wise and Cindy Maxwell led the JV with Miss Debbie Holder coaching both teams in their last season in District 10-4A.

Carrie Cinatl made the 1977 All-District girls volleyball team and Tricia Morgan received honorable mention. These girls matched the honors gained last year, when the two girls also won all-district listings.

UIL curtails tennis meets for Scot team

Because of a new UIL rule limiting tennis competition to eight tournament days a year, the Scot tennis teams did not participate in any fall tournaments in preparation for a hectic spring schedule. The reason given for the rule change was the spiraling costs of competition.

After-school district matches were scheduled as the Scots vollied and smashed to an unprecedented 33rd straight district title.

This year the Scots did not play in the fall state team Championships, as a conflict in the fall SAT tests knocked out eight players from competition. A round-robin victory over R. L. Turner and Irving MacArthur set the tone for the upcoming winter play.

Over the Christmas holidays, many team members competed in the Cotton Bowl Invitational, one of the largest junior tennis tournaments in the South. Senior Chris Doane and sophomore Talbot Davis made the fianls of the 18-year-old singles and 16-year-old singles respectively.

Tournaments in Garland, Dallas, Wichita Falls and Austin highlighted the spring tourney action as senior boys' captain Shain McCaig and junior girls' captain Jane Johansen led the Scots in daily workouts on the courts, directed by Coach Nancy Duncan.

New lighting, touch timers improve pool

Facelifts and improvements added a welcome new look to the pool area.

New lighting and a new ceiling improved the temperature and humidity control. A modern electric touch timer, which instantly records the time of a swimmer when he touches the side of the pool, was installed during the Christmas holidays.

Scot swimmers entered triangular meets with J. J. Pearce and Lake Highlands and with North Mesquite and Mesquite, taking victories in both boys' and girls' competition.

Six Scot swimmers ventured to San Antonio for the prestigious Texas Interscholastic Swimming Coaches Association meet. Senior co-captain Drew Carson paced the Scots with a third-place finish in the 50-yard freestyle. The annual Highland Park-Richardson Invitational brought more than 300 participants and several Scots placed well as freestyle relays and freestyle swimmers took home first place finishes.

The Scot swimmers readied themselves for the tough regional and state meets under the leadership of boys' co-captains senior Drew Carson and Mark Lowry and girls' captain senior Kathy Bradley. Divers, anchored by senior Jennifer Phillips, dived daily for the important points they won in the swim meets.

Young golfers, lettermen play to defend title

"We are young and inexperienced but have the nucleus for super team," commented head coach Gerald Everett.

With four lettermen returning, the Scot golf team practiced daily at the Dallas Country Club to defend their state crown.

Led by co-captains Tony Varvel and Rob Addington, the golfers competed in two fall tournaments, which prepared them for a long spring schedule climaxing at the State tournament in May.

In their first tournament, the Scot golfers took home the first place trophy in the Mesquite Invitational with a 305 total. Junior Rob Addington was low with a 73, which won the low medalist trophy.

Cold November weather hampered the Highland Park Invitational tournament, but the Scots nailed down a third-place finish with a 318 total. Rob Addington's 77, Teddy Nash's 79, and Spence Kendrick's 81 paced the team.

A blustery February day brought the Scots to Squaw Creek Country Club for the Western Hill Invitational Tournament. The Scots took home a fifth-place finish out of 32 teams with a 324 total. Ted Nash led with a 78.

Girl swingers take step up early in year

Girl golfers took a step forward this year with high finishes in several autumn tournaments.

On a cold December day, senior Blythe Buddendorf led the team to a second-place finish in the Highland Park Invitational. In an earlier tourney hosted by R. L. Turner at Brookhaven, Blythe Buddendorf and Elizabeth Bradley paced the team to another second-place finish. Sophomore Laura Allison played consistent rounds to add to the team score in both of these tourneys.

With the team's increase from five to six players this year, the girls worked towards a high finish in the district and regional tournaments in April. Making a good contribution in every tourney and rounding out the team were senior Margie Presley, and juniors Carol Meek and Kaki Roach.

Middle School physical education teacher Gerald Everett coached the girls as they prepared for several tourneys in March and April before the district and regional tournaments.

Team members vie for titles in intramurals

In spite of the scholastic schedule, many students took part in after school activities, with basketball and ping-pong intramurals among the favorites.

As an experiment, co-ed ping-pong intramurals began in the fall. Physical education teacher, Mrs. Gynne Manson, set up a single-elimination ping-pong tournament. Many students entered the two divisions — Freshmen-Sophomore and Junior-Senior. Expert ping-pongers Nam Dang and Kate Strohmayer were winners of the Freshmen-Sophomore division. Junior-Sophomore winners were Shain McCaig and Susan Swanson.

Team effort was the key to success in basketball intramurals. Lynn Hankinson's and Jennifer Phillips' teams won the round-robin tournament.

New tumblers learn flip-flops in gymnastics

Gymnastics and outdoor education courses expanded the P.E. program this year. Both classes could be taken as electives for grades 10, 11, and 12.

The projected date for the new gym which was started in the spring of 1977, was early spring of 1978. The gymnastics program included activities on the floor, the balance beam, and various parallel beams. New faculty member Mr. Dennis Thornton was hired to coach the new program. Outdoor education included study of ecology, conservation, water safety, boating, wildlife, and other various activities.

A number of innovative physical education courses were offered this year to students. Cardiovascular fitness and aerobic conditioning, fundamental team sports, and acquatics were among the required classes for first year students. Some of the electives included in the program were tournament play and theory, and team sports, which involved basketball, volleyball, and softball. Racquet sports, tennis play, and weight training and conditioning were also offered.

SC Committee revises old dress code

During the week before school opened, Louis Hexter, Mimi Bergerac, Howard McClure, Ken Luce, and John Bateman demonstrated their zeal to work for the Student Council as they spent two days painting their new office and moving furniture into it.

Blue and gold stripes highlighted the new Student Council headquarters, which was relocated in the old Speech office because of the contruction in the school. Later, however, the Council members learned that the arrangement was temporary and that the office would again be moved in the spring.

The traditional Howdy Dance opened the year of Student Council-sponsored activities as freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors assembled in the girls' gym to "get acquainted" following the Lake Highlands football game. At the dance, President Louis Hexter and Senior Representative Ken Murchison announced the friendliest girl and boy from each grade. The Executive Committees of Hi-Lites and the Student Council elected freshmen Mary Adams and Manning Shannon; sophomores Sue Holmes and Juddy Francis; juniors Amy Beall and Arvin Combs; and seniors Ruth Hooker and Tommy Gile. Winners of the Super Scot Spy contest on each grade level received vouchers for dinners in exotic restaurants.

In the following weeks, Charlotte Moore, Ken Murchison, Annabelle Stone, and Ty Snelling worked hard with other Student Council members in preparation for the Homecoming dance, which had as its theme the song "Souvenirs," by Dan Fogelberg. The band "Gunpoint," hired from Austin, provided the music for the dance where Jill Wilson was crowned Homecoming Queen.

President Louis Hexter appointed six seniors to become members of the Executive Committee, and the Student Council approved the appointments early in the fall. The appointees, Betsy Booziotis, Jack Denman, Marilyn Hardy, Stuart Miller, Simone Myers, and Tori Thomas, joined the elected officers in heading the Student Council committees.

Vice-President Howard McClure and Stuart Miller took charge of the Highland Park Improvement committee and succeeded in affecting some significant changes in the dress code. The new code made wearing socks and belts optional, and permitted overalls to be worn with a shirt underneath.

Senior Reps Charlotte Moore and Ken Murchison led the Social committee, which organized and decorated for the dances. John Bateman, Jack Denman, and Mike Drinkwater handled the Suggestion Sheet committee and voiced student opinion in morning sessions with assistant principal Ron Geyer. Simone Myers had charge of the Welfare committee and organized the pre-Christmas canned food drive and the First Aid Station Team program.

Chairman of the Devotional committee Tori Thomas saw that the "Thought for the Day" and lunch prayers were given, and Betsy Booziotis joined Marilyn Hardy in working on the Scrapbook committee.

In December, Louis appointed sophomore Steve Forman, juniors Becky Chalk, Camie Rodgers, and Martha Stocks, and seniors Joey French, Julie Holloway, Chris McClelland, and Paul Rush to the Student Court. Annabelle Stone served on the Court as well as serving the Student Council as Parliamentarian.

Co-editors travel to California to attend yearbook conference

Hoping to find refreshing new ideas in yearbooking, co-editors Sherri Hewett and Cissy Hudson attended the week-long Southern California Summer Yearbook Conference, held at the University of California at Irvine.

At the conference, Sherri and Cissy met fellow yearbook editors from around the nation, took classes, had the 1977 Highlander critiqued by professional judges, and found time to visit Disneyland and local beaches.

Prior to this seminar, Cissy and Sherri along with associate co-editors Ginger Bell and Carol MacGregor directed the staff through their first deadline with the Summer Supplement. With the start of the fall semester, the 35 member editorial staff met on Saturdays to work on the more difficult task of compiling the annual itself.

After the record-breaking Highlander sales in 1977, business managers Ruth Ann Hicks and Tammie Thompson came within a percentage point of equalling the old record. Their 30 business staff members, however, topped all previous totals by selling 118 pages of ads by mid-November and having to shut down ad sales on the earliest date in Highlander history. They sold these ads to Dallas businessmen, Highland Park students, and their parents.

The Christmas spirit took hold of Highlander staffers and resulted in gag gifts and poems traded at the Christmas party at Tammie Thompson's house.

After sponsoring the Highlander for 25 years, Miss Diane Cook welcomed a new faculty member, Miss Kathy Carpenter, who joined her as co-sponsor in training to assume the sponsorship. Business assistant Miss Gladys Bradshaw kept track of the money taken in for yearbook and ad sales.

Bagpipe staff stresses features, entertainment, news coverage

"We have striven to cover all the news this year — ranging from our in-depth coverage of school plans, to why movies have been banned in Friday Assemblies," said Barbara Giles, co-editor of The Bagpipe.

Again this year, The Bagpipe received an All-Texas High School Press Association Award for the 1976-77 Bagpipe.

Stuart Miller, co-editor of the feature department with Anne Therese Butler, believed "the feature department of the Bagpipe aimed for diversity." This variety was easily seen in topics which included the rise of teen suicides and the lack of involvement by Highland Park students in school organizations.

The humor section had a new addition, a Satirical column by Wayne Thomas, which was featured in every issue. The co-editors, Barbara Giles and Ben Bell, followed previous years' tradition by alternating in writing an editor's column for each issue. Their columns included such items as a Highland Park Shakespearean society that met in vacant church parking lots and calculus "study" parties.

Anything from the parking situation to the evacuation of the school following a gas leak was covered by the news end of The Bagpipe, headed by Paul Rush.

According to Frances Ellis, co-sports editor with Bob Daniel, "We tried to cover all sports involving Hi Park." The sports section had articles covering a regional football team, a winning basketball team, plus other stories including track, tennis, and swimming.

Business managers Kathy Dugan and Steve LaPrade had the second greatest year financially in Bagpipe history, keeping The Bagpipe down to 25 cents per copy for another year.

The editorial and business staffs of The Bagpipe were aided and supervised by Mrs. Reyburn Myers, journalism teacher and Miss Gladys Bradshaw, business assistant.

Members find current events for discussions

Exploring different views on controversial topics of general concern, Round Table members met twice a month to share the results of their research.

Under the leadership of sponsor Mrs. Sheila Douthit and chairman Patty Ellisor, the 30-member club discussed such issues as the new treaty regarding the Panama Canal and whether the Senate should ratify it, the suicide rate and a person's right to take his life, the materialistic way of American life, whether abortion should be legally available, and the necessity of the ERA movement. Although some discussions became heated because of differences of opinion, the group always explored many angles of the topics.

Round Table members initiated 20 new members at the annual Sunrise Breakfast at White Rock Lake. After cooking breakfast, the club tackled another sticky issue, the traditional marshmallow toss.

Tartan heads enter election for first time

Eager for greater school-wide recognition Tartan Literary Board members sent a request to Dr. E. A. Sigler that the literary magazine be represented on the Publications Board.

In response to their petition, Dr. Sigler appointed a committee of faculty and students to consider the issue. This committee, chaired by Mrs. Kathy Burdett, decided that only if the Tartan chairmen were elected in the general spring elections along with the other publication heads should the Tartan be added to the Publications Board.

As a result of this decision, the Tartan accepted the recommendation and requested inclusion of their candidates on the spring election ballot. The Tartan had also requested inclusion of their staff in the Highlander Hall of Fame, but the committee felt that consideration of this request should be deferred until the Tartan had complied with the election stipulation.

The editorial board was headed by chairman Ciel Albrecht and co-chairman Alicia Lee. Much-needed money was raised by a jazz group, formed by band students, who played during advisory January 6. Letters to prospective patrons also produced contributions to support printing costs. The magazine went on sale at the PTA Open House in March for $3.00.

Mrs. Dorris Warburton sponsored the Literary Board, and art teacher Mr. James Carter supervised the art board. Mrs. Reyburn Myers, journalism teacher, aided with the production side of the magazine.

Leos display bowling styles at tournaments

Selling Halloween candy for the benefit of underprivileged children began a year of charity services for Leo Club members.

Money raised by the Leo Club was donated to different causes suggested to them by representatives of the Dallas Lions Club, Mr. Charles Dexter and Mr. Roger Holmes. This year, a Richardson High School senior, suffering from injuries caused by a boating accident, was the prime recipient.

The 60-member male organization held two bowling tournaments to promote club togetherness and also presented a talent-oriented show called the "Gong Show." Chris Bell acted as Master of Ceremony during the spring assembly and other club members formed a panel that gave the bad acts "the gong."

On a more formal note, the Leos hosted their second annual Leo Club dance at the Dallas City Club March 3. The tuxedo-clad young men and their dates danced to the rock music of "Compass."

Coordinating all Leo Club proceedings, president Bobby Carter was assisted by vice-president John Turner, secretary Wynne Snoots, treasurer Bill Manning, and filling the spot of "tail-twister," Tim Ewing. Tim's main responsibility was to find out about any club members' most ridiculous or embarrassing moments, present them to the club, and cook up an appropriate monetary fine for punishment.

Sponsoring the young Lions for this year were Mr. Denny Day and Mr. Gerald Smith.

Film watching, huddle groups attract athletes

"We've broken the all-time record!" Members of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes sold more of the 25-cent programs this year than ever before at home football games. Profits were used for more movies, tapes, and books for the FCA library.

At biweekly meetings the 150 members split up into huddle groups under the supervision of six senior group leaders to discuss their relationships with Christ.

Additional activities during the year included listening to guest speakers Albert C. Dudley of McCulloch Middle School and John Tolson of Highland Park Presbyterian Church and watching films of the Cowboys and Southwest Conference teams.

At the Spring banquet in May, the new officers were announced.

The 1977-'78 officers were Jeff Chalk, president; Ben Bell, vice-president; Billy Allen, treasurer; and Kevin Slaughter, secretary.

New members step up spirit by sticker sale

With a record membership of 127 juniors and seniors, the Spirit Committee worked hard to bring student body spirit to a peak.

Guiding the group were seniors Missy Triebel, Ronda Nelson, Mike Mott, and sponsor Mrs. Gynne Manson.

Spirit Committee members spent summer days creating slogans and painting signs for use in upcoming games.

Committee members showed their versatility when they made cakes and cookies for a bake sale in August and raised $300. Before football season each member sold at least 15 bumper stickers and raised $400. The dark blue and fluorescent yellow stickers could be spotted on nearly every car in the Park Cities. Proceeds from these fund-raising events bought crepe paper, balloons, and signs to be used for each pep rally.

To be on the Spirit Committee the members had to create a poster supporting Scot spirit and attend all summer workcrews and all assigned workcrews after school. They were expected to keep their grade average above passing and maintain good conduct grades.

Key Clubbers invite leaders for breakfast

Key Club members started the year with some Kevin Hamilton "feature flicks." Kevin, a 1977 graduate, starred in the movies along with his brother, senior Noel Hamilton. These films were noted for their special effects and unusual plots. Key Clubbers hoped to unleash the movies later in the year during a paid assembly for those Scots lucky enough to have a quarter.

In October, the Key Club hosted their annual leadership breakfast featuring the cafeteria's famous pancakes and bacon. Also on hand was guest speaker William Seay, who talked about what it takes to be a leader. Later in the year the club, along with SUNKISSED Tri-Hi-Y, spread the spirit of the Christmas by caroling at the Scottish Rite Hospital.

The annual spring Faculty-Key Club basketball game turned out to be a ball for both players and spectators. The crowd witnessed a dazzling display of wizardry.

No other fund-raising promotions were necessary the rest of the year due because the club budget was well into the black digits. Leadership was provided by president Jeff Barnes, vice-president Robby Teel, and secretary-treasurer Ben Bell.

Senior nominees vie for throne at November Jungle Love bash

Another year with Hi-Lites, the organization for all girls, opened in August with the Big-Little Sister picnic.

The theme for the picnic was "Circus." Bright colored balloons and cardboard animals were among the decorations. Entertainment included songs sung by Bart Irby and Mike Sandifer and a skit by Tim Ewing and Chris Bell. The evening came to an end with the introduction of the cheerleaders and Hi-Lite officers.

The annual Howdy Dance took place after the first home football game in September. Hi-Lites and the Student Council co-sponsored the Western hoedown dance. The friendliest boy and girl of each grade were announced.

At the Mother-Daughter Tea in November, all members of Hi-Lites and their mothers were invited to a tea at the home of Laura Elliott. Officers hoped the large turnout was a sign of good attendance for the upcoming meetings and dances.

Monkeys, trees, and bananas helped to create the image of a safari for the fall dance entitled "Jungle Love." Leo Didway took his place on the throne when announced "King of the Jungle." The tradition of the girls asking the boys, as well as paying for the evening, was upheld.

Entertainment for Thursday meetings offered a variety of things. Volleyball games with team sport captains, improvisations, the Rockwall Band, LD and the Cherry Mountain Choir, and the Dating Game were a few of the programs.

A style show was produced by the officers. The attire modeled included formal and informal clothing.

Smooth talker: Eligible bachelor Steve Rogers catches the eyes of Hi-Lite members with his silky shirt and platform shoes.

Music festival lures winners of UIL prizes

Competition in All-Region and All-State Orchestras and in UIL contests made 1977-1978 a memorable year for the orchestra.

In October, nine orchestra members participated in the All-Region Orchestra in Dallas. In early November, four of the All-Regionalists, Geoffrey Day, Kurt Biehl, Gillian Wilde, and Lise Stallcup, went on to perform in All-State Orchestra in Austin.

In March, orchestra members attended the University Inter-Scholastic League Solo and Ensemble Contest and in April competed in the UIL Concert and Sightreading Contest.

Also in April, under the direction of Mr. Arlington Judefind, the orchestra set the musical background for the presentation of The Unsinkable Molly Brown.

Organized by president Kurt Biehl, vice president Elaine Hampton, secretary Gillian Wilde, state manager Hilary Srere, and historian Alison Wilson, the musicians sponsored a bake sale and a garage sale, earning $50 to finance their trips and performances.

Picnic, dance kick off year for choristers

Winfrey Point at White Rock Lake was the site of the annual Lads and Lassies Choir picnic in September. After an alfresco dinner by the shores of the lake, parents left and members, dates, and chaperones moved indoors to dance to records played by a local disc jockey.

During October, the choir entertained PTA members with a special concert opening the meeting. Mary Christian hosted a Halloween party where members dressed up in their favorite costumes.

The Christmas season proved to be a hectic time with concerts during school hours and performances at night. The choir prepared a selection of Christmas carols to sing at the Junior League Garden Club and the Bankers' Wives Club. Members also teamed up with the orchestra to present a Christmas program at a PTA-Dad's Club meeting.

The choir helped students into the Christmas spirit by serenading in the halls with carols just before school dismissed for the holidays.

Evening practices for the Spring musical Unsinkable Molly Brown began in early January. A majority of the Lads and Lassies members participated in the musical with Lisa McElroy and Steve Biggers holding lead roles.

Choir members who received superior rating in the University Interscholastic League Solo and Ensemble contests in February advanced to state competition in June.

Mike Sandifer entered the North Texas Regional choir competition and won a berth in the all-state choir. He was the highest-ranked tenor in the Dallas area and the only member of Lads and Lassies to advance to the state choir.

The end-of-year banquet was held in May with a dance following dinner and announcement of new officers.

Choir singers seek All-State champion title

Highlandaires choir went coeducational for the first time as 21 members under the leadership of president Ronda Nelson rehearsed, performed, competed in contests, and relaxed at parties.

Weekend and after-school rehearsals led to UIL competition and All-Region and All-State choir auditions. Choir members also attended performances of the Dallas Civic Opera.

The members sold calendars and Christmas gift wrap materials, and held a bake sale to raise money. Part of this money went towards the surprise dinner party at the first of the year and the Christmas carolling party with Revelaires. Highlandaires singers also planned to take part in the spring musical The Unsinkable Molly Brown.

Paige McDaniel, vice-president; Cynthia Jones, secretary; Kris Beck, treasurer; Diane Peabody, librarian; Nancy Morgan, librarian; and Charlotte Calhoun, historian served as choir officers.

Choir provides holiday cheer with caroling

For the first time Revelaires became an all-girl choir. Although there was initially some doubt about the success of the change, things worked out well and the girls began to practice with the other choirs for a performance at the P-TA open house late in September.

Preparations for the musical The Unsinkable Molly Brown began in October, with final auditions November 29. In December Highlandaires and Revelaires went caroling together around the Park Cities, and celebrated the holiday season afterwards at Suzanne Farrar's house, with an exchange of gag gifts.

Revelaires also went to University Park Elementary School and sang Christmas carols in the halls.

Along with musical rehearsals during January and February, the girls had to find time to practice for the University Interscholastic League solo and ensemble contest.

Katrina Case headed the choir as president with Susie Hook, secretary, Laura Smith, treasurer, and Alison Williams, historian. Meg O'Connell and Leslie Little were librarians.

Trill trio: Tina Smith, Laura Smith, and Cha Cha Symonds practice for the UIL contest.

OFFICERS: M. O'Connell, A. Williams, B. Burford, K. Case, S. Hook, L. Smith, L. Little.

Holiday munch-out: Leslie Little stuffs her face as Suzanne Farrar looks on in disbelief.

Band boasts of big awards in competition

For the ninth consecutive year, the Highlander Band received a division rating at the UIL marching contest in Mesquite.

The Highlander Band competed in other area contests and performed in a Scottish festival in Salado on November 12 and 13. The Scots also received a second-division rating in the Hurst-Euless-Bedford Bell H.S. marching contest in early November.

Band members, Burns Cooper, Sarah Pierce, Craig Arps, and Jim Martin, who attended the All-Region contest in Richardson received awards for outstanding performances at the contest. Freshman Hilary Jordan won first-chair trumpet position in the Junior High All-Region Band.

The Stage Band entertained basketball supporters, and the Boogie Brigade provided entertainment for pep rallies as well as a few special engagements outside school.

An October garage sale and bake sale raised more than $500 to help finance the Christmas Band Dance, the theme of which was "A White Christmas," and also helped pay for the annual Spring Banquet in April.

Officers included president Craig Arps, along with vice-president Hank Rather, secretary Kathy Dugan, treasurer Tim Morse, social chairperson Sarah Pierce, equipment manager Jim Pike, and his assistant manager Davis Collier, librarian Jill Bailey and Blake Ogden publicity historian. Kevin Kelly was drum major, assisted by David Mobley.

Bag of wind: Angela Jordan, Ellen Burke, Susan Swarner, and Amanda Roberts practice piping for an upcoming game.

Watch out below: Gina Wheeler cautiously dances on the drum while ROTC members support her at half-time in Texas Stadium.

Pipers practice new routines, perform old Scottish dances

Well-known for their talents and success in past years, the bagpipe section of the band, better known as the Lassies, was invited to participate in more outside performances than ever before.

Clad in traditional Scottish attire, the Lassies supported the Scots at football games with their authentic Scottish dance called "Strathspey."

During workshops in the summer the upperclassmen pipers taught dance steps to the five new members. The girls also took piping lessons at the high school during the summer.

The Lassies performed in private competitions in Dallas, Salado, and Waco. Lori Ann Winston and Colleen Sweeney competed regularly in dance contests. Cathy Hay, Susan Swarner, and Ellen Burke competed in piping and together won first, second, and third medals for their talents.

Lassie officers were Commander Patty Ellisor, Pipe Major Blair Berry, Pipe Sergeants Susan Swarner and Cathy Hay, and co-dance Majors Gina Wheeler and Lori Ann Winston.

Members see foreign places in photographs

Travel club members learned of the customs, people, traditions, history and scenery of other countries as well as their native USA in programs presented by members who traveled to some off-beat places.

"Traveling on a budget" was the subject of Hunt Blair's program. Hunt walked and hitchhiked across the country to California, cooking his own food and sleeping under the stars. He showed the club the backpack, little stove, and sleeping bag which were the essential provision for his hike.

Rob Swann, also an adventurer, showed slides of his backpacking trip across part of the Appalachian Trail that stretches from Georgia to Maine. The most enjoyable part of the trip for Rob was meeting and making the friendships that resulted as he met other hikers along the trail and hiked with them for several days.

Jon Aills and his family spent two months in California last summer. Jon showed pictures of San Francisco and Palm Beach and other scenic views of California and described places of interest, such as Fisherman's Wharf, Alcatraz, and Carmel-by-the-sea.

Membership nearly tripled this year. The club used the money from dues to buy AFS bonds and make donations to CARE. Some of the money was used for a end of the year dinner at a local restaurant.

Dramatics club attracts actors, presents skits

Thespians increased their ranks to 230 members this year, meeting biweekly under the supervision of sponsors Mrs. Linda Raya and Mrs. Debra Heflich.

Meetings featured impromptu acting, concentration exercises, speakers, duet acting, scenes, and singers. Charlie Helfert, an instructor from SMU, spoke on acting and actors, and Missy Thomas, Dawn Lallier, and Eddie Coker sang contemporary songs such as "The Outlaw" and "A Gambler." President Kathryn Kaufman, vice president Lisa McElroy, secretary-treasurer Susan Cleaver, clerk Shirley Williams, and representatives Hunt Blair and Cindy Maxwell led the meetings. In their first meeting, the officers dressed up in Mickey Mouse Club t-shirts and hats and sang the traditional Mouse Club song to introduce the Thespians "mouse" theme for the year and to welcome the new members.

Thespians hosted banquets in the fall and again in the spring, when the International Thespian members were initiated. Thespians completed the year with a show in which the members who volunteered to participate, acted in scenes and sang for parents, teachers and students.

Local eateries serve as site for gatherings

Students applying for membership in Quill and Scroll were expected to fulfill their requirements. Students must have previously served on a publications staff for at least two trimesters, a publications sponsor had to submit a recommendation for commendable students, and these students must be in the upper third of their class.

New members celebrated their induction with a dinner at a local restaurant in September.

Parties and activities planned for the remainder of the year included a Christmas party, a second dinner scheduled in January, and an end-of-school celebration.

Members of Quill and Scroll elected their officers in September. Paul Rush and Tammie Thompson were voted president and vice-president. Frances Ellis and Sharon Thompson served as secretary and treasurer, under the supervision of sponsor Mrs. Reyburn Myers. In the spring trimester, students submitted applications for admission into Quill and Scroll.

Fund-raisers bring students across border

Popular AFS Carnation Sales on Valentine's Day earned a profit of $2,500 to finance the club's expenses throughout the year.

Students sent their "heart throbs" a fresh carnation at 50 cents each, and a personalized note, delivered during first period classes.

Another highly successful fund-raiser was the annual AFS Talent Show. Missy Thomas and Gary Davison won first place for their song "I Quietly Turn to You." Leo Didway led the Cherry Mountain Choir — Rusty Perry, Tommy Gile, Ricky Kumpf, and Ken Murchison — to the tune of "sentimental Journey." Also, as a money raising project, club members sold AFS Friendship Bonds at the October P-TA Open House.

Patrick Praaning arrived in mid-August from Weesp, Holland, and lived with Tripp Stuart during his stay. Avecita Chicchon, from Lima, Peru, arrived in early September, and stayed with Lise Stallcup throughout the school year.

In November, AFS hosted International Day. Eight exchange students, who were living throughout the metroplex and attending other schools, visited Highland Park, looked in on classes, and attended a party given by the AFS club.

Patrick Praaning and Avecita Chicchon concluded the year by giving their impressions of life in the U.S. to an all school assembly in April. Both Patrick and Avecita mentioned their initial dislike of their first football game, but added that they began to enjoy the sport more as they learned the rules and reasoning behind the game.

President Marilyn Hardy, vice president Karen Johnson, secretary Tori Thomas, and historian Sarah Pierce led the AFS group throughout the year with advice from sponsors Mrs. LaRell Bissett and Mrs. Pamela Bush.

Ghost house, dance contest provide funds

"Raising money for those who need help is a very rewarding opportunity," concluded vice president Laurie Christner as Youth Against Dystrophy members kept themselves busy with fundraising programs.

For Halloween, members set up a haunted house on Swiss Ave., open to any brave child. The club raised $3000 selling tickets to the spooky attraction.

YAD's members got in shape for the dance marathon February 24 and 25, hosted by Lake Highlands High School. The dancers, sponsored by friends, swung around for 30 hours with 45 minute breaks every 2 hours. Proceeds earned from each sponsor were donated to the Muscular Dystrophy Association. During the marathon, Dallas Cowboy players and cheerleaders came to watch in disbelief. As an incentive to keep dancing, entrants were serenaded by live bands and had the privilege of throwing pies at each other.

In March, YAD's sold shamrocks at 25¢ each in honor of St. Patrick's Day. Answering telephones became the job of members helping out with the Jerry Lewis Telethon in September.

Mrs. B. Farris sponsored the club, organizing the activities with help from president Leslie Dehay, vice president Laurie Christner, secretary Lois Mitchell, and treasurer Alison Wilson.

Students win highest award in competition

Winning the highest award of Outstanding Girl and Boy of the Year at the Area Youth Leadership Conference in Irving were DECA members Jill Johnson and Craig Kelly. The winners of the area competition February 4 travelled to San Antonio for the state competition in March.

Distributive Education Clubs of America attracted career-minded students because of the benefits of on-the-job experience at an approved training station. Mrs. Nita Chandler, DECA sponsor, helped students with any problems encountered on the job. Students worked at local clothing stores, gift shops, and offices.

At the Christmas style show hosted by DECA on December 16, members donated the $130 proceeds to Christmas Seals. Members also sponsored and profited from the DECA-deli set up in the school cafeteria during the November speech tournament, providing refreshments for competitors and judges.

The DECA officers that led the group in its activities were president Craig Kelly; vice-president Diane Valentino; secretary Helen McKinney; treasurer Marie LeCroy; reporter-photographers Laurie Summers and Sherry Graham; and parliamentarians Lisa McGrew and Howard McClure.

Astronomy Club observes stars at spring party

"Star light, star bright . . ." Astronomy Club members, gazing at the universe enjoyed an outdoor starlit dinner at their annual spring party at Goar Park.

During bi-monthly advisory meetings, members of the five-year-old club met in the planetarium to observe the positions and movements of the constellations.

Physics teacher Mr. Donald O'Quinn explained the different methods of photographing the stars at one of the star-studiers' meetings.

The astronomers organized and presented a special effects show to the student body in March. Visiting the planetarium at St. Mark's school was a special treat which gave the club the chance to view the heavens in a different dome.

Construction hampers plans of biologists

"Due to construction at the High School the club is more or less encapsulated," commented sponsor Mrs. Ethyl Forman about the lack of productivity displayed by the Biology club.

The club's aim, to unite those interested in biology and enhance the environment of the school, was hampered because of the scraps and rubbish left around by the working crew.

President and vice-president Sam Wynn and Holly Hawkins, along with secretary and treasurer Lisa Radford and Bonnie Peters led the group on field trips to the Heard Biological Museum in McKinney and a couple of campouts during nice weather.

The club sponsored a program of NASA space films to raise money for the improvement of the school's public address system. The club's future plans included training students in first aid for a school disaster corps should a fire, tornado or other situation occur.

Serious contemplation: Finding kidney stones is a skill for Russell Power, Scott Farrar, and Holly Hawkins.

Club members take canoeing, hunting trips

Watching Jacques Cousteau movies, hunting on weekends, and canoeing in the spring, completed the activities for the Field and Stream Club.

In November, David Brower, John Desco, and Clayton Rote went quail hunting at David's ranch in Crystal City. David and Clayton shot their limit, but fooled by the birds, John went home empty handed.

In December, Bobby Bridwell, Don Patman, Jerry Joiner, Joel Bruner, and David Morgan went to Joel's farm at Lake Lavon. They shot rabbits, raccoons, and frogs.

The 80-member club met every other Wednesday under the leadership of John Parr, president; Don Patman, vice president; John Robertson, treasurer; Mike Bullington, secretary; and Mr. Dave McElwie, sponsor.

The club ended their year with a canoeing trip in South Texas, where they got to use some of the skills learned in the club.

Members work hard problems at club meeting

Dallas Tornado Soccer team members displayed their talent at a Friday assembly co-sponsored by Mu Alpha Theta. The money raised helped to send ten Math Club members to Houston for the State Mu Alpha Theta Convention.

During a fall ceremony newly accepted members were initiated into National Mu Alpha Theta.

At biweekly meetings, members worked and discussed hard math problems in preparation for contests at nearby schools. After spending a year in France, senior David Taubenfeld explained the French math system to the club.

In March, the club sponsored the National Math Exam which was taken by 220 Hi Park students.

President Jim Martin, vice-president Jeff Chalk, secretary Kurt Biehl, and treasurer Neil Smiley organized the activities for the club with the help of sponsor Mrs. Gail Watkins.

Guitarists pick, strum to get back in tune

Musically inclined Guitar Club met twice a month, to "pick" and "grin" as each member strummed to his own style of music from Rock to Bach.

After the practice of playing for the club, members showed off their chords and picks at a Friday fund-raising in the spring. All the club members that wanted to do so took part in this presentation.

This club's meetings consisted of many short seminars and mini concert-lectures featuring Rene Martinea, a local Spanish flamenco guitarist, and Bugs Henderson, playing Blues Rock songs.

With their 25 members, the Guitar Club kept in tune under the guidance of Dr. Lawrence Puckett; while president Matt McShane, vice-president Laura Kucher, secretary Ellen Burke, and treasurer John Groth led that group through their planned activities.

French Club tours France through slides

Scrabble in French? Members of the French Club played the Gallic version of the popular word game as well as Bingo and Mille Bornes for fun and additional practice of correct usage of words and tenses.

Other programes at the club's bi-weekly meetings included slides of France. Jim Pike presented a slide presentation of his trip to France two years ago.

Gourmet dishes satisfied the appetites of club members at a special dinner hosted at Maria Pettinger's house. The students were the gourmets who prepared French dishes such as Escargot and Quiche Lorraine with Eclairs for dessert. Members also dined at a restaurant that specializes in crepes.

French teacher Miss Eileen Steensen sponsored the 29-member club. Club officers were president Don Phillips; vice-president Maria Pettinger; program chairman Andrea Kahn; and secretary-treasurer Hilary Srere.

After lessons boy attempts tortilla tactics

Increased interest in the Spanish Club made it necessary to divide the organization into two groups, Spanish "A" and Spanish "B."

Membership for Spanish "A" was restricted to Spanish students currently or formerly enrolled in Level 3, 4, or 5.

Mrs. Elysia Holt and Mrs. Lorna Griffin, club sponsors, directed the group in its activities along with club president David Ede, vice-president Delaney Lancaster, secretary Shannon Rodgers, and treasurer Todd Farrell. The 60-member group met bi-monthly to investigate Latin-American culture in Dallas and to learn more about Spanish food and customs.

Activities ranged from an October outing to Ft. Worth for dinner at a Mexican restaurant to a tortilla-making demonstration presented by a Mexican-American visitor. Spanish clubbers learned the process of hitting and patting the dough to make the popular flat corncakes. Spanish Club members also instituted a tutoring program for lower level students needing extra help before a test or an exam. Spanish students responded well to the added instruction that the clubbers provided.

Members taste Mexican food in Texas style

Spicy enchiladas and real Texas-style chili gave Spanish Club members a warm-up as outdoor temperatures plummeted in the coldest January in Dallas history.

The junior Hispanists gathered at a local restaurant to indulge their appetites with the fiery Texas version of Mexican fare.

AFS student Avecita Chicchon told the club members about her homeland Peru, giving them a background of her country's food, educational programs, and customs.

Meetings on the first and third Wednesdays were under the supervision of sponsors Mrs. Phyllis Giles and Miss Karen Thomas. Officers were president George Poston, vice-president Ken Luce, secretary Spence Kendrick, and treasurer Lex Martin.

German club celebrates fall Novemberfest

Members of the German Club participated in the Novemberfest at the University of Texas in Arlington. The American Novemberfest stems from a celebration called the Oktoberfest, which is held annually in Munich, Germany.

These students competed against 1,800 other German students in cooking, folk dancing, sports, and music. Lydia Wilson won first place in table tennis, Lisa Richards won first place in Level Two Poetry reading, and Brent Peters won second place for piano in classical music.

An annual football game and picnic with the Latin Club was also on the agenda. Visiting local German restaurants provided the club with treats such as weiner schnitzel, sausage, and sauerkraut.

Meetings and activities were provided for the fifty-three German clubbers. During their meetings, on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month, the club enjoyed programs such as World War II films and slides, and history teacher Mr. John Hanscom's speech on German customs.

All members of the German Club must be taking or have taken German. Jeff Bailey served as president; Dale Walter, vice-president; Philip Chalk, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Sylvia McElroy, sponsor.

Chariot races top activities for Latin Club

Roman chariot races topped off activities for SPQR at the regional Latin convention at Irving's MacArthur High School.

Consuls Alicia Lee and Cameron Wiersma; scriba Diane Peabody; quaetor Cathy Emanuelson, along with praetor Karen Johnson and Martha Brabham, escorted the club members to the two-day state convention in San Antonio in March.

Programs and other plans for the year included Helen Harrison's slide presentation of her trip to Rome, a spring soccer game with the German club, and the annual dress-up Roman banquet held at the end of the school year.

Mrs. Sharon H. Herndon was sponsor of the organization.

Cameras catch scenic shots at State Fair

Contrary to popular opinion the State Fair of Texas was not only a fun place to ride roller coasters, eat popcorn and cotton candy and win stuffed animals but also a great place to take pictures.

The Midway provided many photogenic sights caught by the cameras of Photography Club members. In a photo contest held by the club each photographer entered a picture taken at the fair. The entries were judged by audio-visual teacher Mr. Mike Robertson. Sophomore Bill Thau's black-and-white photo and freshman Anne McConnell's color shot were winners of the contest.

Films on photography and teenage movie-making along with hints on making prints and underwater picture taking provided entertainment for members during meetings.

At a Friday assembly in February the Photography Club presented a slide show set to pop music.

Officers were president John Warren, vice-president Bob Schaupp, secretary Anne Nash, treasurer Alan Gahagan, and sponsor Mr. Anthony Waters.

Backgammon claims interest of chess fans

Recognizing the increasing popularity of backgammon, the chess club expanded its interests with the addition of backgammon to the program. This union not only increased the club's variety, but also boosted membership. Drew Carson and Blair Baker helped members to learn the game of backgammon and improve their skills.

Bi-weekly meetings offered time for the chess and backgammon players to practice and prepare for competition against surrounding schools. Jim Martin used his extraordinary skill to teach other members the strategy behind the game of chess.

Interest in chess led some members to obtain membership in the Dallas Chess Club as another outlet for their hobby.

With the revision of the constitution, the Chess and Backgammon Club elections were changed and sub-committees were eliminated, making the club procedure more simplified.

In November, Miss Gladys Bradshaw was elected Chess and Backgammon Queen because of her helpfulness and generosity to all students.

Under the direction of sponsor Mrs. Mary Dillard, officers Drew Carson, president, Steve LaPrade, vice-president, and Frank Webster, secretary/treasurer, organized the competitions and programs for the year.

Fall initiations induct seniors into NHS group

Eleven new members were inducted into the National Honor Society in a candlelighting ceremony October 4 in the small auditorium. President Jeff Chalk, vice-president Cissy Hudson, secretary Julie Jumper, and treasurer Anne Bunten made speeches to the new members and their parents.

The new members were welcomed into the society at a swimming party in the Spring. Mrs. Cloriene Barrett, who has sponsored the local chapter for five years, helped to plan the activities. NHS has been in existence at Highland Park for over 50 years.

Eligibility for membership in NHS required a junior or senior to hold a 7.0 average for three consecutive trimesters and to maintain this average until graduation. Also the student must receive a 7 or better on leadership, service and character ratings from his teachers.

The National Honor Society presented the Blanket Award for outstanding leadership and achievement to one senior girl and one senior boy at the Honors Day assembly in May.

Club members arrange ball, crown queen

As the social branch of the National Defense Cadet Corps, the Saber Club was busy planning the annual Regimental Ball, the biggest event of the year for the military department.

The Ball featured the coronation of the NDCC queen and the presentation of the remaining nominees as princesses. Nominees, chosen and voted on before the dance, were Lori Davis, Robin Kimple, Alice Rice, and Cheryl Richardson. Alice Rice was the winner.

The Regimental Ball, based on the theme "Winter Garden," was scheduled for March 3. NDCC members and their dates danced to the music of "Double Ace."

As a service to the school, members of the Saber Club ran the required monthly fire drills. After deciding when to have a fire drill and where to set up blocks, the members would notify the necessary teachers. During the drill, they observed the general attitude of the students and their reaction to the unexpected blocks. Club members also timed how long it took the students and teachers to clear the building.

Under the leadership of Paul Rush, president; Jackie Owens, vice-president; David Christner, treasurer; and Scott Sturgeon, secretary, the Saber Club also arranged several informal parties. One party was held at David Christner's father's warehouse for a change in atmosphere. The Saber Club also arranged interbattalion football games for the members of the National Defense Cadet Corps.

Noah's ark: Heavy rains in February flood NDCC classrooms.

Get the ball rolling: Saber Club officers Scott Sturgeon, Paul Rush, David Christner, and Jackie Owens plan the Regimental Ball.

Member loss causes ROTC name change

Because enrollment in the military department did not reach the required minimum membership of 100 members, this year a National Defense Cadet Corps unit replaced the ROTC program.

The purpose of the organization, to develop leadership and self-discipline, remained the same, however.

Among the advantages of the new NDCC version of military training were that the department no longer had to spend a lot of time recruiting and that the group was able to receive a Federal inspection honor rating since they did not have to have a required number of cadets. For the mandatory annual inspection, a group of officers from the Third ROTC Region, Ft. Riley, Kansas, visited the Highland Park company in April.

Activities in which members of the NDCC could participate were the Regimental Guard, the boys' drill team, which won the Dallas Metroplex Competition, and the Praetorian Guard, the girls' drill team. The cadets could also join the Rifle team, which set a new school record in shooting. These organizations visited the University of Arkansas and Texas A&M, among other places, for competition. During the year, the three groups accumulated 35 trophies in drill and rifle competition.

For a purely diversionary outing, the corps accepted the invitation of Texas A&M to College Station for the Aggie-SMU game.

The NDCC organization operated under the direction of Colonel Joe Hill with the assistance of his staff, made up of Jeff Montgomery, battalion commander; Alice Rice, executive officer; Paul Rush, adjutant; Jackie Owens, David Christner, and Lori Davis.

I can't believe that we are finally Sr. Stuco!" I'm so excited. Next year is going to be great! I know that you + the Seats will be fantastic + use to victory + be No. 1 in the State!! It will be so cool! Will have one more year in Miss Walter, but she seems to have lightened up some! Not a lot, but a little. I'm sure we'll see you this summer + hope we can get together! Have a great summer + enjoy the warmer hand. See you around.

Love,
Kaki

P.S. Congrats on Captain!!

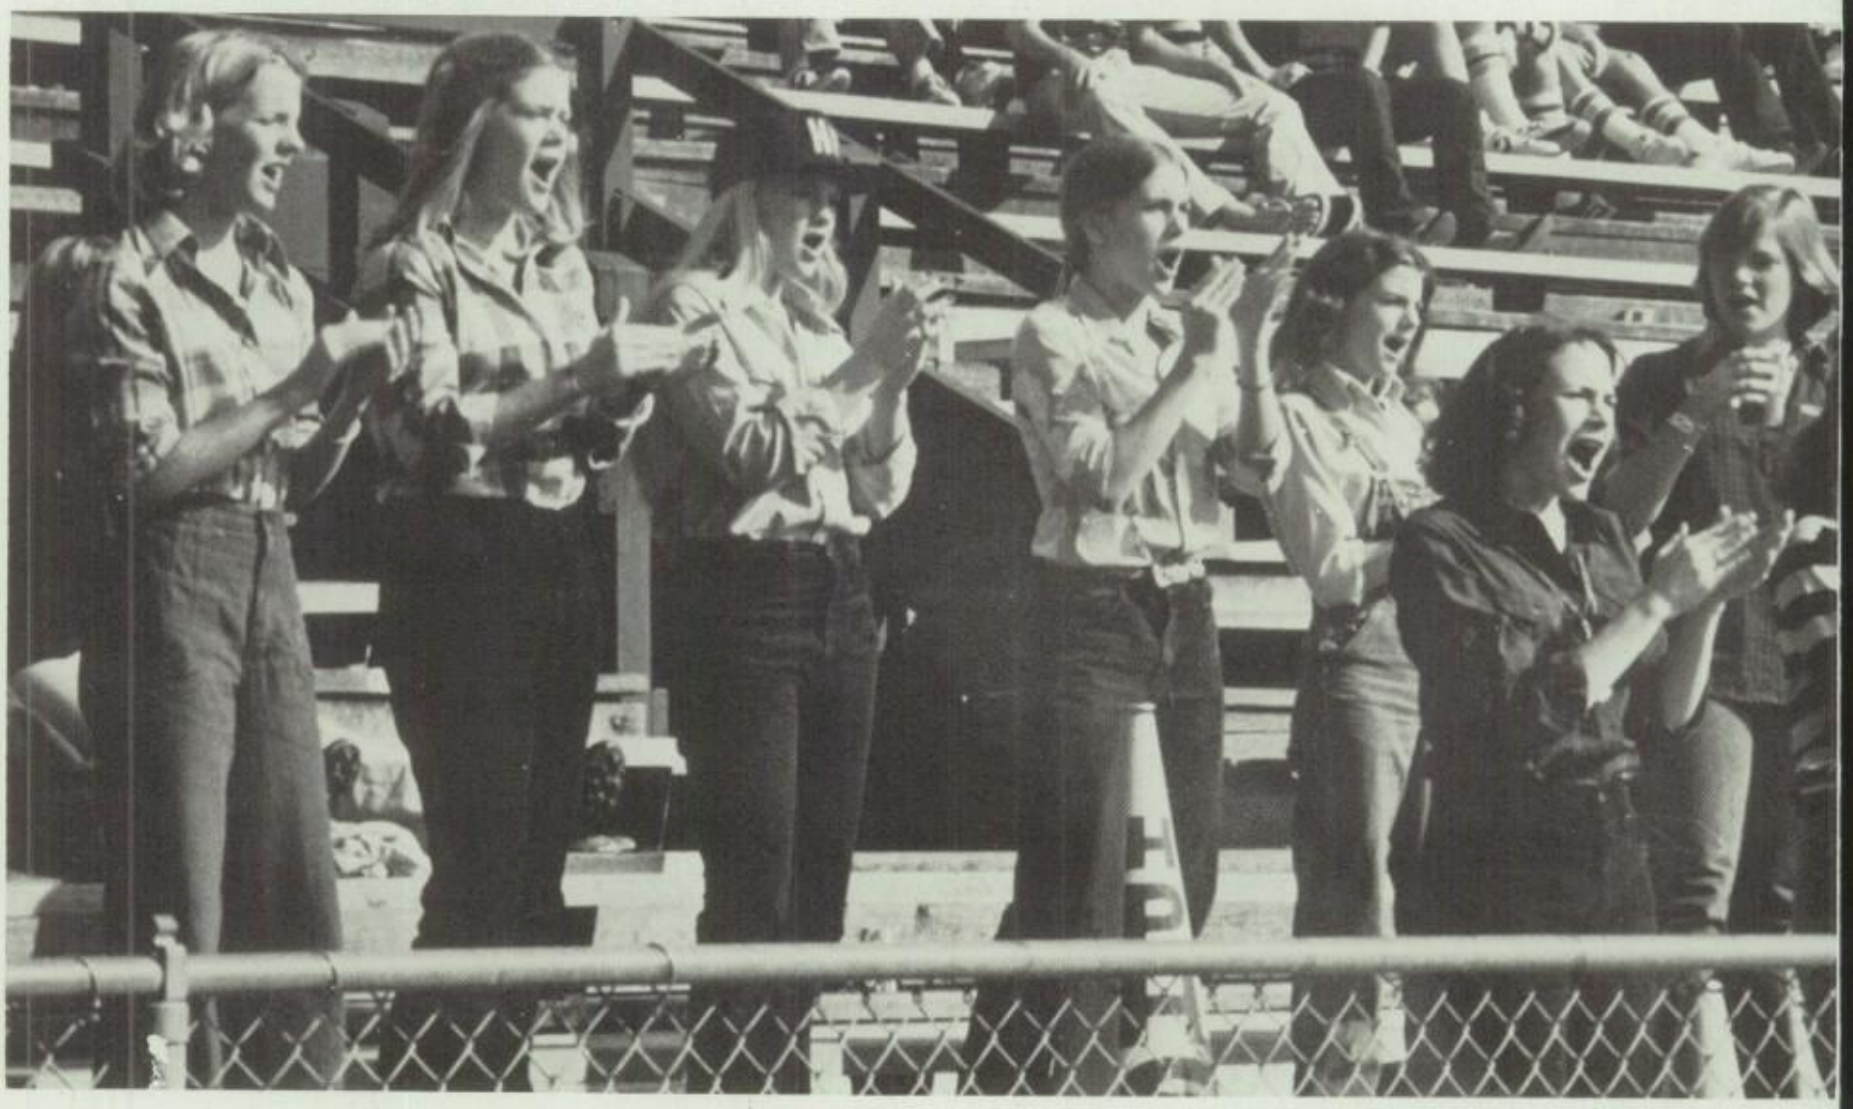
FRESHMEN



Incoming freshmen found enough difficulties just learning their way around the high school without the constructive obstruction of workmen and building materials.

Manning Shannon and Mary Adams, however, easily adjusted to their new environment as they were voted "Friendliest" at the Howdy Dance September 9.

Chris Lallier was busy during Howdy Week seeking clues to the identity of the Super Scot Spy. After locating Julie Jones, Chris was rewarded for his efforts with a dinner for two at a local eatery.

Freshman reps working to bring freshman views to the Student Council were Baron Fain, who worked on the Eligibility committee, and Chris Acton, who helped with publicity.

Spirited freshman cheerleaders spent one week of their summer at the traditional SMU Cheerleading Camp rehearsing cheers and gaining spirit for the freshman class. Cheerleaders Laura Chandler, Stephanie Chantillis, Laurie Collins, Kelley Dodd, Nancy Hill,. Lisa Massey, Lisa Rose, and Margaret Williams left camp satisfied with the spirit sticks they earned for their hard work.

The summer also provided eventful experiences for other freshmen. Caroline Thyssen returned to her native land of Holland to visit friends and relatives for the summer, while classmate Ann Nash spent three months on a tour of neighboring Germany.

Freshman Scots found sunning on exotic beaches were Allyson Wright in Puerto Vallarta, Annette LaRue in the Bahamas, Lisa Turner in Hawaii, and Ellen Carpenter and Margaret Williams in Acapulco. "Homebodies" Stephen Burgher, Ben Sparkman, and Scott Walker had to be satisfied with the local sun while mowing lawns.

Go Scots go: Freshman girls cheer their football players to victory.
Fore: Grayson Gill, Charlie Warren, and Mitchell Cox get into the swing of things.

SOPHOMORES

Cool rat hair cuts, traditional dance begin sophs' year

To celebrate the end of their freshman year in high school, sophomores spent their summer in high style.

Twelve members of the class of 366 sang their way through Europe with the Highland Park Presbyterian Church Crusader Choir, while other sophomores soaked up the sun at Padre Island, took off to their favorite summer camp, or simply enjoyed those "lazy, hazy, crazy" days of summer right here in Dallas.

Despite destruction and construction within the school, sophomores began the year with a bang. Howdy Week found the sophomore Super Scot Spy lurking beneath the mask of Rusty Ross. Mallory Petty, however, discovered his true identity and thus won a dinner for two at a local pizza restaurant. Sue Holmes and Juddie Francis were honored by being chosen as the friendliest sophomores at the Howdy Dance.

B-team cheerleaders Liz Feld, Lisa McMurray, Adrienne Macatee, Mallory Petty, Phyllis Sreenan, and Kathy Wideman boosted sophomore spirit while B-team footballers attempted to accelerate the growth of their cool "rat" hair cuts.

Sophomores were especially proud of Lance McIlhenny, who served as starting quarterback and solitary sophomore on the Varsity Football team. Other sophomore jocks performed on the swimming, volleyball, soccer, baseball, basketball, and golf teams.

Ty Snelling and David Davis represented the 366 tenth grade students on the Student Council. Ellen Eisenlohr served on the Highlander editorial staff, while Ellen Wiggins and Ann Aston sold ads for the business staff.

JUNIORS

Construction clatter makes music to ears of hardworking Juniors

Throughout class periods juniors struggled to remain attentive and alert while the constant banging and clattering of construction wafted through the windows, walls, and woodwork in every room.

The traditional Howdy Dance held after the first home game helped enthusiastic juniors get the year off to a good start. Surprised eleventh graders Amy Beall and Arvin Combs were selected as "Friendliest" in the class. Paige Nash was awarded dinner for two at a local restaurant for discovering the identity of Super Scot Spy Dawn Lallier.

Mike Drinkwater, co-chairman of the suggestion sheet committee, and Ken Luce, chairman of the bus caravan committee, represented the junior class on the Student Council. Junior class officers Rob Addington, president; Carol MacGregor, vice-president; Brenda Francis, secretary; and Mary Bullington, treasurer were elected in December to help organize the Junior-Senior Prom.

Fifty-eight junior Spirit Committee members helped cheer on their Varsity football and basketball players during an intense season.

Junior girls showed a growing interest in women's sports by forming part of the new girls' soccer team.

Highlander associate co-editors Ginger Bell and Carol MacGregor aided in the production of the yearbook with the help of 17 junior staff members. The Bagpipe staff also accepted 17 juniors to help with writing articles and selling ads for the biweekly publication.

One-year contract: Junior class officers Carol MacGregor, Rob Addington, Brenda Francis, and Mary Bullington get together to begin construction on the Junior-Senior Prom.
Ready, aim, fire: Arvin Combs winds up to launch a cold shot at a foe.

Counselors diagnose massive outbreaks, seek senioritis cure

SENIORS

Stick 'em up!: Senior officers Parker Rush, Jean Beck, Richard Neely, and Robby Teel keep classmates under the gun until graduation.

"Senioritis," a fatal disease notorious for its contagion, was diagnosed by counselors, the only known cure being graduation in June. The symptoms of this disease included skipping school, "blowing-off" homework, and going out on weeknights.

Starting the year off in happy spirits, Ruth Hooker and Tommy Gile were named "Friendliest Seniors" at the annual Howdy Dance following the first home football game September 9.

Senior class office elections in December resulted in Parker Rush and Robby Teel filling the offices of president and vice-president. Jean Beck and Richard Neely were chosen as secretary and treasurer.

For the second consecutive year 37 senior Fighting Scots advanced into the State Quarterfinal football playoffs.

The National Merit Council recognized 10 students as semi-finalists and 12 others as commendees for their scholastic achievements.

In September, the National Honor Society inducted nine new senior members. Writers Hunt Blair and Rob Swann became finalists in the 1977 Achievement Award Competition of the National Council of Teachers of English. Out of 354 seniors 118 student scholars enrolled in advanced placement courses ranging from English to Spanish.

Dr. Lawrence Puckett and 16 seniors planned to embark on a five-week trip to Rome, Madrid, Paris, and London. After a similar trip last summer, Dr. Puckett, with his marvelous ability to survive, was willing to come back for more and planned another tour.

Extra money was the motive of many seniors who tackled jobs. Earning money for a new college wardrobe, Sharon Wright, Lee Ann Brown, and Kim Cozby spent afternoons working at a local men's clothing store.

Working at a neighborhood cheese shop, Stacy Bryant had to fight the temptation to snack on the job. Leslie Whittington and Tommy Gile gained a taste of the restaurant business, as they both worked at eating establishments.

"Whistle while you work" was the theme song for the after-school jobs of Bart Irby, Rusty Perry, Chris Bell, Jon Azzato, and Danny Simone. They refereed soccer, basketball, and volleyball for elementary schools in the Park Cities.

Scot enthusiasm at pep rallies greatly improved this year with the help of the Super Scot skits.

Senior "Goons" Leo Didway, Tommy Gile, Ricky Kumpf, Mike Mott, and Ken Murchison performed as "villains" from other teams and showed imagination in unsuccessful attempts to outwit Super Scot Joey French.

In one pep rally, the leather clad "Hell-Raisers" tried to antagonize Scot football players into a brawl with chains and knives, but Super Scot came to the rescue by singing "Young Life" songs.

Other skits included Leo as the "Pink Panther" dressed in pink tights boxing with Super Scot. The group also portrayed outer space "Conehead" people from the television show "Saturday Night Live," "Chickens" from Colonel Sanders when playing the South Garland Colonels, and "S.W.A.T." Commandos protecting the audience from any stray sharpshooter bullets.

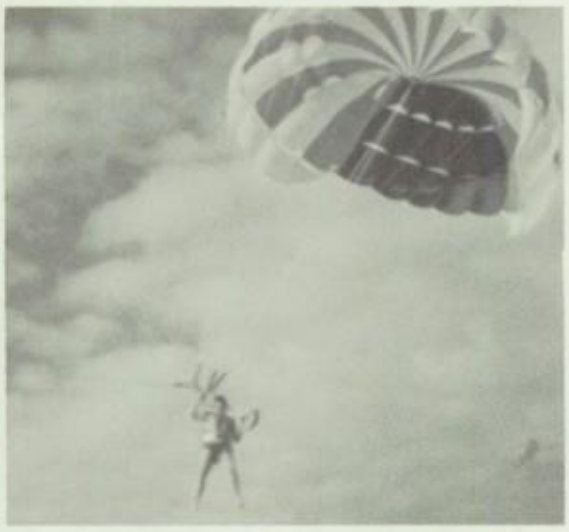
Vacation spots vary: parachutist soars, slalomer water skis

SENIORS

Tagalong: Slalomer Kevin Slaughter skis freely as he sprays his vacation with fun.
Bookworm: Ellison Stollenwerck finds her own little nook in the auditorium to catch up on some reading.



UFO?: It's a bird! It's a plane! No, it's Rusty Rice para-sailing in Acapulco.

Adventurous seniors found vacation spots in the mountains and on the beaches for sport and relaxation during the Christmas holidays.

On the sunny side, Simone Myers frolicked on the beaches of the Bahamas. Other tropical vacationers included Jody Thornhill, Karl Christian, Van Williamson, and Rusty Rice. Jody and Karl went to Hawaii and Van and Rusty headed south to Mexico.

Seniors hit the slopes of Colorado on family trips to Snowmass, Vail and Steamboat Springs, while other Colorado ski vacations included the Young Life ski trip to the Summit in Silverthorne, Colorado, and the Highland Park Presbyterian Church group's trek to Breckenridge, Colorado.

During Easter, the majority of the sun-and-fun-seeking seniors flocked the beaches of South Padre Island, but Laura Elliott, Leslie Little, and Charlotte Moore headed for New York to see some Broadway musicals, while Deb Nicoud and Delaney Lancaster took still another ski trip to Vail to enjoy the last snow of the season. However, others found Texas lakes warm enough for water skiing.

SAT? ACT? VMI? MIT? SMU?

The alphabatese of entrance tests and college applications weighed upon senior students' thoughts.

After late-night cramming or a night on the town, waking up early Saturday morning to take a college entrance examination proved to be too strenuous for some students. Ken Murchison was caught taking a "catnap" and Leslie Whittington absentmindedly doodled on her scratch sheet in an attempt to pass the testing time quickly.

The SAT's covered the basic subjects of English and Math. ACT spanned a variety of subjects from history to chemistry.

SEWELL

Village Cadillac

The Standard for Service.

Exceptional. Exclusive. Uncompromised.
Service equal to Cadillac, the standard for the world.
The finest automotive service is a Sewell tradition...the quality of service only dedication and years of experience can produce. And today, as always, the emphasis at Sewell is on extra personal attention to your needs as a Cadillac owner. No other Texas Cadillac dealer offers all of these 5 special services:

- We provide the Sewell Reservation System, which allows you to reserve a service date and time, and specify your service requirements in advance. Simply call 526-8505.
- Our service department is open all day Saturday.
- We give you 8 free oil changes with your new Cadillac.
- A car is available, for a small charge, when yours is indisposed.
- We deliver your car after servicing, for a nominal fee.

We treat you like a Cadillac owner.

Pryor,
I thought this page was appropriate because next year I am going to be a SENIOR WOMAN and, like all the SENIOR WOMEN, I won't have any dates! You've been really great and always had a joke – most of them clean jokes, but funny just the same! You're a very special guy and I know you'll always go far! (In life too!) Take care this summer and I know I'll see you.

CULWELL & SON

GENTLEMEN'S APPAREL SINCE 1920

Enthusiasm

Enthusiasm is the greatest asset in the world. It beats money and power and influence. Single-handed the enthusiast convinces and dominates where the wealth accumulated by a small army of workers would scarcely raise any interest.

Enthusiasm tramples over prejudice and opposition, spurns inaction, storms the citadel of its object, and like an avalanche overwhelms and engulfs all obstacles. It is nothing more or less than faith in action.

Faith and initiative rightly combined remove mountainous barriers and achieve the unheard of and miraculous.

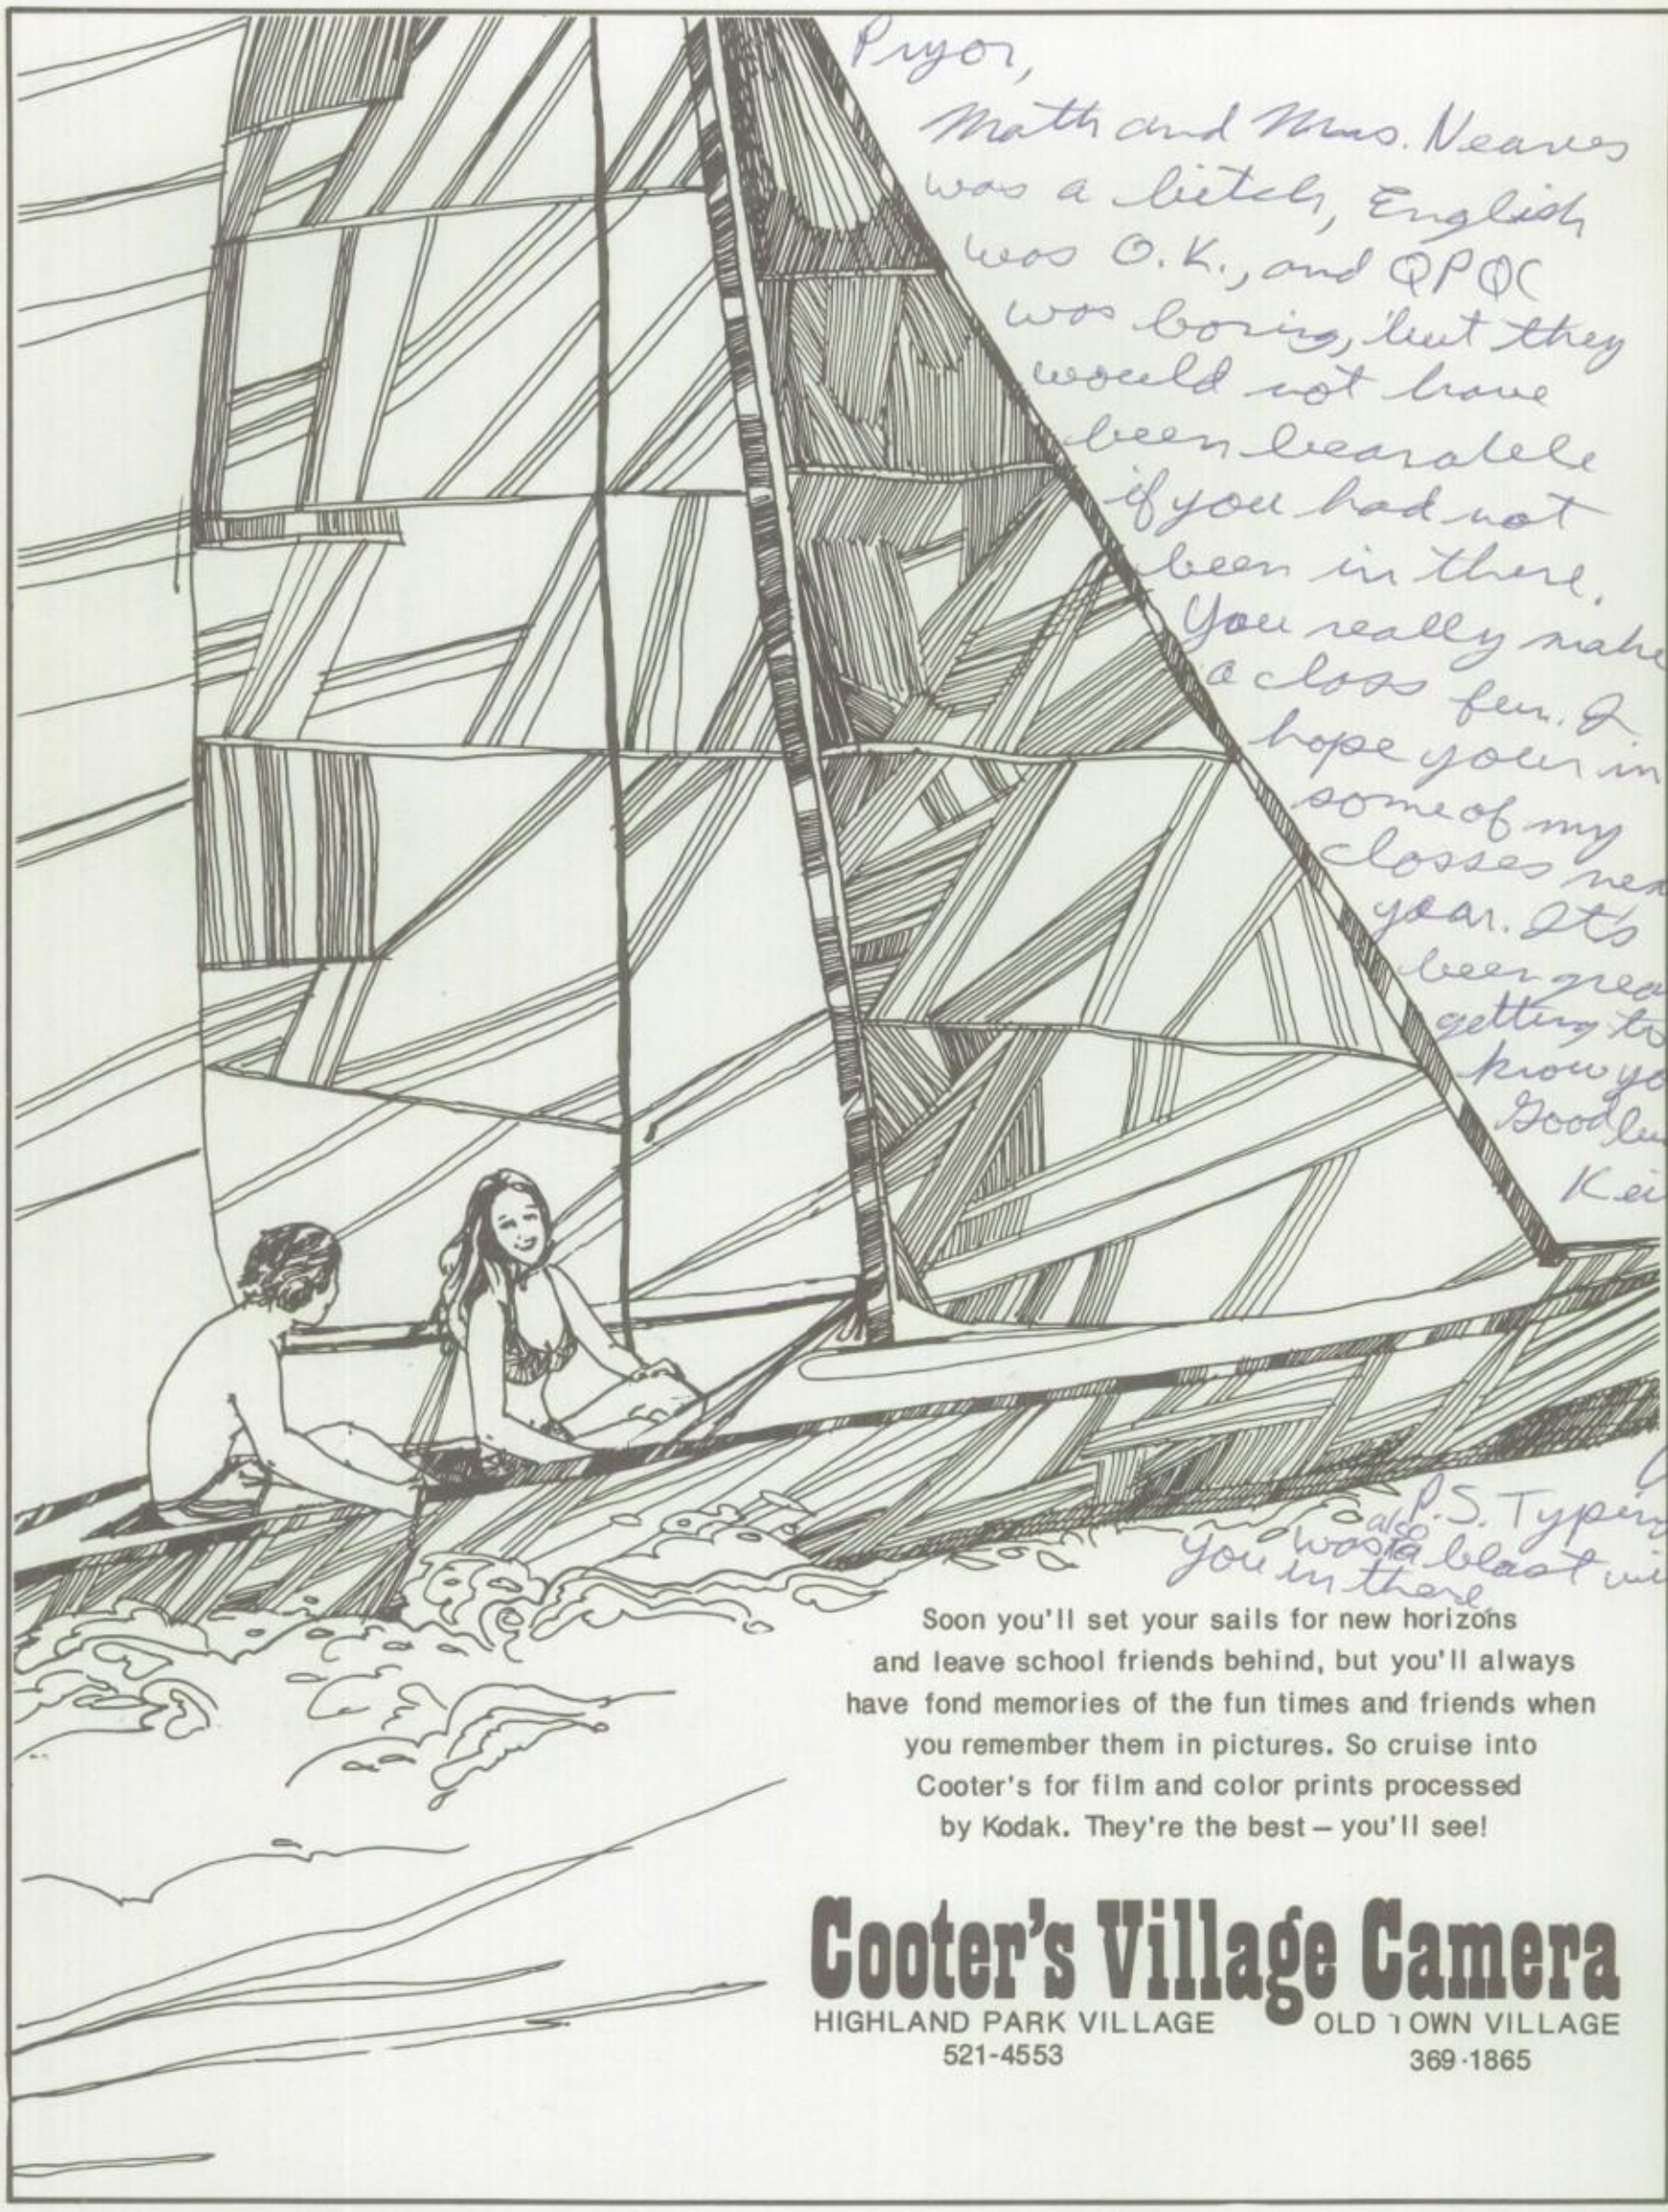
"We'll Spice Up Your Life!"



Pryor,
Math and Mrs. Neaves was a bitch, English was O.K., and QPQC was boring, but they would not have been bearable if you had not been in there. You really make a boss fen. I hope your in some of my classes next year. It's been great getting to know you. Good luck, Keith

P.S. Typing also was a blast with you in there

Soon you'll set your sails for new horizons and leave school friends behind, but you'll always have fond memories of the fun times and friends when you remember them in pictures. So cruise into Cooter's for film and color prints processed by Kodak. They're the best – you'll see!

We get by with a little help from our friends

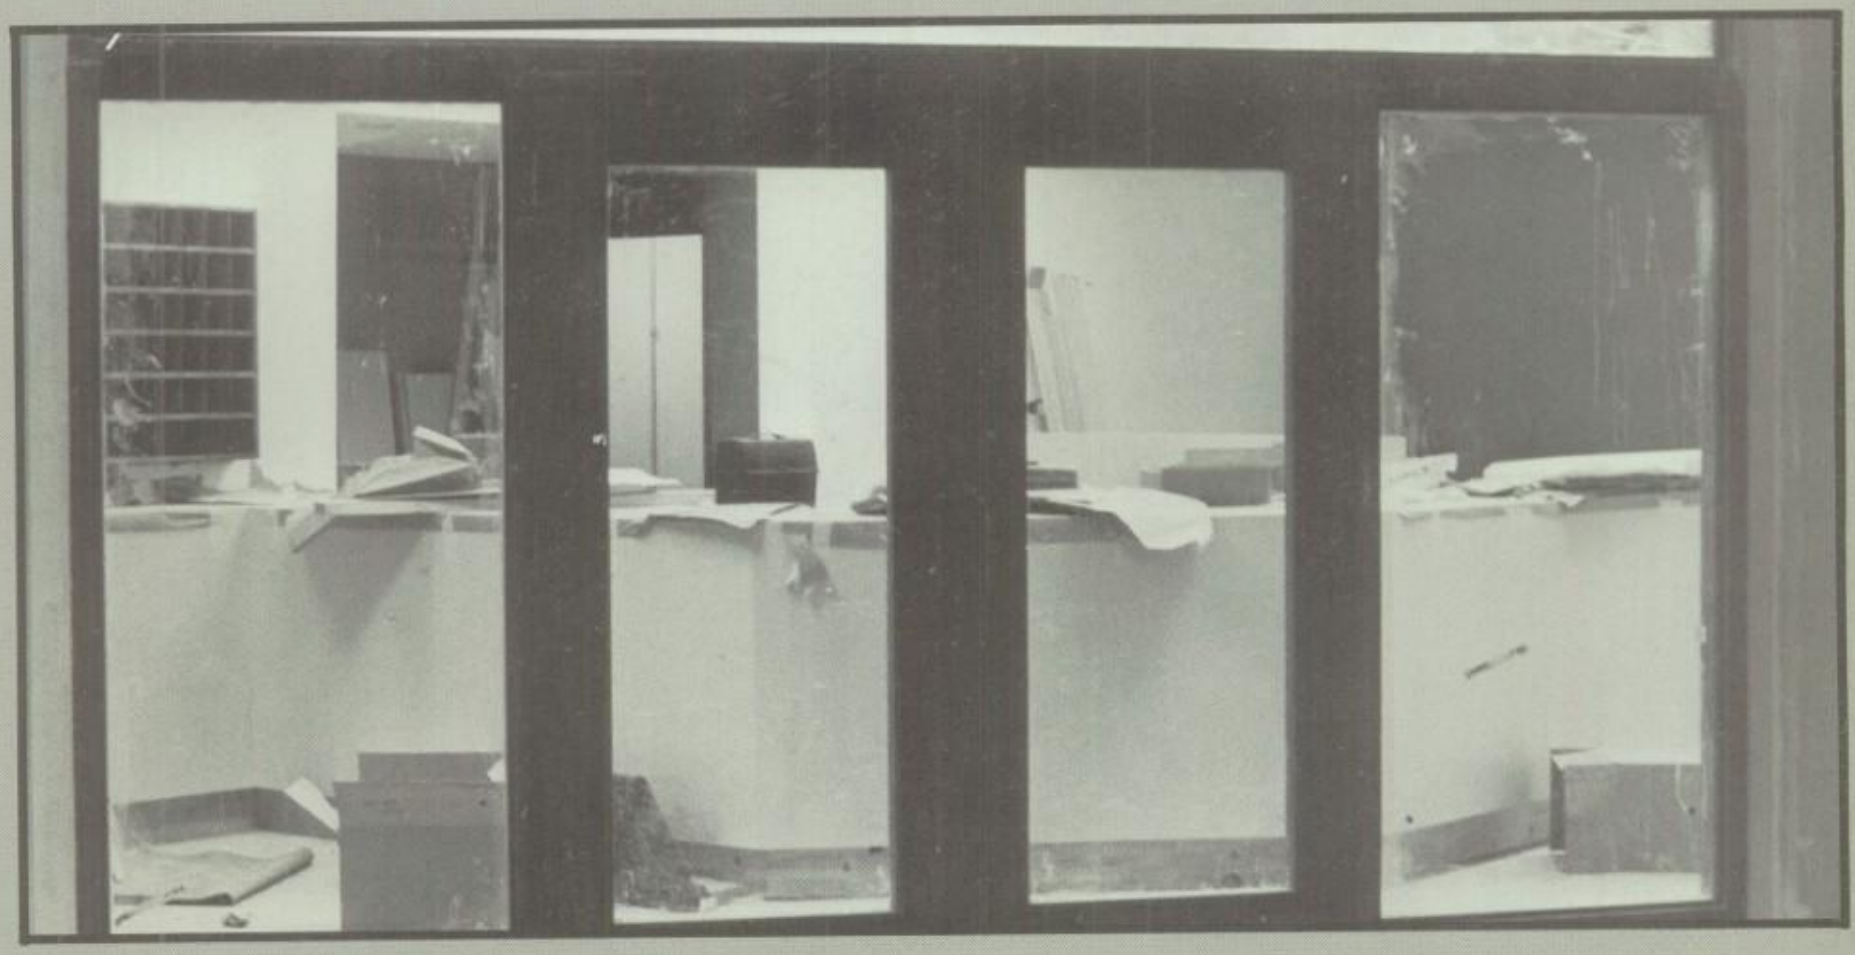
The 352 pages in Volume 55 of The Highlander were printed by Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas. The book is printed in 22 16-page signatures with the Smyth-sewn binding technique and Headbands. The 1490 copies were printed on 80-pound enamel paper.

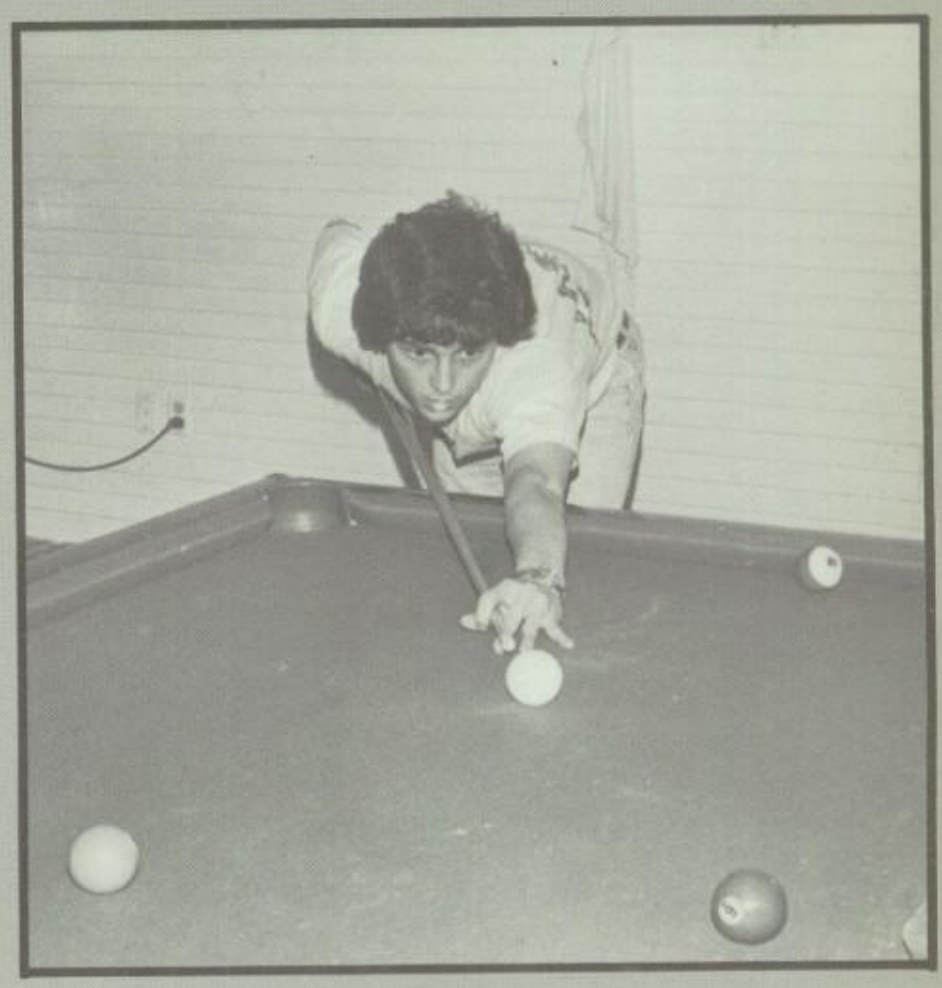
Copy and caption type are Helvetica and headlines are Helvetica Medium. Introduction and conclusion special types include Helvetica Medium Italic, Letraset Vexier, Shatter, and Sans Serif Shaded, and Zipatone Swing and Black Line. Spot colors in this section and on division pages are PMS 287 Blue and a specially mixed orange of 100% process yellow and 40% Magenta.

Special thanks go to Bradley's Photographers for their help in taking all portraits and most of organizations and athletic group pictures. Also, thanks go to Kincaid Photo Service and Custom Color Corporation for excellent service in processing color and black-and-white film.

We particularly wish to thank Mr. Phil Stevens of the Park Cities News for his great help in furnishing photographs for the sports section. Thanks go to our co-sponsors Miss Diane Cook and Miss Katherine Carpenter and also to Mr. Jim Alexander of the Taylor Publishing Company for his advice on the cover and art work. Finally, co-editors Cissy Hudson and Sherri Hewett and co-business managers Ruth Ann Hicks and Tammie Thompson would like to thank our families and close friends for helping us live through all our deadlines.

Applying the finishing touches...





Clear view: Construction progress starts to shows up in the modern glass-walled main office.
Side pocket: Highlander Photographer Dale Walter proves he is a good shot with more than a camera.
Surprise: Marilyn Hardy gets a face full of snow from John Bateman.

Construction started the year off with a bang. As the work continued, signs of progress began to appear. In February, new classrooms on the second floor, complete with carpet, were finished and teachers occupied them in time for second trimester exams.

This winter, which brought along the most snow in Dallas history, hindered construction plans and completion dates were postponed several times. Nevertheless, the reality of the finished product began to be visible. Students and faculty, who felt that they personally had been a part of the project, looked forward to a modernized and more comfortable building ready for next year.

"Don't touch me!": Chris Bell attempts to tame "the Shrew," Julie Worthen, in a scene from Shakespeare.
King of the Jungle: Newly-crowned Hi-Lite King Leo Didway roars with pride.

Let's Boogie: Richard Neely and Beth Burford look a little "off-beat" at a Senior dance.

A lot of hassle for a little tassel: Senior Joe Staley has his head measured for a graduation cap.

Crew calls it all in a day's work

Raise the roof: Co-business manager Tammie Thompson, Photographer Tommy Turner, Co-business manager Rukhie Hicks, and Co-editors Sherri Hewett and Cissy Hudson finally get to sit down on the job.

Mrs. Walters has really been great - Bitch. If you ever need any problems just call Deb because I think she likes you. I'll see you this summer.

Ryor -
I'm glad you will be capt. next yr. but we are all going to need shovels to get rid of all your B.S.!

Ryor chump!
hey chump! congratulations on football captain!! Y'all have a great bunch of leaders so go in there and get 'em. (Plano) Good luck next year and beat Plano!
Love, Sharon

Ryor -
Typing was great bugging Mrs. Coppedge about throwing up this summer. Ought to be a goodone. Football will be fun in August.
Skip

Ryor -
I'm glad that we got to be in at least one class together. Good luck next year in football. I think that you're tons nice guy and I hope that you are able to turn in all your big projects next year. Have a fun Summer.
Love,
Allison H

Ryor -
can't believe such a dunkick like you won captain. It's a damn disgrace. Seriously you're a good guy and you better do some studying with me before O leave. Have a good football season.
Buck

P.S. - Get your adot & good ass myth yon, I know you will.

Ryor -
Boy has Geometry been a bitch - so has Miss Reams for that matter! It's no wonder she's retiring. We've got her convinced she's a terrible teacher! Have fun this summer -
Alison Elliott

Pryor,

Congratulations on getting football captain. Youre going to have a blast next year — and make sure you beat the — out of Plano. I'll be back to watch it for sure. We'll youre going to be very busy next year & I'm jealous because I'm going to miss highschool even though hoob much I'm sick of it now! Oh well, I'm totally embarrassed about that extravaganza at Steve's house. I hope I didn't make to big of a fool out of myself. Thanks for talking to me. Have a great year. See ya this summer.

Love ya,
LeeAnn

Pryor,
Well I sure feel honored writing in a football captain's thighlandur! DO seriously I wish you the best of luck next year. You'll be great. This "senior stud" I'm sure. Youre tons of fun & I'm embarrasld about steves but I don't regret it! Take care Keep in touch.
Love ya,
Elizabeth Bradley

Pryor,
It's been a dull boring class in Ors's room. Lucky you were in there to live things up a bit. Keep persisting to bug Tonia she is so fucken goofy. I could have a summer shit bricks. Have a great year. Do better and keep on diggen.
Ty

Pryor-
We had a great year. We could have been one we could have been captains next year. Next year we will have to exert ourselves to an extent. We can have a great year if we want, do it will be up to me & you and the captains to develope a great team. We

Pryor,

I'm glad I got to know you this year. It's been so much fun doing stuff with you and I hope we'll always be friends. You're really one of the nicest guys I've ever known, even though you are a little stubborn! (J.K.!) Knowing you really meant allot to me. Have a terrific summer and take care!

Love,
Shelly

Pryor -
OPAC has been so much fun w/ you. & H don't even care if it was your fault that H got a D!!! You're a really nice & funny guy - when you come down to Austin next year please look me up & say Hi - Hope your Senior year will be as much fun as mine was - Good luck in everything -

Love
Anne Bunten

P.S. Remember
Here's to the best all time greatest vice versa pals.
I'll miss you!!!
I'll keep in touch
I enjoy you

Pryor -
Congratulations on getting Captain. Work hard this summer. We can go out and have some good times this summer.
Be careful,
Cedric

Pryor,
Congrats on getting Captain. You've worked hard for it. I know you will be a great leader this year. Have a great summer.
Love,
Jackie (Jaime)

I don't think Ive ever loved someone so much. Your ravishing. When I see you in the halls I can hardly stand it. When I look into those big green eyes I almost melt. I'm gona beat the shit Jack Hargis, he's dead. Meet me at 1:00 AM in front of your house tonight! and Jack won't be there, Ive already made sure of that. I hope your disappointed in me.

Signed,

Julie,
You are a good Zapper! I love SOKAY ABOUT JACK
